

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

ON May 3rd, 1871, the following Resolutions were passed by the GENERAL SYNOD OF THE CHURCH OF IRELAND:—

1. "That a Committee be appointed to take into consideration the subject of Church Hymnody, and to report to the General Synod of 1872."
2. "That it be an instruction to the Committee to confer with the Committee of the Christian Knowledge Association, already for the past six months engaged in the preparation of an enlarged and revised edition of the Church Hymnal."

The former Committee having been re-appointed by the Synod of 1872, continued its labours, in conjunction with the Committee of the Christian Knowledge Association, and was enabled to lay the present volume before the General Synod of 1873, by which the following Resolution was passed:—

"That the Report of the Hymnal Committee be adopted; and that the Synod do permit the use, in the Public Worship of the Church of Ireland, of the Hymnal as presented by the Committee."

The Edition, which is thus recommended, contains 241 of the Hymns which were included in the preceding editions of the Church Hymnal, and comprises 47 metrical versions of Psalms, selected with much care.

Acknowledgments are gratefully tendered to the following, for permission kindly given to insert copyright Hymns or Translations, several of which were published in the earlier editions of this book:—

Mrs. Alexander, for Hymns 128, 205, 327, 333, 462, 463, 464.

The Very Rev. Henry Alford, D.D., late Dean of Canterbury, for permission (used in the earlier editions of this work) to print his Hymns 371, 429.

The Rev. Sir Henry Williams Baker, Bart., for Hymns 197, 237, 295, 339, 354, 430, 435, 447.

The Rev. Robert Hall Baynes, for Hymn 365.

The Rev. Edward Henry Bickersteth, for Hymns 108 and 369.

The Rev. Horatius Bonar, D.D., for Hymns 72, 78, 92, 134, 136, 137, 265, 370, 390, 394, 421.

Mrs. Bond-Faussett (Miss Alessie Bond), for Hymns 155, 409.

Miss Jane Borthwick, for Hymn 106.

Mrs. Buckoll, for the use of Hymn 211, which (altered in other books) is here printed as it was written by her husband, the late Rev. Henry James Buckoll.

The Rev. Edward Caswall, for Hymns 20, 67, 173, 315.

The Rev. Edward Arthur Dayman, for Hymn 410.

Sir Edward Denny, Bart., for Hymns 73, 178, 287, 328, 364.

The Executors of the late Mrs. Gilbert (Miss Ann Taylor), for Hymn 461.

The Rev. James Hamilton, for Hymn 163.

* Another Hymn has been unavoidably substituted for No. 42, which, being partly copyright, the Association could not obtain permission to print in the form proposed.

The Rev. William Walsham How, Canon of S. Asaph's, for Hymns 31, 236, 347, 423, 448.

The Lord Bishop of Lincoln, for Hymns 32, 186, 422.

Mrs. Luke, for Hymn 459.

Mrs. E. Maxwell Lyte, for the use of the compositions and translations of the late Rev. Henry Francis Lyte, Hymns 14, 41, 123, 249, 278, 387, 442.

The Rev. Frederick Mant, for Bishop Mant's Hymns, Nos. 103, 174, 224, 344.

Mr. Richard Massie, for Hymn 8.

Mrs. Maude, for Hymn 376.

Mr. G. Morrish, for permission, at a nominal charge, to include Hymn 473, by Mrs. Shepherd (Miss Anne Houlditch).

Mr. Marcus Moses, for the Hymns written by the late Rev. Thomas Kelly.

The Rev. John Mason Neale, D.D., for Hymns 17, 25, 88, 99, 130, 146, 159, 188, 194, 282, 311, and 420; for permission to make extracts from his translation of the Hymn by Bernard of Morlaix, No. 343; and for his spirited rendering of the Alleluiaic Sequence, No. 233.

The Earl Nelson, for his Hymn, No. 348.

The Rev. John Henry Newman, D.D., for his Hymn, 276.

Messrs. Novello, Ewer and Co., for Hymns 88, 159, 194, 233, and 420.

The Rev. Edward Hayes Plumptre, D.D., Canon of S. Paul's, for Hymn 426.

The Rev. Lord Plunket, for Hymn 189, written to suit a fine German Chorale.

The Rev. Arthur Tozer Russell, for Hymns 27 and 269.

Mr. Granville Ryder, for leave to include Sir Robert Grant's Hymns, Nos. 152, 247, 297.

The Rev. Samuel John Stone, for Hymns 138 and 335.

The Rev. Godfrey Thring, for Hymns 22, 214, 312, 380, 413.

The Rev. Samuel Prideaux Tregelles, LL.D., for Hymn 281.

The Rev. Henry Twells, for Hymn 19.

The Rev. S. M. Waring, for Hymns 61 and 386.

The Rev. Frederick Whitfield, for Hymns 98 and 135.

Miss Catherine Winkworth, the gifted translator of Lyra Germanica, for Hymns 23, 34, 55, 182, 246, 389, 406, 446, 457, and for Hymn 441 by the Rev. William Gaskell.

THE MUSIC FOR THIS HYMNAL

Was very carefully selected by a Committee, and has passed under the able supervision of Sir Robert Prescott Stewart, Professor of Music in the University of Dublin. He is not, however, responsible for the choice of the Tunes, nor for the arrangement of any, except those so indicated in the Metrical Index. Still, the Committee are deeply indebted to his valuable suggestions and critical judgment throughout their labours; and to the fact that the book has been edited by one so eminent, the Association can add nothing in the way of recommendation.

To Sir Robert Stewart the Committee are further indebted, not only for several original tunes composed at their special request, but for many of the German Chorales, some of which have not been printed before in this country. These latter have all been traced to their original sources, and the harmonies especially arranged by him for this work; and the Committee are under especial obligations to the Rev. Jacob Amandus Eberle, for valuable information and assistance with respect to Hymns and Chorales derived from German sources, and with respect to the German titles of the Tunes.

They offer, also, their grateful acknowledgments to the following:—

The Rev. John Bacchus Dykes, Mus. D., late Vicar of S. Oswald's, Durham, for the following Tunes of his composition, viz.:—"Almsgiving," "Hollingside," "Lux Benigna," "Melita," "S. Aëlred," "S. Agnes," "S. Anatolius," "S. Bede," "S. Cross," "S. Cuthbert," "S. Godric," "S. Ninian," "S. Oswald," "Sychar," and his arrangement of "Wir pfügen."

The Rev. Sir Henry Williams Baker, Bart., and the Committee of Hymns Ancient and Modern, for permission to include the following Tunes in the present work, viz.:—"Hollingside" and "S. Cross," in addition to those published in the previous editions, viz.:—"Eventide," "Miserere," "Melita," "S. Cuthbert," and "S. Philip."

- Dr. Henry John Gauntlett, for the Tunes "Ascension-tide," "Civitas Regis magni," "Irby," and "S. Albinus," in addition to those which appeared in the former edition of the Church Hymnal, namely, "Colville," "S. Alphege," "S. Fulbert," and "S. George."

Mr. Samuel Gee, for his Tune "Fatherland."

Messrs. Metzler and Co., for the Tune set to Hymn No 123 (1st Tune).

Messrs. Novello, Ewer and Co., for Mr. Barnby's Tunes, from the Hymnary, which are set to Hymns 28, 56, 74, 85, 133 (1st Tune), 149, 194, 203, 282, 356 (1st Tune), 398 (1st Tune). For the Tunes by Dr. Sullivan, which are set to Hymns 130 (1st Tune), 279 (1st Tune), and 379. Also for Mr. Calkin's Tune set to Hymn 364, and for the 1st Tune set to Hymn 146.

Mr. Richard Redhead, for the Tunes set to Hymns 70, 126, and 348, in addition to those included in the former edition of this work, which are set to Hymns 1, 26, 165, and 190 (1st Tune).

The Representatives of the late Mr. Edmund Sedding, for his arrangement of the Tune set to Hymn 135.

Dr. Samuel Sebastian Wesley, for the use of his Tune "Aurelia," from the European Psalmist.

The Committee have been most anxious to avoid any violation of copyright in respect of either Hymns or Tunes, and have used the utmost exertions to ascertain the several proprietors, and to obtain their sanction. If, however, there has been any accidental infringement, they desire to express their regret for their unintentional error, and trust that any mistakes of the kind they may have committed will be forgiven.

Much care has been taken in the preparation of convenient Indexes of Subjects, Metres, etc.—the Index of Hymns and Authors having been revised for the Association by the Rev. Jacob Amandus Eberle; and those of the Tunes, Composers, Metres, etc., having been compiled by the Rev. Edward Seymour, Precentor of Christ Church, to whom the Association is also indebted for his general supervision of the work throughout.

Since the Church Hymnal was sanctioned by the General Synod of the Church of Ireland in 1873, several editions (with words only) have been published, of which no less than 118,000 copies have been sold; and the success of the musical edition may be estimated by the fact that 15,000 copies of the Octavo Tune Book have already been issued, since its first publication eighteen months ago.

The present Quarto Edition supplies a want which many have expressed, and presents some peculiar features. Although in larger type, it corresponds, page for page, with the Octavo Edition, in order to give facilities for comparison and reference. It also contains a carefully prepared Biographical Index of Authors and Translators of Hymns, and of Composers of Tunes. The materials for this have been gathered from the most authentic sources, English and foreign, and no pains have been spared to verify details. Several long-standing errors have been corrected, and many particulars are now published for the first time.

The compilation of this Index is due to Major George Arthur Crawford, who in this portion of the work (particularly in respect of the hymn-writers of Germany) received the valuable assistance of the Rev. Jacob Amandus Eberle. The disinterested kindness with which these gentlemen have placed their learning and research at the service of the Committee deserves their warmest thanks. Acknowledgments are also due to many of the authors and composers whose works are included in the Hymnal for personal information supplied by them, as well as to several friends (among whom may be named Dr. W. M. Cooke, Mr. John Dobson, to whom the compilers are especially indebted, Miss C. Drew, the Rev. T. Helmore, Mr. B. St. John Joule, the Rev. Henry Parr, Dr. Rimbault, and Mr. D. Sedgwick) who have kindly contributed some interesting details which have been embodied in this work.

The dates assigned to the Hymns and Tunes are those of their actual composition, where it was possible to obtain them; where these were not procurable, the dates of first publication by the author or composer have been given; and where a hymn or tune first appeared posthumously, the dates of the author's birth and death have been annexed.

The music, etc., in this edition also has been carefully revised by Sir Robert Stewart, the distinguished Professor in the University and Musical Editor of this work. As a guide to choir-masters and others, metronome marks have been attached to all the Hymns. Marks of expression are also given, and it is to be observed that where these are not added, the words are to be sung messo-forte.

In conclusion, the Association has to express the hope that by the publication of this volume they may further the improvement of Church Hymnody, and promote the glory of Him Who openeth our lips that we may shew forth His praise.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX.

AUTHORS AND TRANSLATORS.

Adams, Sarah, was the younger daughter of Mr. Benjamin Flower, editor and proprietor of "The Cambridge Intelligencer;" born at Cambridge, 22 Feb., 1805; married, 1834, to William Bridges Adams, an eminent civil engineer; died 14 Aug., 1848. Her hymns appeared in Hymns and Anthems, published by Mr. Charles Fox (1841), in Vivia Perpetua, a dramatic poem (1841), and in The Flock at the Fountain (1845).

Nearer, my God, to Thee (1840) 285

Addison, Joseph, M.A., son of the Rev. Lancelot Addison, Rector of Milston, in Wiltshire (afterwards Dean of Lichfield); born at Milston Rectory, 1 May, 1672; educated at the Charterhouse and at Queen's and Magdalen Colleges, Oxford, where he graduated. His proficiency in Latin poetry soon brought him into notice, and in 1695 a poem on one of the campaigns of William III. obtained for him the patronage of Lord Somers. In 1699 a pension from the Crown enabled him to indulge in foreign travel, an account of which he subsequently published. In 1704 he celebrated the victory of Blenheim in a poem entitled "The Campaign," and was immediately appointed a Commissioner of Appeals. After holding other offices he became Secretary of State in 1717, but soon resigned his post, and died at Holland House, Kensington, near London, 17 June, 1719. He is now best known by his contributions to the "Spectator," the "Tatler," the "Guardian," and the "Freeholder," which are remarkable for the excellence of their tone and style. He wrote five hymns which appeared in the "Spectator" in 1712. He published "Cato," a tragedy, with many minor works, and held a high rank in the literary society of his time.

When all Thy mercies, O my God (1712) 243

Albert (or Alberti), Heinrich, born at Lobenstein, Voigtland, in the principality of Reuss, 28 June, 1604; was intended for the study of the law at Leipzig, but devoted himself entirely to music, and in 1631 became organist of the cathedral-church of Königsberg, in Prussia, where he died 6 Oct., 1651. The original tune composed by Albert for the following hymn is No. 67 of this collection.

Gott des Himmels und der Erden (1643).
God, Who madest earth and heaven [C. WINKWORTH, 1855] 23

Alexander, Cecil Frances, daughter of Major John Humphreys; born in Dublin; married, 15 Oct., 1850, to the Rev. William Alexander, D.D., afterwards

Bishop of Derry. She has published Hymns for little children (1848), Hymns descriptive and devotional (1858), Verses for Holy Seasons (1846), Narrative Hymns (1857), Moral Songs, etc.

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult (1853) 327
[In the collection of hymns published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, 1853.]
Once in royal David's city (1848) 462
The golden gates are lifted up (1858) 205
The roseate hues of early dawn (1853) 333
There is a green hill far away (1848) 463
We are but little children weak (1850) 464
[Published first in A Church School Hymn Book, edited by W. F. Hook, D.D., Vicar of Leeds, 1850. The first line was originally "We are but little children poor."]
When wounded sore the stricken soul (1858) 128

Alford, Henry, D.D., son of the Rev. Henry Alford, Rector of Aston Sandford, Buckinghamshire; born in London, 7 Oct., 1810; educated at Ilminster Grammar School and at Trinity College, Cambridge, of which he became a Fellow; appointed Dean of Canterbury in 1857, and died at the deanery 12 Jan., 1871. His hymns will be found in his Poetical Works (4th ed. 1865), in Psalms and Hymns adapted to the Sundays and Holidays throughout the year (1844), which he compiled, and in the Year of Praise, edited by him in 1867. He was eminent as a preacher while Minister of Quebec-street Chapel, London. His edition of the Greek Testament is well known.

Come, ye thankful people, come (1844) 429
[A Hymn for "After Harvest."]
In token that thou shalt not fear (1832) 371

Allen, James, son of Oswald Allen, was born at Gayle, in Wensleydale, Yorkshire, 24 June, 1734. He was at first educated with the view of his taking Holy Orders, and spent a year (1751) at S. John's College, Cambridge; but in 1752 became a follower of Mr. Ingham, and like him, one of Lady Huntingdon's preachers. He afterwards joined the Sandemanians, but subsequently left them, and built a chapel on his own estate at Gayle, where he officiated till his death, 31 Oct., 1804. He was editor and principal contributor to what is known as the Kendal Hymn Book (1757), and Appendix added to the 2nd ed. (1761). He also published seventeen hymns, entitled Christian Songs.

Glory to God on high (1761) 192
Jesus, we lift our souls to Thee (1757) 373
[The first three verses of this hymn are from the Kendal Hymn Book, No. cxiv., vv. 2, 3, 4. The 4th verse is added from C. Weale's Hymns on the Lord's Supper (1745), cxlviii., 4.]
Sweet the moments, rich in blessing (1757) 168
[Altered and arranged by the Hon. Walter Shirley, 1770.]

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—AUTHORS AND TRANSLATORS.

Ambrose. This eminent prelate was the son of the Prefect of Gaul, and was probably born at Treves about the year 340. He studied law in Milan, and was at an early age appointed Consular Prefect of Liguria, the province to which Milan belonged. In 374, during the contentions between the Arian and the Orthodox parties respecting the appointment of a bishop, the people of Milan prevailed on Ambrose to take Holy Orders, and himself to accept the episcopal office, which he filled with distinction till his death 3rd or 4th April, 397. To Ambrose is attributed the introduction of the singing of Psalms into the Western Church, in imitation of the Eastern usage, and also the practice of antiphonal or responsive singing.

En clara vox redarguit.
Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding [E. CASWALL, 1849] ... 67
[A variation of Vox clara ecce insonat. The authorship of this hymn is doubtful. It is placed by Wackernagel among the hymns of the 5th century.]
Splendor Paternæ gloriæ.
O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace [J. CHANDLER, 1837] ... 5

Anatolius, became Patriarch of Constantinople in 449; died 458.

Τὴν ἡμέραν διελθών.
The day is past and over [J. M. NEALE, 1862] ... 17
[An evening hymn, very popular in the Greek islands. It is doubtful whether Anatolius is the author.]

Ζοφεράς τρικυμίας.
Pierce was the wild billow [J. M. NEALE, 1862] ... 311
[Stichera for a Sunday of the first tone.]

Andrew of Crete, born at Damascus about 660; embraced the monastic life at Jerusalem, from which city he sometimes takes his name; became Deacon of the Great Church, and Warden of the Orphanage at Constantinople; appointed Archbishop of Crete in 711, and died in the island of Hierissus, near Mitylene, about 732. Dr. Heinrich Alt places his death in 724.

Ὁὐ γὰρ βλέπεις τοὺς παρὰρτοντας.
Christian, dost thou see them? [J. M. NEALE, 1862] ... 146
[Stichera for the second week of the great fast.]

Angelus Silesius. See SCHEFFLER.

Anonymous.

Adeste fideles.
O come all ye faithful [F. OAKLEY, 1841] ... 87
[A Christmas Carol of uncertain date. Biggs assigns it to the 15-16th century.]

Alleluia piis edite laudibus.
Sing Hallelujah forth in devout praise [JOHN ELLERTON, 1865] ... 351

[This is a hymn from the Mozarabic (early Spanish) Breviary, and is assigned by Mone to the 5th century. It may have been written in Gaul, and was in use in England before the Norman Conquest.]

Angulare Fundamentum.
Christ is made the sure foundation [J. M. NEALE, 1851] ... 420
[Part of a Latin hymn of the 7th or 8th century, commencing "Urbs beata, Hierusalem." See also Nos. 340, 341.]

Angulare Fundamentum.
Christ is our Corner-stone [J. CHANDLER, 1837] ... 419
[See note on No. 420.]

Cantemus cuncti melodum.
The strain upraise of joy and praise [J. M. NEALE, 1851] ... 233
[Daniel attributes this hymn, commonly called the Alleluistic Sequence, to an anonymous author of the 11th century. Neale ascribes it to Godecalcus (10th century).]

Christe, Qui Lux es et Dies
O Christ, who art the Light and Day [W. J. COPELAND, 1848] ... 16
[An ancient Latin hymn, assigned by some to the Ambrosian era, or even to Ambrose himself. According to Mone and Wackernagel it is certainly not older than the 7th century.]

Dread Jehovah, God of nations. See F. C. ... 434

Finita jam sunt prælia.

The strife is o'er, the battle done [F. POTT, cir. 1860] ... 185
[A Latin hymn, assigned by Dr. Neale to the 12th century.]

Gloriosi Salvatoris.

To the Name of our salvation [J. M. NEALE, 1851] ... 99
[According to Dr. Neale this is a hymn on the Festival of the Holy Name of Jesus, and was written in Germany. It is clearly posterior to the "Pange Lingua" of Thomas Aquinas (1227-1274), which it imitates. It has been attributed to the 15th century.]

Gracious Father, hear our prayer ... 310
Grates peracto jam di-

Another day is past and gone [I. WILLIAMS, 1839] ... 18
[From the Parisian Breviary.]

Hark, 'tis the watchman's cry... ... 75

Urbs beata, Hierusalem.

[See P., F.B.]
Jerusalem, my happy home ... 341
Urbs beata, Hierusalem.

[This version of the hymn has not been traced back farther than the collection of Dr. Williams and Mr. Boden (1801). It is there stated to be from "Eckington collection," but the author's name and the original text have not yet been discovered.]

Jesus Christ is risen to-day ... 183
Surrexist Christus hodie.

[An anonymous translation of an anonymous Latin hymn, assigned by Wackernagel to the 14th century. This translation appears first in a scarce work entitled, Lyra Davidica, or a Collection of Divine Songs and Hymns, partly new composed, partly translated from the High German and Latin Hymns; and set to easy and pleasant Tunes. London, 1708. It is given there in the following form:—

"Jesus Christ is risen to-day,
Halle-Hallelujah!
Our triumphant Holyday;
Who so lately on the Cross
Suffered to redeem our Loss.

"Haste, ye females, from your fright,
Take to Galilee your flight,
To his sad disciples say
Jesus Christ is risen to-day.

"In our Paschal joy and feast
Let the Lord of Life be blest;
Let the Holy Trine be prais'd,
And thankful hearts to heaven be rais'd."

The tune to which it is set is that assigned to it in this Hymnal, and which seems to have been written for it. Next after this hymn in Lyra Davidica comes one in nine stanzas, translated from the German, and entitled "A Resurrection Dialogue." It commences:—

"Christ our Lord is risen to-day," and is intended to be sung to the same tune.

A work entitled A Method for the Instruction of Children and Youth in the Sacred History, published at Northampton with only the author's initials, C.D., and without date, but apparently about the middle of last century, contains the three original stanzas as in Lyra Davidica, increased to seven by the addition of four verses from the "Resurrection Dialogue."

The first hymn, with the second and third stanzas altered to their present form, is found in Arnold's Compleat Psalmist, Bk. iv., and Ed. 1749, and it may be observed that these stanzas were re-written without reference to the original Latin of which the hymn in Lyra Davidica is a translation throughout.

A Doxology by Charles Wesley is added to the hymn in some collections.]

Lamb without spot, to Thee we kneel. See H., F.M. ... 154
Lapsus est annus, redit annus alter.

The year is gone beyond recall [F. POTT, cir. 1860] ... 94
[A Latin hymn in the Meaux Breviary.]

Lord of my life, Whose tender care ... 28
[This hymn appeared with the signature "Q, Chelsea," in the Church of England Magazine, 1838.]

Sol præcepit rapitur.
The sun is sinking fast [E. CASWALL, 1858] ... 20
[The Latin original is lost; it is believed to have been of the 18th century.]

Surrexist Christus hodie.
Jesus Christ is risen to-day [ANON.] ... 183

[An anonymous Latin hymn, assigned by Wackernagel to the 14th century. The translation is also anonymous.]

Urbe beata, Hierusalem.
Jerusalem, my happy home [F. B. P.] 340
Jerusalem, my happy home [ANON.] 341
 [The date and author of this hymn are unknown. It is probably of the 8th century.]
 Viva! Viva! Gesù.
Glory be to Jesus [E. CASWALL, 1858] 173
 [This hymn, probably of the 17th or 18th century, is from Aspirations Divine, in Raccolta di Orazioni e Pie Opere colle Indulgenze.]
 Whene'er we contemplate the grace [ANON.] 396
O Tage wahrer Seligkeit, vv. 4, 5, 6.
 [An anonymous translation from the German of Bishop Christian Gregor (1778).]
Anstice, Joseph, the second son of Mr. William Anstice, of Madeley Wood, Shropshire, was born in 1808. He was educated at Westminster School and at Oxford, and in 1830 was appointed Professor of Classical Literature in King's College, London. He died at Torquay, 29 Feb., 1836. His hymns were all dictated to his wife during the last few weeks of his life, and a selection of them was privately printed by her soon after his death. In 1841 twenty-seven of Professor Anstice's hymns were published in The Child's Christian Year.
 O Lord, how happy should we be (1836) 298
Auber, Harriet, daughter of Mr. James Auber; born in London, 4 Oct., 1773; died at Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire, 22 Jan., 1862. In 1829 she published anonymously The Spirit of the Psalms, most of the pieces in which were original.
 Our blest Redeemer, ere He breathed (1829) 215
Baker, Sir Henry Williams, Bart., son of Sir Henry Loraine Baker, 2nd Baronet; born in London, 27 May, 1821; educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1844; took Holy Orders in the same year; Vicar of Monkland, near Leominster, Herefordshire, 1851. His hymns appeared in Hymns Ancient and Modern (1861), with Appendix (1868), new edition (1874), a collection of which he was one of the principal compilers.
 From highest heaven, the Eternal Son (1861) 197
 Lord, Thy word abideth (1861) 237
 O God of love, O King of peace (1861) 435
 O Sacred Head, surrounded (1861) 176
Salve, Caput cruciatum.
 [The original is by Bernard of Clairvaux (1091—1153). In form this translation follows a free version by Paul Gerhardt (1653), O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden.]
 O what, if we are Christ's (1852) 354
 Of the Father's love begotten 88
Conde natus ex Parentis.
 [A translation from the Latin of Aurelius Clemens Prudentius, partly by Sir Henry Baker, partly by Dr. J. M. Neale.]
 Praise, O praise our God and King (1861) 430
 [Partly suggested by John Milton's version of Ps. cxxxvii.]
 Rejoice to-day with one accord (1861) Ps. xcvi. 447
 The King of love my Shepherd is (1868) Ps. xxiii. 295
 There is a blessed home (1861) 339
 What our Father does is well 432
Was Gott thut, das ist wohlgethan.
 [Translated from the German of Benjamin Schmolke (1720).]
Bakewell, John, born in 1721, at Brailsford, Derbyshire; became in 1749 a Wesleyan preacher at Greenwich, and died at Lewisham, 18 March, 1819.
 Hail, Thou once despised Jesus (1757) 203
 [This hymn was first included in a collection of Hymns addressed to the Holy, Holy, Holy Trinity (1757). It appeared, in an abridged form, in Madan's collection, in 1760. It was subsequently published by Toplady, with alterations of his own, in his collection (1776).]
Baring-Gould, Sabine, M.A., eldest son of Mr. Edward Baring-Gould, of Lew Trenchard, Devon; born at Exeter, 28 Jan., 1834; educated at Clare

College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1854; took Holy Orders in 1864; Rector of East Mersea, Essex, 1871. His hymns, original and translated, have appeared in The People's Hymnal (1867), in Hymns Ancient and Modern (1861), with Appendix (1868), and in other publications.
 Now the day is over (1865) 453
 [This hymn first appeared on a card printed for the use of the school-children at Horbury, where Mr. Baring-Gould was then Curate.]
 Onward, Christian soldiers (1865) 379
 [This hymn first appeared in the "Church Times."]
 Through the night of doubt and sorrow (1867) 283
I gjennem Nat og Trængsel.
 [From the Danish of B. S. Ingemann (1825).]
Baxter, Richard, only son of Mr. Richard Baxter, yeoman, of Eaton Constantine, Shropshire, born at Rowton, in the same county, 12 Nov., 1615; educated at Wroxeter School; became master of the Grammar School at Dudley, and afterwards, having taken Holy Orders, Curate of Kidderminster, Worcestershire. During the civil war he was chaplain to one of Cromwell's regiments, and on the Restoration, was appointed one of the chaplains to Charles II. He afterwards refused the bishopric of Hereford, and on the passage of the Act of Uniformity became a non-conformist minister. He died in London, 8 Dec., 1691. His Poetical Fragments were published in 1681, and his metrical Paraphrase on the Psalms in 1692, after his death. He was celebrated as a preacher, and is now best known as the author of "The Saints' Everlasting Rest."
 Lord, it belongs not to my care (1681) 393
Baynes, Robert Hall, M.A., son of the Rev. Joseph Baynes; born at Wellington, Somersetshire, 10 March, 1831; educated at St. Edmund Hall, Oxford, where he graduated in 1856; took Holy Orders in 1855; is Vicar of St. Michael's, Coventry, 1866, and Hon.  Jesus, to Thy table led (1863) 365
Bernard of Clairvaux. The great Bernard, who is distinguished as S. Bernard of Clairvaux, was born at Fontaine, in Burgundy, in the year 1091. His father was a nobleman, named Tecelinus. Bernard was educated at the University of Paris, and having become a Cistercian monk, was appointed in 1115 the first Abbot of the new monastery at Clairvaux, in Champagne. Luther calls him "the best monk that ever lived." He died at Clairvaux, 20 Aug., 1153. Seven poems are ascribed to him, the principal of which are Fubilis Rhythmicus de Nomine Jesu (cir. 1130), and Oratio Rhythmica ad Christum a cruce pendentem.
 Jesu, dulcedo cordium.
Jesu, Thou joy of loving hearts [RAY PALMER, 1833] 362
 [From Fubilis Rhythmicus de Nomine Jesu.]
 Jesu, dulcis memoria.
Jesu, the very thought of Thee [E. CASWALL, 1849] 315, part I.
 [Also from the same poem.]
 Jesu, Rex admirabilis.
O Jesu, King most wonderful [E. CASWALL, 1849] 315, part II.
 [This is another part of the same poem.]
 Salve, caput cruciatum.
O sacred Head, surrounded [Sir H. W. BAKER, 1861.] 176
 [From Oratio Rhythmica ad Christum. In form the translation follows a free version by Paul Gerhardt (1653), O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden.]

Bond, Alessie. See FAUSSETT.

Borthwick, Jane. Miss Borthwick, in conjunction with her sister, Mrs. Eric Findlater, has published Hymns from the Land of Luther, translated from the German, 1st Series 1854 (Preface dated 1853), and Series 1855, 3rd Series 1858, 4th Series 1862, also Thoughts for Thoughtful Hours (1859), and many poetical pieces contributed to the Family Treasury. The sisters have adopted the common signature "H.L.L."

Come labour on (1859) ... 106
Jesus, still lead on (1853) ... 291
Jesu, geh' voran.

[From the German of Count Zinzendorf (1721). The original is part of two hymns (Nos. 296 and 415) in the Herrnhut Collection, beginning—"Glanz der Ewigkeit," and "Seelenbräutigam." The translation is by Miss Borthwick. See also No. 148 in this collection, which is a part of the same hymn.]

O Lord, our God, in reverence lowly (1858) ... 271
O Majestät, wir fallen nieder, stanzas 2, 3, 4, and 7.
 [From the German of G. Tersteegen (c.1740). The first line, as given by Knapp, is "Grosser Gott, wir fallen nieder." This translation is by Mrs. Findlater.]

Bowly, Mary. See PETERS.

Brady, Nicholas, D.D., son of an officer in the Royalist army, was born 28 Oct., 1659, at Bandon, in the county of Cork. He was educated at Westminster School, at Christ Church, Oxford, and afterwards at Trinity College, Dublin, where he graduated in 1685. He was appointed one of the chaplains to William III., and died 20 May, 1726. His name is now known as the associate of Nahum Tate in producing the metrical version of the Psalms authorised in 1696. The share of each in this work cannot be distinguished. See TATE.

Browne, Charlotte Elizabeth. See TONNA.

Browne, Simon, born about 1680, at Shepton Mallet, Somersetshire. Pastor of the Independent church in Old Jewry, London, 1716; died at Shepton Mallet, 1732. He published Hymns and Spiritual Songs, in three Books (1720).

Come gracious Spirit, heavenly dove (1720) ... 219

Bruce, Michael, son of a weaver; born at Kinnesswood in Kinross-shire, 27 March, 1746; studied for the ministry of the Scottish church at the University of Edinburgh, but falling into a rapid decline, died at Kinnesswood, 5 July, 1767. After his death his manuscripts were placed in the hands of his friend, the Rev. John Logan, who published in 1770 a small volume entitled Poems on Several Occasions, by

- Michael Bruce, but of these, according to Logan's preface, only seven were Bruce's compositions. Afterwards, in 1781, Logan published a volume of poems in which he inserted as his own Bruce's "Ode to the Cuckoo" and several of his hymns. Some of the hymns were added in 1781 to Translations and Paraphrases, a book prepared by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. The Works of Michael Bruce, in an authentic form, were edited by the Rev. Alexander B. Grosart in 1865. Bruce wrote twelve hymns.
- Behold the mountain of the Lord ... 130
Where high the heavenly temple stands ... 209
- Bubier, George Burden, son of the Rev. William Bubier; born at Reading, 2 Feb., 1823; a Congregational minister, and Professor of Theology at the Congregational College of Springhill, Birmingham; died at Acock's Green, near Birmingham, 19 March, 1869. In 1867 he published his hymns in a volume entitled Hymns and Devotional Verses. Eleven of his hymns had already appeared in Hymns and Sacred Songs for Sunday Schools and Social Worship (1855). His collected poems have been published since his death.
- I would commune with Thee, my God (1854) ... 395
- Buckoll, Henry James, M.A., son of the Rev. James Buckoll, Rector of Siddington, near Cirencester, Gloucestershire, where he was born 9 Sept., 1803; educated at Rugby School and at Queen's College, Oxford, where he graduated in 1826; became an Assistant Master at Rugby School in the same year; took Holy Orders in 1827, and died at Rugby, 6 June, 1871. In 1839 he edited a collection of hymns for use in Rugby Parish Church, but nothing wholly composed by him is included in it. In 1857 he compiled, in conjunction with Dr. Goulburn, a new edition of the collection for Rugby School Chapel, which contains fourteen hymns by him. In 1842 he published Hymns translated from the German, taken from Bunsen's Versuch eines allgemeinen Evangelischen Gesang- und Gebetbuchs (1833). Some of his hymns are included in the collection used at Harrow School, in Gurney's Psalms and Hymns selected for some of the Churches in Marylebone (1851), and in other collections.
- O Lord our Maker, ever near (1842) ... 229
Brenn alles Heils, dich ehren wir.
[From the German of G. Tersteegen (c. 1740). This translation is in Hymns translated from the German, where it commences with a stanza, here omitted, of which the first line is:—
"Salvation's healing Promise! to Thee."]
- We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread ... 211
[This hymn is derived from a poem in a small American volume. Mr. Buckoll, observing that it was well conceived but imperfectly executed, recast it in the form in which it is given here. It was again remodelled by Mr. Buckoll and his friend the Rev. J. H. Gurney, who inserted it in his Lutterworth Collection (1838), where it is called "American." Mr. Gurney afterwards rewrote it almost entirely, and published the new version under his own name in his Marylebone Collection (1851). Mr. Buckoll's hymn originally contained 14 stanzas.]
- Byrom, John, M.A., F.R.S., second son of Edward Byrom, a linen-draper; born at Kersall near Manchester, and baptised 29 Feb., 1692; educated at Merchant Taylors' School, London, and at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1711, and of which he became a Fellow; died 26th Sept., 1753. He was the inventor of a successful system of shorthand. His poems were published posthumously in 1773, and in a more complete edition, in 1814.
- Christians, awake, salute the happy morn ... 80
My spirit longs for Thee ... 141
- Cameron, William, born in 1751; educated at Marischal College, Aberdeen; Minister of Kirknewton, in Mid-Lothian, 1785; died at Kirknewton, 17 Nov., 1811. Some of Dr. Watts's hymns, altered by Cameron, were included in the revised edition of the Scottish Paraphrases (1781). A posthumous volume of his poems, containing five Psalms and four Hymns, was published in 1813.
- How bright these glorious spirits shine ... 353
[This, altered from Dr. Watts's 41st hymn, 1st book, is the 66th of the Scottish Paraphrases.]
- Campbell, Miss J. M.
- We plough the fields and scatter (1861) ... 455
Wir pflügen, und wir streuen (1782).
[A translation from the German of Matthias Claudius, published in A Garland of Songs with Tunes, edited by the Rev. C. S. Bere, 1861.]
- Carlyle, Joseph Dacre, B.D., son of George Carlyle, M.D., of Carlisle, where he was born 4 June, 1758; Professor of Arabic in the University of Cambridge, 1794; succeeded Dr. Paley as Chancellor of Carlisle; Vicar of Newcastle-on-Tyne, where he died 12 April, 1804. His hymns appeared in a posthumous volume of poems published in 1805.
- Lord, when we bend before Thy throne ... 51
- Caswall, Edward, son of the Rev. R. C. Caswall; born 15 July, 1814, at Yately in Hampshire; educated at Brasenose College, Oxford; took Holy Orders in 1838, but in 1847 joined the Church of Rome, of which he became a priest. In 1849 he published the Lyra Catholica, containing all the Breviary and Missal Hymns, with others from various sources; in 1858 the Masque of Mary, and other poems.
- Glory be to Jesus (1858) ... 173
Viva, viva, Gesù.
[The original (probably of the 17th or 18th century) is from Aspirazioni Divine, in Raccolta di Orazioni e Pie Opere colle Indulgenze. The translation is given in The Masque of Mary.]
- Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding (1849) ... 67
En clara vox redarguit.
[A variation of Vox clara ecce intonat. From a hymn assigned by some to Ambrose, or, according to Wackernagel, of the 5th century.]
- Jesus, the very thought of Thee (1849) ... 315
Jesu, dulcis memoria.
[From Bernard's poem, "Jubilus Rhythmicus de nomine Jesu" (cir. 1130).]
- O Jesu, King most wonderful (1849) ... 315, part II.
Jesu, rex admirabilis.
[Also from the same poem.]
- The sun is sinking fast (1858) ... 20
Sol princeps rapitur.
[The original Latin is lost. It is believed to be of the 18th century. This translation is in The Masque of Mary.]
- Cawood, John, M.A., son of Mr. Thomas Cawood, a farmer at Matlock, Derbyshire, where he was born, 18 March, 1775; educated at S. Edmund Hall, Oxford, where he graduated in 1801; took Holy Orders in the same year; Perpetual Curate of S. Ann's, Bewdley, Worcestershire, 1814; died 7 Nov., 1852. Mr. Cawood wrote about seventeen hymns, none of which he published himself. Some of them, however, have been printed. Nine are in Cotterill's Selection of Psalms and Hymns (1819).

Almighty God, Thy word is cast (cir. 1815) ... 57
Hark, what mean those holy voices ... 82
[Both these hymns were published in Cotterill's Selection.]

Cennick, John, born at Reading, Berkshire, 12 Dec., 1718; was at first a preacher under Wesley, then under Whitefield; afterwards (in 1745) joined the [Moravian] Brethren, and died in London, 4 July, 1755. His hymns are found in his Sacred Hymns for the Children of God in the days of their Pilgrimage (1741-42), in Sacred Hymns for the use of Religious Societies (1743-45), and in Hymns for Children (1754). Some of his unpublished hymns were afterwards included in the Brethren's collections.

Brethren, let us join to bless (1741) ... 258
Children of the heavenly King (1741) ... 289
Ere I sleep, for every favour (1741) ... 21
Lo! He comes, with clouds descending (1750) ... 76
[Cennick's hymn in its original form commenced—"Lo! He cometh, countless trumpets,"—and was published in A Collection of Sacred Hymns (Dublin, 5th ed., 1752). In 1760 Madam combined two of Cennick's stanzas with three taken from No. 39 and one from No. 38 of C. Wesley's Hymns of Intercession (1758), and in this form the hymn now usually appears. Of the four stanzas given here the third is by Cennick.]
We thank Thee, Lord, for this our food (1741) ... 475

Chandler, John, M.A., son of the Rev. John F. Chandler; born at Witley, Godalming, Surrey, 16 June, 1806; educated at Corpus Christi College, Oxford, where he graduated in 1827; took Holy Orders in 1831, Vicar of Witley, 1837; died at Putney, 1 July, 1876. His translations will be found in his Hymns of the Primitive Church (1837). He also published some original hymns.

Above the clear blue sky (1841) ... 469
Christ is our corner stone (1837) ... 419
Angulare fundamentum.
[A translation of part of a Latin hymn of the 7th or 8th century, commencing "Urbs beata, Hierusalem."] O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace (1837) ... 5 Splendor Paterna gloria.
[From the Latin of Ambrose, Bishop of Milan, 4th century.]
On Jordan's bank, the Baptist's cry (1837) ... 68
Jordanis oras prævia.
[From the Paris Breviary, by Charles Coffin (1736) altered.]
Redeemer, now Thy work is done (1837) ... 204
Opus peregrini Tuum.
[From the Paris Breviary, by Charles Coffin (1736).]

Claudius, Matthias, son of the pastor of Reinfeld, in Holstein, where he was born 15 Aug., 1740, or according to some, in 1743; educated at the University of Jena; died at Wandsbeck near Hamburg, 21 Jan., 1815. His hymns appeared in the Wandsbecker Bote, and in other publications, and lastly, in the Collection of all his writings, published in 8 vols., 1774-1812, under the title Asmus omnia sua secum portans, or the Works of the Wandsbecker Bote (the Wandsbeck Messenger), by which name Claudius was known.

Wir pflügen, und wir streuen.
We plough the fields and scatter [J. M. CAMPBELL, 1861] ... 455
[This hymn will be found in "Paul Erdmann's Fest," published in the Wandsbecker Bote, 1782.]

Clausnitzer, Tobias, born at Thum, near Annaberg, in Saxony, in 1619; Chaplain to the Swedish army during the Thirty years' war; afterwards Pastor at Pargstein and Weyden, in the Palatinate; died 7 May, 1684. He has written three hymns.

Liebster Jesu, wir sind hier (1671).
Blessed Jesus, at Thy Word [C. WINKWORTH, 1858] ... 55

Coffin, Charles, born 1676; succeeded Rollin as Principal of the College of Dormans-Beauvais, in the University of Paris; died 1749. His Latin hymns were written for the Paris Breviary in 1736. His complete works were published at Paris in 1755.

Jordanis oras prævia (1736).
On Jordan's banks, the Baptist's cry [J. CHANDLER, 1837] ... 68
Opus peregrini Tuum (1736).
Redeemer, now Thy work is done [J. CHANDLER, 1837] ... 204

Collins, Henry, M.A., educated at Oxford; ordained a clergyman of the Church of England, which he left soon afterwards for that of Rome. He entered the Cistercian Order of Monks in 1860. His two hymns were published in Hymns for Schools and Missions.

Jesu, my Lord, my God, my all (1852) ... 318

Collyer, William Bengo, D.D., born at Blackheath, near London, 14 April, 1782; educated at Homerton College; Pastor of a Congregational church at Peckham; died 9 Jan., 1854. In 1812 he published Hymns partly collected and partly original, of which the last fifty-seven are by himself: also in 1837, Services suited to the Solemnisation of Matrimony, Baptism, etc., in which are included eighty-nine hymns written by him.

Great God what do I see and hear (1812) ... 77
Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit.
[The original hymn was written about 1565, according to Wackernagel, and was improved by Ringwaldt in 1581. A translation of it in seven verses was published by J. C. Jacobi in his Psalmodia Germanica (1722), of which the commencement is—
"Tis sure that awful time will come."

Whether the first verse in its present form was an adaptation of Jacobi's first two stanzas, or was taken directly from the German, is unknown, as is also the name of the author. Dr. Collyer, having seen this single verse, probably given as the words of an anthem, and attributed to Luther, added three more verses of his own to complete the hymn. Further alterations have brought it into its present form.]

Conder, Josiah, son of Mr. Thomas Conder, a bookseller; born in London, 17 Sept., 1789; publisher, editor, voluminous writer, and Congregational lay preacher; died at St. John's Wood, London, 27 Dec., 1855. He contributed fifty-six hymns to the Congregational Hymn Book, which he compiled (1836). A revised edition of his Hymns of Praise, Prayer, and Devout Meditation was published posthumously in 1856. He edited the "Eclectic Review" from 1814 to 1837.

The Lord is King, lift up thy voice (1824) ... 206

Cooper, J.

Father of heaven, Whose love profound (1808) ... 227
[This hymn is in Cotterill's Selection of Psalms and Hymns, of which several editions appeared between 1810 and 1819. The name "J. Cooper" is given in MS. in some copies as that of the author, but on what authority is not known.]

Copeland, William John, B.D., educated at Oxford, where he graduated in 1829, and became a Fellow of Trinity College; Rector of Farnham, Essex, 1849.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—AUTHORS AND TRANSLATORS.

- In 1848 he wrote Hymns for the Week, translations from the Latin.
- O Christ, who art the Light and Day (1848) ... 16
Christe, qui Lux es et Dies.
 [From the Sarum Breviary. The original has been attributed to Ambrose, Bishop of Milan, or to a writer of his time (4th cent.), but Wackernagel and Mone say it is certainly not older than the 7th century.]
- Cosin, John, D.D., son of Giles Cosin, a citizen of Norwich, where he was born 30 Nov., 1594; educated at Caius College, Cambridge, of which he became a Fellow. He was afterwards Master of Peter House, Cambridge, and was consecrated Bishop of Durham in 1660; died at Westminster, 15 Jan., 1672. The translation below is found in his Collection of Private Devotions (1627), and is believed to be by him.
- Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire (1627) ... 216
Veni, Creator Spiritus.
 [The original is attributed to Gregory the Great (540–604) by Mone and Wackernagel.]
 See also DRYDEN, JOHN.
- Cotterill, Thomas, M.A., born 4 Dec., 1779, at Cannock, Staffordshire; educated at S. John's College, Cambridge, of which he became a Fellow; Perpetual Curate of S. Paul's, Sheffield; died 29 Dec., 1823. His hymns appeared in A Selection of Psalms and Hymns for public and private use (1810, 8th ed., 1819), compiled by him.
- Light of them that sit in darkness (1819) ... 110
 [This hymn was first inserted in 1819 in the Selection (No. 339), and is based on a variation from a Hymn by William Williams, 1772. It begins:
 "O'er the realms of pagan darkness
 Let the eye of pity gaze."
 Williams's hymn commenced:
 "O'er those gloomy hills of darkness
 Look my soul, be still and gaze."
 This is a striking instance of what James Montgomery calls "the remodelling of hymns."]
- Cousin, Anne Ross, daughter of David Ross Cundell, M.D., of Leith; married to the Rev. William Cousin, Minister of the Free Church of Scotland at Melrose. The hymn below, originally in 19 stanzas, appeared first in the Christian Treasury (1857).
- The sands of time are sinking (1857) ... 399
- Cowper, William, of the Inner Temple; son of the Rev. John Cowper, D.D., Rector of Berkhamstead, Hertfordshire, where he was born 15 Nov., 1731; educated at Westminster School; died at Dereham, Norfolk, 25 April, 1800. He contributed sixty-seven hymns to the Olney Collection, written in conjunction with the Rev. John Newton, and published in 1779. Cowper wrote all these hymns before 1773, when the return of a mental malady compelled him to discontinue all literary pursuits for nearly seven years. His chief work is a poem entitled "The Task," besides which he published translations of the Iliad and the Odyssey of Homer, and several minor poems.
- God moves in a mysterious way (1773) ... 304
 God of my life, to Thee I call ... 443
 Hark, my soul, it is the Lord (1771) ... 314
 [In the Gospel Magazine, 1771.]
- Jesus, where'er Thy people meet (1769) ... 46
 O for a closer walk with God (1772) ... 388
 There is a fountain filled with blood (1772) ... 171
 [This and the preceding hymn are in the 2nd ed. of A Collection of Psalms and Hymns from Various Authors (1772), edited by Dr. Conyars.]
- Cox, Frances Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. George V. Cox, born at Oxford. Her translations appeared in Sacred Hymns from the German (1841, enlarged ed. 1864).
- Jesus lives, no longer now (1841) altered ... 190
Jesus lebt, mit Ihm auch ich.
 [From the German of Christian F. Gellert, 1757.]
- Who are these, like stars appearing (1841) ... 352
Wer sind die vor Gottes Throne?
 [From the German of Heinrich Theobald Schenk, d. 1727.]
- Coxe, Arthur Cleveland, D.D., son of the Rev. Samuel Hanson Cox, D.D., of Brooklyn, United States (having changed the spelling of his name); born at Mendham, New Jersey, 10 May, 1818; educated at the University of New York, where he graduated in 1838; appointed in 1864 Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York. He published Athanasion, an Ode (1840; 2nd ed., to which was added Miscellaneous Poems, 1842), Christian Ballads (1840), Hallowe'en and other Poems (1844), and other works.
- Saviour, sprinkle many nations (1851) ... 115
 [A missionary hymn, completed at Oxford by Bishop Coxe, when on a visit to England in 1851. It was first published in Verses for 1851, in Commemoration of the Third Jubilee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, edited by the Rev. Ernest Hawkins, 1851.]

Jacobi, John Christian, was the translator of Psalmodia Germanica, used at the Lutheran chapels in the Savoy and Trinity-lane, and at the Royal Palace. The first edition is dated 1722, and is dedicated to the Prince of Wales, (part ii., 1725); 2nd ed. 1732.

Come, Holy Ghost, come Lord our God ... 223
Komm, heil'ger Geist, Herre Gott (1524).
 [Translated from an amplification, by Luther (1524), of an old German version of the Latin antiphona, "Veni, Sancte Spiritus," of the 14th century. Luther added two verses to the one which he already found in use in the 16th century. Jacobi's translation is published in his Psalmodia Germanica (1722, 2nd ed. 1732), and is given here as altered by the Rev. J. Swertner, 1789.]

Holy Ghost, diapel our sadness ... 54
O du allerhöchste Freude (1648).
 [The original is by Paul Gerhardt. Jacobi's translation, "O Thou sweetest source of gladness," published in his Psalmodia Germanica (Pt. ii., 1725, 2nd ed. 1732), is given here as altered by Toplady (1776).]

John of Damascus, the son of Sergius, was born at Damascus early in the 8th century. He filled a civil office of considerable importance under the Caliph of Damascus, but afterwards retired to the Convent of S. Sabas, near Jerusalem, and died there about 760, having been ordained a priest of the Church of Jerusalem at a comparatively late period of life. He was called by the Saracens Ibn-Mansur, or son of "Mansur," which in Arabic means "Victor." This name was either applied to him as a compliment, or was a translation of a family name.

Ken, Thomas, D.D., son of Thomas Ken, attorney, of Furnival's Inn, London; born at Little Berkhamstead, in Hertfordshire, July, 1637; educated at Winchester School and at Hart Hall (afterwards called Hertford College) and New College, Oxford, where he graduated in 1661; took Holy Orders in the same year; was appointed Bishop of Bath and Wells, 1684; died at Longleat, the seat of Viscount Weymouth, in Wiltshire, 19 March, 1711 (N.A.). He was one of the seven bishops committed to the Tower in 1688, and, as a Nonjuror, was deprived of his see in 1691. He published, in 1674, his Manual of Prayers for the Scholars of Winchester College, of which he became a Fellow in 1666, and to the edition of 1695 were added his "Morning," "Evening," and "Midnight Hymns," written for the use of the scholars some time before.

All praise to Thee, my God, this night (1695, revised) ... 10
[This is the version of the Evening Hymn, as it appears in the revised edition of the "Manual," 1709.]

Awake, my soul, and with the sun (1695) ... 1
[The hymn is given here as revised in the later editions.]

Glory to Thee, my God, this night ... 1

Paul's, Birmingham; born at Summer Hill, near Birmingham, 6 Nov., 1804; educated at King Edward's School, Birmingham, at Shrewsbury School, and at S. John's College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1827, and of which he became a Fellow, 1828; took Holy Orders in 1829; Head Master of Shrewsbury School, 1836-66; Prebendary of Lichfield, 1843-67, and Rector of West Felton, Shropshire, 1865-67; is now Canon of Ely Cathedral, 1867, and Regius Professor of Greek in the University of Cambridge.

There is no sorrow, Lord, too light ... 308
[This hymn, by Mrs. Crewdson, is given here as altered by Dr. Kennedy (1863).]

Kent, John, son of Philip Kent, a shipwright; born at Bideford, Devonshire, Dec., 1766; a shipwright in Plymouth Dockyard; died at Plymouth, 15 Nov., 1843. He published Original Gospel Hymns (1803). The 10th edition, with a life by his son, was published in 1861.

Why, drooping saint, dismayed ... 296

Kethe, William, born in Scotland; an exile with Knox at Geneva, 1555, and one of the translators of the Geneva Bible; Rector of Okeford, Dorsetshire. Of twenty-five metrical psalms added to the old Psalter in 1562, twenty-four are assigned to Kethe; the authorship of the one remaining, given below, is not quite certain.

All people that on earth do dwell [Psalm c.] ... 39

Key, Francis Scott, born in Maryland in 1779; studied law, and in 1801 established himself at Frederickton. A few years afterwards he removed to Washington, and was United States' District Attorney there until his death at Baltimore, 11 Jan., 1843. The following hymn is found in a small volume of Mr. Key's poems, published in 1857, and in the Lyra Sacra Americana (1868).

O Fountain eternal of life and of light [J. SWERTNER, or Bp. F. W. FOSTER, 1808] 368

Langford, John, a nonconformist Minister at Black's Fields, Southwark, London (1766), and afterwards at other places; died in 1790. His Hymns and Spiritual Songs appeared in 1776.

Now begin the heavenly theme 256
[This hymn has been usually ascribed to the Rev. John Langford. It is included in his hymn book; but in the second edition of that collection, in which the compiler has marked all his own hymns with an asterisk, it is not so marked. Besides this, it had previously appeared in Madan's Supplement (1763).]
See also LANGFORD, WILLIAM.

Langford, William, D.D., born at Westfield, near Battle, Sussex, 29 Sept., 1704; educated at the University of Glasgow; became Minister, first of a Presbyterian Church at Gravesend, and finally (1742) of the Weigh-house Chapel, then in Little Eastcheap, London; died 23 April, 1775. The hymn below first appeared in Madan's Supplement (1763), but whether it is the composition of William or of John Langford is doubtful.

Now begin the heavenly theme 256
See also LANGFORD, JOHN.

Latrobe, Benjamin, born in Dublin, 19 April, 1725; educated at the University of Glasgow; for many years a Minister of the [Moravian] Brethren's Church; died 29 Nov., 1786. Several of his hymns and translations are inserted in the Brethren's Hymn Books (1789, etc.).

[Published in Happy Voices, a collection of hymns with tunes, New York, 1865.]

Luke, Jemima, daughter of Mr. Thomas Thompson, of Poundsford Park; born at Islington, London, 19 Aug., 1813; married in 1843 to the Rev. Samuel Luke, Minister of the Congregational Church, Clifton. The hymn below appeared in the Sunday School Teacher's Magazine.

I think when I read that sweet story of old (1841) 459

Lundie, Mary. See DUNCAN.

Luther, Martin, D.D. The great leader of the Reformation in Germany was the son of a miner, and was born at Eisleben, in Saxony, 10 Nov., 1483; educated at the University of Erfurth; became a monk of the Augustinian order; Professor of Philosophy and Divinity in the University of Wittenberg; died at Eisleben, 18 Feb., 1546. Luther wrote thirty-six (or, if two versions of "Aus tiefer Noth" are counted, thirty-seven) hymns, some of which were originally printed on single sheets with the tunes. Most of them were composed in 1523 and 1524.

Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir (1524). Psalm cxxx.

Out of the deep I cry to Thee [B. LATROBE] 440

Sin feste Burg ist unser Gott (1529). Psalm xlii.

A sure stronghold our God is he [W. GASKELL, 1855] 441
[The year in which this celebrated hymn and its tune were written is uncertain. It is popularly supposed to have been composed by Luther, when on his way to the Diet of Worms in 1521; but this is very unlikely, as it is not in the collection of 1524. It has not hitherto been traced to an earlier date than 1529.]

Komm, heiliger Geist, Herre Gott (1524).

Come, Holy Ghost, come, Lord our God [J. C. JACOB, 1722] 223

[This hymn is an amplification of an old German version of the Latin antiphon, "Veni, Sancte Spiritus" of the 14th century. Luther added two verses to the one which he found in use in the 16th century.]

Lyte, Henry Francis, M.A., son of Captain Thomas Lyte; born at Ednam, near Kelso, 1 June, 1793; educated at Portora (the Royal School of Enniskillen), and at Trinity College, Dublin, of which he was a Scholar, and where he graduated in 1814; Perpetual Curate of Lower Brixham, Devonshire, 1823; died at Nice, 20 Nov., 1847. His hymns appeared in Poems chiefly Religious (1833), in Miscellaneous Poems (1868), and in The Spirit of the Psalms (1834, 5th ed. enlarged, 1841).

Abide with me, fast falls the eventide (1847) 14

Far from my heavenly home (1834). Psalm cxxxvii. 276

God is our refuge, tried and proved (1834). Psalm xlii. 442

O that the Lord's salvation (1834). Psalm xiv. 123

Pleasant are Thy courts above (1834). Psalm lxxxiv. 41

Praise my soul, the King of heaven (1834). Psalm ciii. 249

There is a safe and secret place (1834). Psalm xci. 367

McCheyne, Robert Murray, son of Adam McCheyne, Writer to the Signet; born in Edinburgh, 21 May, 1813; educated at the University of Edinburgh, and entered the ministry of the Scottish Church; became Minister of the new Church of S. Peter's, Dundee, in 1836; died at Dundee, 25th March, 1843. Most of his hymns are in Songs of Zion (1837).

When this passing world is done (1837) 401

Madan, Martin, son of Colonel Madan, of the Guards; born 1726; in Holy Orders; founded and became Chaplain of the Lock Hospital, London; died 1790. His collection of Psalms and Hymns extracted from various Authors was published in 1760, the Appendix in 1763. It does not appear that Madan wrote any original hymns.

Awake, and sing the song (1745) 193

[This hymn, by William Hammond, is given here as varied by Madan (1760). The fifth verse is altered from Isaac Watts (1709), and was first added in the Brethren's Hymn Book (1801).]

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—AUTHORS AND TRANSLATORS.

Lo! He comes, with clouds descending 76
[The germ of this hymn is due to John Cennick (1750). Madan (1760) combined with it a similar hymn by Charles Wesley (1758), and of the hymn as given here, stanzas 1, 2, 4 are by C. Wesley, and stanza 3 by Cennick.]

Maitland, Frances Sara Fuller, 4th daughter of Mr. Ebenezer Fuller-Maitland, of Park Place, Henley; born 20 June, 1809, at Shinfield Park, near Reading; married, 1834, to Mr. John Colquhoun, 2nd son of Sir James Colquhoun, Bart; died at Edinburgh, 27 May, 1877. Her hymns appeared in Hymns for Private Devotion, selected and original (1827, new ed. 1863).

Oft in danger, oft in woe 378
[An unfinished hymn by Henry Kirke White (1806). To the ten lines left by him Dr. Collyer added six, which he published in his collection (1812). White's fragment is given here as completed in 1825 by Miss Maitland. The first line has been subsequently altered. It originally stood—"Much in sorrow, oft in woe."]

Mant, Richard, D.D., son of the Rev. Richard Mant, Master of the Grammar School, Southampton; born at Southampton, 12 Feb., 1776; educated at Winchester School, and at Trinity College, Oxford, where he became a Fellow of Oriel College; was appointed Bishop of Killaloe in 1820, and translated to the see of Down and Connor in 1823; died at Ballymoney, County of Antrim, 2 Nov., 1848. Most of his hymns appeared in Scripture Narratives (1831), in Ancient Hymns from the Roman Breviary, with Original Hymns (1837), etc. He published The History of the Church of Ireland (1840), and many other works.

For all Thy saints, O Lord (1837) 344
Round the Lord in glory seated (1837) 224
See the destined day arise (1837) 174
Lustra sex qui jam peregit.

Son of God, to Thee I cry (1831) 103

Marckant, John, the compiler of Verses to Divers Good Purposes (cir. 1580). The hymn below first appeared in the first complete edition of the Psalms of Sternhold and Hopkins (1562). It is marked "M" in the earlier editions of this collection, and the same letter was attached to several Psalms. It was therefore supposed by some to be written by John Mardley, but in a copy of the Psalms (1565 sm. fol.) in the British Museum, the name "Markant" is given in full instead of the usual initial "M." The hymn therefore should be ascribed to him, and not to Mardley.

O Lord, turn not Thy face from me (1562) 132
[This hymn is given here as varied by Bishop Heber.]

Marriott, John, son of the Rev. R. Marriott, D.D., born at Cottesbach, near Lutterworth, Leicestershire, 1780; educated at Rugby School and at Oxford; in Holy Orders; Rector of Church Lawford, Warwickshire; died at Broad Clyst, near Exeter, 31 March, 1825. Mr. Marriott did not publish any of his hymns; the one given below appeared first in the Friendly Visitor for July, 1825.

Thou, Whose almighty word (1823) 109

Marshall, Julia Anne. See ELLIOTT.

Massie, Richard, son of the Rev. R. Massie, of Codrington, Cheshire, and Rector of Eccleston; born at Chester, 18 June, 1800. He published a translation of Luther's Spiritual Songs (1854), and Lyra Domestica (1st and 2nd series, 1863-64), chiefly translations of the hymns of Spitta. He also contributed 20 translations from the German to Mercer's Hymn Book.

Evening and morning 8
Die gold'ne Sonne, voll Freud' und Wonne (1666).
[From the German of Paul Gerhardt. Translated by Mr. Massie for Mercer's Hymn-book (1856).]

Maude, Mary Fawler, daughter of Mr. George Henry Hooper, of Stanmore, Middlesex; married, in 1841, to the Rev. Joseph Maude, Vicar of Chirk, near Ruabon, and Hon. Canon of S. Asaph Cathedral. The hymn below was first published in Mrs. Maude's Twelve Letters on Confirmation (1848), and was afterwards included in the Collection of the Rev. William Walsham How.

Thine for ever, God of love (1848) 376
[Originally written for a class of young persons preparing for confirmation.]

Medley, Samuel, born at Cheshunt, Hertfordshire, 23 June, 1738; was first apprenticed to an oilman in London, but in 1755 entered the Royal Navy as a midshipman. In 1761 he opened a school in London, began to preach in 1766, and became in 1767 Pastor of the Baptist Church at Watford, Hertfordshire; removed to Liverpool in 1772, and died 17 July, 1799. His hymns appeared originally on broadsides. He published in 1789 a small volume of hymns, to which others were added in later editions (3rd ed. 1800).

Molther, Philipp Heinrich, born in Alsace, 28 Dec., 1714. At Jena, where he studied Theology, he joined the [Moravian] Brethren in 1737, and went to London in 1739. He was Minister of the Brethren's congregation at Neuwied from 1750 to 1761, and spent the rest of his life, 1762-1780, in Dublin and in Bedford. He died at Bedford, 9th September, 1780, five years after his consecration as a Bishop of the Brethren's Unity.

When, O when shall I have the favour ... 403 v. 2
Wenn schlägt die angenehme Stunde (1765).

What heavenly joy and consolation ... 403 v. 3
O angenehme Augenblicke (1766).

[These stanzas are translations by Bishop Molther (cir. 1774) from the German of Christian Gregor. They appeared as single verses in the [Moravian] Brethren's Collection of 1789, and were subsequently, in the edition of 1826, united by its editor, Bishop Foster, to another single verse, commencing "At God's right hand, in countless numbers," written by the Rev. Ignatius Montgomery (1815). The hymn, as given here, was thus formed.]

Wesley, John, M.A., second son of the Rev. Samuel Wesley, rector of Epworth, Lincolnshire; born at Epworth, 17 June (o.s.), 1703; was educated at the Charterhouse, London, and at Christ Church, Oxford, where he became a Fellow of Lincoln College, 1726; took Holy Orders in 1725, and went in 1735 as a missionary to Georgia, in North America; after his return in 1738 commenced to preach from place to place, and founded the religious body known as Methodists; died in London, 2 March, 1791. His hymns, which were for the most part translations from the German, appeared in his Collection of Psalms and Hymns (1738), etc.

As through this wilderness we stray (1739) 148
Irr ich auf dem finstern stee (1721).

[A translation of a hymn by Count Zinzendorf, commencing, "Seelenbräutigam, o du Gotteslamm." The second stanza—"When rising floods the soul o'erflow," Wenn der Wellen Macht, is from the 12th stanza of a hymn by J. A. Freylinghausen (1704), which commences: "Wer ist wohl wie du? Jesu, süsse Ruh!"

 (See also Hymn 331 of this Collection.)

Wesley's hymn, as given here, begins with the 3rd stanza. In its original form it commenced "O Thou to Whose all-searching sight."

Before Jehovah's awful throne. Pa. c. 40 [Varied slightly by J. Wesley (1741) from a hymn by Dr. Watts, commencing: "Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice." Of this hymn Wesley omitted the 1st and 4th stanzas, and altered the first two lines of the 2nd, which originally stood—"Nations, attend before His throne,
 With solemn fear, with sacred joy."]

Commit thou all thy griefs (1739) 313, part i.
Befiehl du deine Wege (1653).

Give to the winds thy fears 313, part ii.
Hoff, o du arme Seele.
 [Another portion of the preceding hymn.]

Holy Lord, who Thee receive (1740) 142
Du heiliges Kind, wer dich einmal findt (1735).
 [A translation of a hymn by Anna Dober.]

Jesus, Thy blood and righteousness (1740) 260
Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit (1739).
 [A translation of a hymn by Count Zinzendorf. The 1st stanza of the original is by Paul Eber.]

Now I have found the ground wherein (1740) 307
Ich habe nun den Grund gefunden (1728).
 [A translation of a hymn by J. A. Rothe.]

O God, of good the unfathomed Sea (1739) 323
Du unvergleichlich Gut (1657).
 [A translation of a hymn by Johann Scheffler (Angelus Silesius).]

O Jesu! Source of calm repose (1739) 331
Wer ist wohl wie du? Jesu süsse Ruh! (1704).
 [Translated from a hymn by J. A. Freylinghausen. No. 330 is another version, by Stallybrass, of the same hymn.]

Thou wilt I love, my Strength, my Tower (1739) 322
Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke (1657).
 [A translation of a hymn by Johann Scheffler (Angelus Silesius).]

Thou Friend of sinners, Who hast bought (1739) 156
O Jesu Christ, mein schönstes Licht (1653).
 [A translation of a hymn by P. Gerhardt. It is given here as altered by E. Oeler (1836).]

Williams, Peter, born, of respectable parents, in the parish of Llansadurnen, near Llangharne (now spelled Laugharne), Carmarthenshire, 7 Jan., 1722; educated at the Carmarthen College, on leaving which he opened a school at Conwyl, near Carmarthen; took Holy Orders, and was appointed Curate of Eglwys-cymmin, in the same county. About 1748 he joined the Calvinistic Methodists, subsequently preached in Independent and Baptist Chapels, without attaching himself to either body, and finally built a chapel for himself, in Carmarthen, where he preached for the remainder of his life; died 8 Aug., 1796.

Guide us, O Thou great Jehovah (1771) ... 273
 [The first stanza of this translation from the Welsh of William Williams is by Peter Williams.]
 See WILLIAMS, WILLIAM.

Williams, William, born at Cefnycoed, near Llandovery, Carmarthenshire, 1717; at first studied medicine, but soon afterwards (1740) took deacon's orders; subsequently left the Church, and became an itinerant preacher of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodists; died at Pantycelyn, near Llandovery, 11 Jan., 1791. His Welsh hymns appeared in his Alleluia (1745-47), in The Sea of Glass (1762), in the Visible Farewell, and in Alleluia again. His English hymns appeared in Hosannah to the Son of David (1759), and in Gloria in excelsis (1772). These two works were reprinted by Mr. Sedgwick in 1859.

Arglwydd, arwain trwy'r anialwch.
 Guide us, O Thou great Jehovah (1771-73) ... 273
 [The original Welsh hymn is in "Caniad y Mor O Wydr," cir. 176, in six stanzas. A translation of this, in three stanzas, by the Rev. Peter Williams, of Carmarthen, appeared in his Hymns on various subjects, etc. (1771). In 1773 William Williams adopted the first stanza of this translation, and completed it by three additional stanzas of his own. In this form the hymn was published on a leaflet in the same year by Lady Huntingdon.]

Wordsworth, Christopher, D.D., third son of the Rev. Christopher Wordsworth, D.D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, and brother of the poet, William Wordsworth; born 30 Oct., 1807; educated at Winchester School and at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1830, and became a Fellow of his College; Head Master of Harrow School from 1836 to 1844; and after holding other appointments, Bishop of Lincoln (1869). His hymns appeared in the Holy Year (1862). With other works, he has published a valuable edition of the Holy Scriptures, with Notes and an Introduction.

Hallelujah! Hallelujah! (1862) 186
 O Day of rest and gladness (1862) 32
 O Lord of heaven and earth and sea (1863) 422
 [Of these three hymns, the first and second were written for and published in the first edition of the Holy Year (1862). The hymn, "O Lord of heaven," was added, with a few others, in 1863. The author has lately made some alterations in the 4th, 5th, and 6th verses, which in their amended form appear as follows:—

"Thou didst not spare Thine only Son,
 But gav'st Him for a world undone,
 And freely with that blessed One
 Thou givest all.

"Thou giv'st the Spirit's Holy dower—
 Spirit of life, and love, and power—
 And doest His sevenfold graces shower
 Upon us all.

"For souls redeemed, for sins forgiven,
 For means of grace and hopes of heaven,
 Father, what can to Thee be given,
 Who givest all."

The words "Who givest all" are also substituted for "Giver of all" in the remaining stanzas.]

Young, Andrew, son of David Young, a teacher in Edinburgh; born in Edinburgh, 23 April, 1807; educated in the University of Edinburgh; from 1840 to 1853 English Master in Madras College, St. Andrew's. His hymn appeared in the School Hymn Book, published by Messrs. Gall.

There is a happy land (1838) 470

Zinzendorf, Nicolaus Ludwig von, son of Georg Ludwig, Count von Zinzendorf, one of the principal Ministers of State in Saxony; born at Dresden, 26 May, 1700; educated at Halle and at Wittenberg, and from 1721 to 1732 Aulic Counsellor to the Elector of Saxony. He provided on his estate of Berthelsdorf, in Saxony, a place of refuge for the persecuted descendants of the ancient Brethren's Church in Moravia. He became the founder of their first and chief settlement at Herrnhut, and devoted himself to the ministry in the renewed Church of the Brethren, being consecrated as one of their bishops, and occupying the chief place among them until his death at Herrnhut, 9 May, 1760. His hymns, numbering above 2000, are contained in his Deutsche Gedichte (1735), and in numerous collections from 1722 to 1758. A selection of 770 of these hymns was published by Albert Knapp in 1845.

| Bach, Johann Sebastian, son of Johann Ambrosius Bach, musician to the Court and Town at Eisenach, in Thuringia, was born at Eisenach on the 21st March, 1685, within a month after the birth of his great contemporary, Händel. Both his parents dying in his childhood, he remained for some time under the care of an elder brother, Johann Christoph, from whom he learned the rudiments of music. On his brother's death he entered the choir of the College of S. Michael, Lüneburg, as a treble singer, where he remained three years. In 1703 he became a violinist in the band of the Duke of Saxe-Weimar, in 1704 Organist of the Church at Arnstadt, and in 1707 of the Church of S. Blasius, Mühlhausen. The following year he was appointed Court Organist, and in 1714 Director of the Court Concerts at Weimar. He was afterwards for six years Music-director to the Prince of Anhalt-Köthen, and finally became in 1723 Precentor and Music-director of S. Thomas's School, Leipzig, where he remained till his death, 28 July, 1750. He was buried on the 30 July in S. John's churchyard, Leipzig. Bach is best known as the greatest of composers for the organ. He also wrote much for his favourite instrument, the clavichord, for which he composed his well-known work, "The Well-tempered Clavichord" (Das wohltemperirte Klavier). His vocal works are numerous, including Motets, Masses, about 200 Cantatas (a species of verse Anthems), and five "Passions," three of which are lost. The two which survive were both finished in 1729. The second and greater of these, "The Passion according to S. Matthew," was first performed in S. Thomas's Church on Good Friday, 1729; and, after the oblivion of a century, was revived by Mendelssohn at Berlin on the 12th March, 1829. It has recently been performed several times in England. In the Passions, as well as in his Cantatas, Bach introduced many of | | the old German Chorals, or Psalm-tunes, re-harmonized by him. A collection of 371 of these was published by Kirnberger in 1784. Bach's life was uneventful, and was spent in the cultivation of his art, which he devoted almost exclusively to the service of his own (the Lutheran) Church. His individuality stands so apart from ordinary comprehension and sympathies, that his works are still far too little known, and his immense genius too little appreciated.

Beethoven, Ludwig van. Beethoven's grandfather, a native of Antwerp, settled in Bonn in 1732 as a musician at the court of the Archbishop-Elector of Cologne, and his father, Johann van Beethoven, became a tenor singer in the electoral chapel. Ludwig was his eldest surviving son, and was born at Bonn, probably on the 16th, and baptized on the 17th Dec., 1770. His musical genius was developed at an early age, when he received instruction from Pfeiffer, an oboist in the theatre, afterwards from Van den Eeden, the court organist, and, on his death, from his successor, Neefe. After holding for some time the post of Assistant Organist, Beethoven left Bonn in 1792, and settled at Vienna, where he studied under Haydn and Albrechtsberger. In Vienna he remained for the rest of his life, and produced that series of works which has placed him the first of all instrumental composers. His works comprise nine Symphonies, 32 Sonatas for the pianoforte, 5 Concertos for the pianoforte and one for the violin, Overtures, and numerous compositions for stringed and other instruments, one Oratorio (The Mount of Olives), two Masses, an Opera (Fidelio), besides many songs and minor works. In 1800 Beethoven suffered the greatest loss that can befall a musician; he became permanently deaf, and it was while labouring under this affliction that he produced his greatest works. He died at Vienna, 26 March, 1827. Beethoven's earlier works are impressed by the influence of Haydn and Mozart, but he soon displayed his own strongly marked individuality. He is especially remarkable for originality and variety of invention, boldness in the realization of his conceptions, depth and passion in expression, and richness in harmony. He founded no school, and left no successor. Many of his vocal works are admirable, but his genius was for instrumental music. His Sonatas for the pianoforte are unequalled. In his Symphonies he carried that species of composition to the highest perfection which it has yet attained, and invented the "Scherzo," with which he replaced the "Minuet" and "Trio" of his predecessors. Beethoven wrote no hymn-tunes. Those given below are adaptations from melodies in his works.

Boyce, William, MUS. D., son of a cabinet-maker in London; born in London, 1710; received his first instruction in music from Charles King, Master of the children of S. Paul's Cathedral, in which he became a chorister. He was afterwards a pupil of Dr. Greene, and studied harmony under Dr. Pepusch; became Organist of Oxford Chapel, Vere-street, London, 1734, and in 1736 of S. Michael's, Cornhill; appointed in the same year one of the Composers, and Joint-Organist, to the Chapel Royal, and in 1749 Organist of All-hallows Church, Thames-street. In that year he received the degrees of Bachelor and Doctor in Music from the University of Cambridge, and in 1755 was appointed Master of the Royal Band. He died 7 Feb., 1779, and was buried on the 16th in S. Paul's Cathedral. Dr. Boyce was one of the ablest musicians of his time, and may be regarded as the last of the old English school of church composers. His works possess great merit, and are distinguished for originality. He composed Anthems and Services, a Serenata called "Solomon," written in 1743, and various minor works. He also carried out the design of his master, Dr. Greene, by compiling and publishing, under the name of "Boyce's Cathedral Music," a valuable collection of Anthems and Services by various composers, in three volumes, of which the first appeared in 1760.

Bussell, Henry, son of Mr. John Bussell, of Stroud, Gloucestershire; educated by the Rev. Dr. Evans at the College School, Gloucester, and was a chorister in the Cathedral, where he studied music under the organist, Mr. William Mutlow; settled at an early age in Dublin, where he continued his studies under Mr. John Matthews, organist of S. Patrick's Cathedral, and Mr. J. Blewitt, organist of S. Andrew's Church. He was also a pupil in harmony of Mr. Haydn Corri. At sixteen years of age Mr. Bussell assisted in the formation of the Dublin Philharmonic Society, of which he was soon afterwards appointed Secretary and Conductor. He held these posts till 1873, when, at his own desire, he retired from the Conductorship, still retaining the office of Secretary. He is also Secretary of the Hibernian Catch Club. He was Organist of Booterstown Church, near Dublin, for many years until 1861, and has held a similar appointment since 1845 in the Chapel Royal, Dublin Castle. In 1842 he arranged and published the first volume of "The Choralist," a collection of Metrical Psalms and Chants, which was followed in 1864 by a second volume† containing 200 Hymns. A third volume, containing 100 more Hymns and several short Anthems, completed the work in 1865. This publication largely contributed to the diffusion and improvement of congregational psalmody in Ireland, and was probably the first of its kind in which all the words were printed under the notes both in the large score and in the separate vocal parts. Mr. Bussell has composed some Anthems, Services, and miscellaneous works.

Croft, William, MUS. D., born at Nether-Eaton, Warwickshire, about 1677; educated in the Chapel Royal, under Dr. Blow; became Organist of S. Anne's, Westminster, a post which he held till 1711, and in 1700 a Gentleman of the Chapel Royal, of which he was appointed in 1704 to one of the organist's places, jointly with Jeremiah Clark,* on whose death in 1707 he became full Organist. In 1708 he succeeded Dr. Blow as Composer to the Chapel Royal and Organist of Westminster Abbey; received the degree of Doctor in Music from the University of Oxford in 1713; died in London 14 Aug., 1727, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. In 1712 he published "Divine Harmony," a selection of Anthems with an introductory account of their composers and of Church music in general, and in 1724 his "Musica Sacra, or Select Anthems in Score," in 2 volumes.

Hanover (Old 104th Psalm), (1708) ... 247
[This tune has been popularly, but incorrectly, attributed to Händel. It is found, harmonized for two voices, in Wilkins's Psalmody (no date), where it is set to the 104th Psalm, and in the 6th edition of the Supplement to Tate and Brady's New Version of the Psalms, 1708, where it is called "A New Tune to the 104th Psalm of the New Version, and the 104th Psalm of the Old." Dr. Croft is traditionally said to have been the editor of this Supplement. No composer's name is given in either collection, nor is there a name to the tune.]

Saint Anne ... 90, version i., 241, 442, 454, tune ii.
The authorship of this tune by Dr. Croft has been recently called in question. It is said to be found in "Abraham Barber's Book of Psalms," cir. 1686, where it is attributed to a "Mr. Denby." The opening strain is identical with that of an older tune by Henry Lawes (1638), and is also found in a Choral by Calvisius, and in a French National Song, both of the 16th century; but the remainder of S. Anne's tune is different.]

Daye's Psalter.

Congregational Psalmody commenced in England with Coverdale's Psalter, published before 1539, in which the Psalms were set to Gregorian tones, and to German tunes, then recently composed by Luther and others. This Psalter was succeeded by others, among which one, published in 1562 by John Daye, a well-known printer of the time, contains German, Genevan, new and native tunes. All these collections gave the melodies only. In the following year Daye published the first English Psalter in parts, adapted to the metrical version of Sternhold and his coadjutors. The tunes were admirably harmonized by Richard Brimble, William Parsons, T. Causton, J. Hake, Richard Edwardes, Nicholas Southerton, M. Shepherd, and Thomas Tallis. This Psalter was reprinted, without material alteration in 1565, and other editions subsequently appeared. Daye was also the publisher of Archbishop Parker's Psalter in 1565 (or, according to some, 1560) with music by Tallis, and of Damon's Psalter in 1579.

- Este's Psalter.
Thomas Este was a printer in London between the years 1588 and 1624. In 1592 he published "The Whole Booke of Psalmes, with their wonted tunes, as they are song in churches, composed into foure parts." It contains the old church and nine new tunes, harmonized by ten composers, George Kirbye, William Cobbold, Richard Allison, Edward Blancks, Michael Cavendish, John Douland, John Farmer, Giles Farnaby, Edmund Hooper, and Edward Johnson. It was the first Psalter in which the tunes are named, Cheshire, Kentish, and Glassenburie being thus distinguished. It was reprinted in 1594 and in 1604. Este's Psalter contains fifty-seven distinct tunes, exclusive of those of the Spiritual Songs and Hymns. That given below was harmonized by Kirbye, and was set to the 84th Psalm.

Gloucester ... 143, 360, 388
[Arranged from the anthem, "Lord, for Thy tender mercy's sake." It is very doubtful if Farrant is the composer of this anthem, which is attributed by several authorities to John Hilton, Organist of S. Margaret's Church, Westminster, who died about the middle of the 17th century. It was first printed with the name of Farrant as its composer in Page's "Harmonia Sacra," 1800.]

Filitz, Friedrich, PH. D., born 16 March, 1804, at Arnstadt, in Thuringia; studied philosophy, in which he received the degree of Doctor; resided at Berlin from 1843 to 1847, and since then at Munich.

Flemming, Friedrich Ferdinand, MED. D., born at Neuhausen, near Freiberg, in the mining district of Saxony, 28 Feb., 1778; died at Berlin, 27 May, 1813. He was a distinguished member of the Berliner Liedertafel founded by Zelter in 1810, and composed several Part-songs. The hymn-tune below is adapted from one of the best known of these.

Nachtlied ... 27
[Originally written for male voices, to the words of Horace's Ode (Bk. I., 22), "Integer vitæ, scelerisque purus."]

Franc, or Le Franc, Guillaume, son of Pierre Franc, of Rouen; established a school of music at Geneva in 1541; in the following year was appointed a member of the choir, and Master of the children in S. Peter's church. About 1545 he left Geneva and joined the choir of the cathedral of Lausanne, where he died in 1570.

He is said to have had the chief share in setting to music the Psalms for the Reformed Church in Geneva. Unlike the Reformers of Germany, those of Switzerland (chiefly, however, in the German-speaking cantons) had at first proscribed the use of music in their religious services, and had even destroyed the organs in some places, as at Zurich and at Berne. It was only by slow degrees that music recovered its ground in the Church. Calvin, shortly after his return to Geneva in 1541, perceiving the value of music as an aid to devotion, introduced the use of Metrical Psalms, and published a Psalter with tunes in 1542. This contained (with 5 others, probably by Calvin himself) the 30 psalms which not long before (1537—1540) had been translated into French by Clement Marot. Marot, after his flight to Geneva in 1542, added to these 19 more psalms and the Song of Simeon, and died in the following year. In 1554 Theodore Beza added 34 new psalms, 6 more in 1555, another in 1559, and completed the whole Psalter in 1562.

Franc is said to have adapted the melodies to many of these psalms; but an edition of the Psalms of Marot and Beza, published in 1565 throws some doubt on this; as its preface, by Franc, seems to imply that he had only then adapted tunes to some psalms which had not previously been set to music.

The early Psalters contained the melodies only. These were published in 1565, harmonized by Claude Goudimel.

In 1547 Louis Bourgeois had already published Marot's 50 psalms with the tunes harmonized for 4 voices, and in 1561 he published 83 psalms with music in four, five, and six parts.

It is uncertain to what extent the tunes may be regarded as original. Many of them were no doubt secular melodies then popular, to which the psalms first translated by Marot had been adapted, but the tunes fitted to the later Psalms of Marot, and to those of Beza (of which the 134th psalm was one) were most probably newly composed, or derived to some extent from German or from Gregorian sources.

Herr Gott, dich loben alle wir.

[This tune was early introduced into England. It is found in Daye's Metrical Psalter, of 1563, and in Daye's Psalter of 1565. It was known as "The Hundredth" until the old version was superseded by that of Tate and Brady. The name "Hundredth" is peculiar to England, as in the Genevan Psalter the tune was adapted to the 134th Psalm. It was also frequently named "Savoy," not, as Mr. Havergal imagines, from any supposed Savoyard origin, but from its use by a Huguenot congregation established in the Savoy, London, in the reign of Elizabeth. Care should be taken not to sing it too slowly. The character both of the words and music is jubilant, and the necessity for a moderately fast "time" is especially apparent if the older version is used. The ordinary version, given here, is found in use as early as 1592.]

Old Hundredth (earliest form) ... 39
[Mr. Havergal thinks that the tune was originally composed out of fragments of Gregorian melody, but this is doubtful. It has undergone many modifications at the hands of different editors. This, its oldest, is also its best and most dignified form.]

Frech, Johann Georg, son of Johann Michael Frech, a watchmaker and organ builder at Kaltenthal, near Stuttgart; born at Kaltenthal 17 Jan., 1790; became assistant master of the school at Degerloch, near Stuttgart, in 1806; afterwards studied music at Stuttgart under Knecht, Tutor, and Nanz; settled at Esslingen in 1811 as assistant in a school, and in 1812 became teacher, and afterwards Music-director in the Seminary, and Organist of the church in that town; died at Esslingen 23 Aug., 1864. He has published compositions of various kinds.

Gauntlett, Henry John, MUS. D., eldest son of the Rev. Henry Gauntlett, Vicar of Olney, Buckinghamshire; born at Wellington, Shropshire, in 1806; settled in London in 1826; became, about 1827, Organist of S. Olave's, Southwark, London, an appointment which he held for more than twenty years; in 1830 he was admitted a member of the legal profession; in 1842 was appointed Organist to the King of Hanover, and in the same year received the degree of Doctor in Music from the Archbishop of Canterbury. The assimilation of the compass of the old English G organ to that of the organ long in general use in Germany, and the introduction into England of the Orchestral Bass, and consequent adoption of an extended pedal organ, were in no small degree due to the exertions of Dr. Gauntlett. In 1844 he published the first Gregorian Hymnal, followed by a Gregorian Psalter, a new Cathedral Psalter, and a Bible Psalter. Between 1848 and 1850 he compiled the music to the Rev. W. J. Blew's "Church Hymn and Tune Book," which became the model of many subsequent collections; edited the "Prayer Book Noted" and the "Church Musician" in 1850, and has at various times contributed to many different Hymnals. In 1851 he also took out a patent for applying electric or magnetic action to the organ.

Geary, Timothy, MUS. B., who, instead of this name, assumed those of Thomas Augustine, probably after Dr. Arne, was the youngest son of Timothy Geary or Garry. He was born in Dublin about 1773; was one of the children of the choir in S. Patrick's Cathedral from 1783 to 1790, and graduated Bachelor in Music at the University of Dublin in 1792. When he was but eleven years of age he composed a "Te Deum," as well as a Glee which gained a prize for which his own master, Dr. Langrishe Doyle, and Giardini were also competitors. After a youth of great musical promise, he was accidentally drowned in the River Liffey in the early part of Nov., 1801.

Giardini, Felice, born at Turin, Piedmont, 12 April, 1716; was a chorister in the cathedral of Milan, where he studied music under Paladini; became a distinguished violinist and composer; settled in London in 1750, and resided there (with the exception of the years 1784-89, which he spent at Naples) till 1793, when, finding that during his absence from England he had lost his former position in public estimation, he went to St. Petersburg, and died at Moscow, 17 Dec., 1796. Giardini composed several hymn tunes for the Countess of Huntingdon's collection.

He was eminent as an organist, and was the most distinguished English composer of his time. His contributions to the music of the Church are among the best productions in that style, and are remarkable equally for pleasing subjects and skilful construction. His Service in F is well known. He also excelled as a composer of madrigals. His five-part madrigals were published in 1612. The characteristics of his music are richness of harmony and grandeur.

Goudimel, Claude, born about 1510, at Besançon, in Franche Comté (or at Vaison, near Carpentras, according to Pitoni, in his "Histoire de la Chapelle Papale," a work still unpublished); in 1540 established a school of music at Rome, where Palestrina is said to have been his pupil; returned in 1555 to Paris, and afterwards resided at Lyons, where he was one of the Huguenots killed about the end of August, 1572, in the massacre which followed that at Paris on S. Bartholomew's day.

Greene, Maurice, MUs. D., son of the Rev. Thomas Greene, Vicar of S. Olave, Jewry, London; born in London in 1696; was one of the children of the choir of S. Paul's Cathedral, London, where he studied music under Richard Brind, the organist; about 1716 became Organist of S. Dunstan in the West, and in the following year of S. Andrew's, Holborn; but resigned these appointments in 1718, when he succeeded his master, Brind, as Organist of S. Paul's. Appointed Organist and Composer to the Chapel Royal in 1727, and in 1735 Master of the King's Band. In 1730 he obtained the degree of Doctor in Music from the University of Cambridge, where he also succeeded Dr. Tudway in the Professorship of that faculty; died in London, 1 Dec., 1755. He wrote many Anthems and other compositions in a pure and elegant style. In the latter years of his life he began to collect the Anthems and Services of the older English Church composers with a view to their publication, but did not live to execute his design, which was afterwards carried into effect by his pupil, Dr. Boyce.

Dir, dir Jehovah, will ich singen.
[This tune has been frequently ascribed to Bartholomäus Crassellius, born in 1677, Pastor at Nidda in Wetteravia, 1701, and at Düsseldorf, 1708; but there is no good reason for believing that it was composed by him.]

Händel, Georg Friedrich, son of Georg Händel, surgeon to Duke Augustus of Saxony; born at Halle, 23 (baptized 24) Feb., 1685. His talent for music was apparent almost from his birth, but was at first repressed by his father, who intended to educate him for the profession of the law. After some time, however, chiefly through the mediation of the Duke of Saxe-Weisenfelds, Händel was permitted to follow the bent of his genius, and to take lessons from Zachau, organist of the cathedral at Halle. His father's death (11 Feb., 1697) while he was still a child threw him on his own resources, and a few years afterwards, in 1703, he joined the band of the theatre at Hamburg as a violinist, and produced there his first opera, "Almira," in 1705. After spending some years in Italy he returned to Germany, and at first settled in Hanover, where he was appointed Chapelmaster to the Elector, afterwards George I. of England. Here he made the acquaintance of some English noblemen who induced him to visit London, where he arrived about the end of 1710, and produced his opera "Rinaldo." In 1712 he returned to England, which thenceforward became his home. In 1718 he accepted the office of Chapelmaster to the Duke of Chandos, who then lived in a style of almost royal splendour at Cannons, near London; and it was for the Duke's private chapel, in which daily cathedral service was maintained, that Händel wrote the two Te Deums and the twelve Anthems, known as the Chandos Te Deums and Anthems. For the Duke of Chandos were also composed Händel's first oratorio, "Esther," in 1720, and the serenata, "Acis and Galatea," in 1721.

In 1720 Händel became director of the Italian Opera, with which he remained connected for many years, until in 1737 his theatrical speculations came to a disastrous termination.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—COMPOSERS.

Besides "Esther," Händel had already produced the oratorios of "Deborah" and "Athaliah" (1733), and his failure as manager of the Opera induced him to turn his attention henceforward to the composition of works of the same class. "Saul," written in 1738, was produced in 1739, and was followed by the long series of oratorios, ending with "Jephtha" in 1752, which have placed Händel at the head of all composers in this style, and on which his fame mainly rests.

For some time his efforts to retrieve his fortunes were unavailing against the persecution of his enemies and the cabals formed to oppose him, and in 1741 he accepted an invitation to visit Ireland, where he remained for nine months. He arrived in Dublin on the 18th November, bringing with him his immortal work, "The Messiah," which he had composed shortly before his departure from England, with especial reference to this visit. This oratorio was performed for the first time on the 13th April, 1742, in the Fishamble-street Music Hall, Dublin, for the benefit of Mercer's Hospital, of the Charitable Infirmary on the Inns-quay, and for the relief of prisoners in the several gaols in Dublin, for which charities Händel, according to the statements in the local press of the time, composed this work. On this occasion the sum of £400 was realized.

Since that time "The Messiah" has been repeatedly associated with the cause of charity, which has benefited more by it than by any other musical work. During Händel's lifetime alone it produced nearly £7000.

In 1752 Händel's eyesight began to fail, and in the following year he became blind. After this time he composed little, but occasionally took his place at the organ during the performance of his works. He died in London on the 14th April, 1759, and was buried in Westminster Abbey.

His works include upwards of 40 Operas, 2 English Serenatas, 4 Odes, 17 English Oratorios, besides Psalms, Te Deums, and other smaller works. His instrumental compositions are chiefly for the organ, for the harpsichord (his favourite instrument on which, as well as on the organ, he was a performer of the highest rank), and for the hautboy.

Händel has been fitly compared with Milton. Both are distinguished for grandeur and elevation of thought, while dignity is never forgotten even in their lighter works. In choral music Händel is unrivalled, and his genius rises with his theme. The leading characteristics of his works are truth of expression, clearness of construction, and the greatest power combined with the greatest simplicity in the means he employs.

Calvary 181
Mein Sünd mich werden kränken sehr.

[A Chorale of older date introduced by Händel in his second and last "Passion-Music." This work was written about 1716, during a visit paid by Händel to Germany, and is his last composition to German words. It was intended by him, not for performance, but to try his powers on a poem by Brockes, which had already been set to music by several composers.]

O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden.

[This tune was originally composed in 1601 to the words of a secular song, "Mein G'müth ist mir verwirret," for which Knoll's hymn, "Herzlich thut mich verlangen," was afterwards substituted. J. Seb. Bach inserted it in his "Passions-Musik" (1729) and adapted it to the hymn "O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden," by Paul Gerhardt (1653).]

Haydn, Franz Joseph, MUS.D., eldest son of Matthias Haydn, a wheelwright, was born 31 March, 1732, at Rohrau, a village in Lower Austria. At an early age he learned the elements of music from a relation named Frank, a schoolmaster at Haimburg, and at eight years of age was admitted into S. Stephen's, the Cathedral Church of Vienna, as a chorister. Here he remained for eight years, when, on the breaking of his voice, he received his dismissal, and for ten years led a life of poverty and privation. Meantime, his works began to attract notice, and in 1761 he was appointed Music-director to Prince Antony Esterhazy, a distinguished amateur at Vienna, in whose service, and in that of his successor, Prince Nicholas Esterhazy, he continued for nearly thirty years. During this period he composed most of those quartets and symphonies with which the history of modern instrumental music commences. Haydn, indeed, may be regarded as the inventor of both these species of compositions, which, during his own lifetime, were further developed by Mozart, and subsequently carried by Beethoven to the utmost limits as yet attained. On Prince Esterhazy's death in 1790, Haydn accepted an invitation from John Peter Salomon, manager of the subscription concerts in London, to visit England, where he remained for about a year and a-half, during which time (July, 1791) the University of Oxford conferred on him the degree of Doctor in Music. In 1794 he returned to London for the same length of time. During his residence in England he wrote six quartets and twelve of his finest symphonies, known as the Salomon set. There also he heard for the first time the works of Händel, and the impression he received from them had, no doubt, some share in inducing him to compose a work of the same class. After his return to Germany he commenced his greatest vocal work, "The Creation," finished in 1798, which was followed by "The Seasons" in 1801. During the latter years of his life Haydn resided at Gumpendorf, near Vienna, and died there on the 31st May, 1809.

His works are very numerous, comprising about 120 Symphonies, 83 instrumental Quartets, 44 Sonatas, 22 Operas, 19 Masses, 4 Oratorios, Trios and many smaller compositions. If Haydn has been surpassed by Mozart and Beethoven, his works are still models of purity, delicacy, and grace. To no one is art more deeply indebted. Breaking loose from the trammels of the old school, Haydn gave to music a new and more agreeable form, and laid the foundation of the modern orchestra.

[It is said that this melody was first written by Haydn to the words, "Gott erhalte Franz den Kaiser," when it was adopted as the national air of Austria. The composer afterwards introduced it in his quartet for stringed instruments (Op. 76, No. 3), where it is the slow movement with variations.]

Isaac, Heinrich, sometimes, but without sufficient reason, called Isaac of Prague, was born in Germany, about the middle of the fifteenth century. He was Chapelmaster of the Church of S. Giovanni, at Florence, about 1488, in the time of Lorenzo de' Medici, whose children he instructed in music. He appears to have remained at Florence for many years, and then, probably about 1510, to have entered the service of the Emperor Maximilian I. as Director of the Choir. The time of his death is uncertain. His works were very numerous, including many Masses and other compositions for the Church.

Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Felix Jacob Ludwig,

PH.D., son of a banker, Abraham Mendelssohn, and grandson of the celebrated Jewish philosopher, Moses Mendelssohn, was born at Hamburg, 3 Feb., 1809. After three years his family removed to Berlin, where, having at an early age displayed extraordinary ability in music, he received instruction in that art from Berger and Zelter, and pursued his general studies at the University. He soon attained to the highest rank among the musicians of his time, equally as a composer and a pianist. In 1826 he wrote the overture to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," to which the remainder of the music was added in 1843. In 1829 he visited England for the first time, and was received there with the greatest distinction. The next four years were spent in travelling through Italy, Switzerland, France, and England, and in 1834 he accepted the directorship of the concerts and theatre at Düsseldorf. It was here that he invented a new class of compositions for the pianoforte, entitled "Songs without words" (Lieder ohne Worte), of which several series afterwards appeared. From 1835 to 1843 Mendelssohn resided chiefly at Leipzig, as director of the Gewandhaus concerts. During this period he produced his first oratorio, "S. Paul," performed for the first time at Düsseldorf in 1836, his "Hymn of Praise" (Lobgesang), 1840, and other important works. In 1843, at the request of the King of Prussia, he removed to Berlin. There he remained two years, after which he returned to his former post at Leipzig, where he also undertook the direction of the Conservatoire lately established. In 1846, his greatest work, "Elijah," which alone, of modern compositions of the kind, can rival the masterpieces of Händel, was produced under his own direction at the Birmingham Musical Festival, for which it was written; and in the following year he returned to England for the seventh and last time to direct the performance of the same work in London. Soon afterwards, the death of a beloved sister, Madame Hess, caused a shock from which he never recovered.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—COMPOSERS.

His health had been for some time before impaired by overwork, and he died at Leipzig, 4 Nov., 1847. In 1836, the University of Leipzig conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor in Philosophy. His works include compositions of nearly every class, comprising Symphonies, Overtures, Quartets for stringed instruments, Concertos and other pieces for the pianoforte, Sonatas for the Organ, two Oratorios, Psalms, and much vocal music, secular and sacred. Shortly before his death he had commenced an opera ("Loreley"), but this, as well as a third Oratorio ("Christus"), was left unfinished. Besides the works named above, the following may also be more particularly mentioned: "The First Walpurgis Night," 1831, re-written in 1842, "Choruses for Racine's Athalie," 1843-44-45, "Music for Antigone," 1841, and for "Œdipus at Colonus," 1845. As a pianist and organist Mendelssohn was in the first rank. As a composer, he was learned without pedantry, his taste was pure and refined, and his aim was always directed to the elevation of the art which he professed.

Mozart, Johannes Chrysostomus Wolfgang Gottlieb (for which last name its Latin equivalent, "Amadeus," was afterwards substituted). The Raphael of music was the son of Leopold Mozart, an excellent musician, who held an appointment as composer and music-director in the service of the Archbishop of Salzburg. At this town Mozart was born on the 27th January, 1756. So great was his natural genius, and so early its development, that he began to compose at four years of age, and so extraordinary, under the careful direction of his father, was his progress in music, especially as a player on the clavier (the predecessor of the pianoforte), that between the years 1762 and 1766 his father made professional tours with him and an elder sister, and visited Vienna, Munich, Paris, and London. The Mozart family arrived in England in April, 1764, and remained there till the middle of 1765. The year 1770 was passed in Italy, where the young composer's powers caused the greatest astonishment. In 1778 he again spent some months in Paris, and returned in the following year to Salzburg, where he was appointed Court and Cathedral Organist, and produced between this time and 1780 most of his Masses, Litanies, and other compositions for the Church. In 1780 he wrote the opera "Idomeneo," which was produced at Munich early in the following year, and forms an epoch in the history of music from the novelty of its form and treatment. Not long afterwards, in consequence of the niggardly and unworthy manner in which he was treated by the Archbishop, he retired from the service of that prelate, and settled at Vienna. There, during the remaining ten years of his life, he produced works in every class of composition, as remarkable for their number as for their excellence. They include Symphonies (the finest of which, known as "The Jupiter," was written in 1788), Sonatas, Concertos, Quartets and other compositions for stringed instruments, Operas, and very many smaller works. Of his operas the most celebrated are "Le Nozze di Figaro," produced at Vienna in 1786, and "Il Don Giovanni," at Prague, in 1787. The last year of Mozart's life was one of the most prolific. In it he wrote, besides many other works, two operas ("Die Zauberflöte" and "La Clemenza di Tito"), the Motet, "Ave Verum Corpus," and his sublime Requiem Mass, on which he was employed almost up to the hour of his death. He died at Vienna on the 5th Dec., 1791. From every point of view Mozart may perhaps be regarded as the greatest composer that has yet appeared. He produced works of the highest excellence in every class of composition, vocal and instrumental. His learning was profound, his wealth of melody inexhaustible, his works are distinguished equally for power and for grace, for breadth and for finish, and no composer has produced so deep an effect on the music of his own and of succeeding generations.

Palestrina, Giovanni Pierluigi da, was born about 1524 at Palestrina, a town in the States of the Church, from which he derived his name. At Rome he studied music in the school established there in 1540 by Claude Goudimel. In 1551 he became Master of the children in the Chapel founded by Pope Julius II., and in 1555 was appointed by Julius III. a member of the choir of the Pontifical Chapel. Paul IV., however, who succeeded to the papacy in the same year, considering a married man to be ineligible for this post, dismissed Palestrina from the choir. He then became Chapel-master of the Church of S. John Lateran, and in 1561 of that of S. Maria Maggiore. For many years before this time the music of the Church had been gradually debased. It was overlaid with inappropriate embellishment and mere contrapuntal devices, or in many instances supplanted altogether by themes borrowed from secular music. In 1562, the Council of Trent resolved on a reformation of these abuses, and was at first disposed to forbid altogether the use of any music in the Church, excepting the Gregorian Chant. The genius of Palestrina saved his art from extinction. He had already written some works which, from their simplicity and devotional character, had produced a deep impression on those at Rome who heard them. The Roman Cardinals cited these works as evidence that the later improvements in musical science were not incompatible with the solemnity and purity demanded by ecclesiastical music, and Palestrina was commissioned to write a Mass which would fulfil the conditions imposed by the Council. In 1565 he produced three Masses, which excited universal admiration, and of which the third is known as the "Missa Papæ Marcelli," a name given to it by the composer in memory of his friend, Pope Marcellus II., who had succeeded Julius III. in 1555, but died after a reign of only twenty days. Palestrina was then named composer to the Apostolic Chapel. In 1571 he returned to his former post at S. Peters, and became also director of the music to the Oratory founded by S. Filippo Neri. He died at Rome 2 Feb., 1594. The works of Palestrina form an epoch in the history of music. He elevated it from a mere exercise of technical ingenuity to the rank of an art. His compositions for the Church, which are numerous, are essentially choral. No room is left for individual display, and the religious sentiment alone prevails. Some of Palestrina's works are still in use at S. Peter's, and in the Papal Chapel. Besides Church Music he also published some Books of Madrigals.

Pergolesi, Giovanni Battista, son of Francesco Andrea Pergolesi, was born at Jesi, in the Roman States, 3 Jan., 1710. The place and date of his birth have been disputed, but the discovery of the registry of his baptism has set the question at rest. At ten years of age he went to Naples, where he was admitted into the Conservatorio dei Poveri di Gesu-Cristo, and studied the violin under Domenico Mattei. His progress was so rapid that Mattei recommended him strongly to Gaetano Greco, then at the head of the Conservatorio di San-Onofrio, whose pupil he became. From the year 1731 Pergolesi wrote several operas, but excepting "La Serva Padrona," none were successful. He then for two years occupied himself exclusively with music for the Church, and composed also a number of Trios for stringed instruments. In 1734 he was appointed Chapel-master of the Church of Santa Maria di Loreto. In the following year he produced his opera "L'Olimpiade," at Rome, and, on its complete failure, returned to Loreto. Soon afterwards his health compelled him to seek a warmer climate, and he fixed his residence at Pozzuoli, near Naples. Here he wrote his celebrated "Stabat Mater," the cantata "Orfeo," and his "Salve Regina." He died on the 16 March, 1736. After his death his merits were appreciated, and his works performed with great success throughout Italy and France; but the neglect which he suffered during his lifetime led to somewhat too high an estimate being afterwards formed of his compositions. Those for the Church, though frequently admirable in expression, are not unfrequently imbued with the spirit of the Opera; and in setting the words, Pergolesi often disregards the rules of correct accentuation.

Ravenscroft's Psalter, 1621.

Thomas Ravenscroft was born in 1592, and was educated as a Chorister in S. Paul's Cathedral under Edmund Pearce. At fourteen years of age he took the degree of Bachelor in Music at Cambridge. In 1621 he published his "Whole Booke of Psalmes," after which nothing is known of him. He is supposed to have died before 1630.

His Psalter, of which a second edition appeared in 1633, contains 98 distinct tunes, of which 40, to which names were appended, had been recently composed, the rest, for the most part, being the usual "Church tunes," which were printed, for one voice only, in the Psalters of the day. The practice of calling tunes by the names of places seems to have been established in England by Ravenscroft, although it did not actually originate with him, as such names are found in the Scotch Psalter of 1615, and some are employed by Este in his Tune Books of 1592 and 1594, all the tunes in which are included in Ravenscroft's Book of Psalmes. A reprint of Ravenscroft's Psalter was published in 1845, with introductory remarks by the Rev. W. H. Havergal.

Reading, John. A notice of this musician in Dr. Philip Hayes's "Harmonia Wiccamica" says that on the death of Randolph Jewett he was appointed Organist of Winchester Cathedral in 1675, and resigned his post in 1681, to become, it is presumed, Organist of Winchester College; died in 1692. He composed the Election Grace, and the hymn "Dulce domum" for the scholars of the college.

He must be distinguished from another John Reading, probably his son, who was educated in the Chapel Royal under Dr. John Blow in the latter part of the 17th century, became a Lay-vicar and Master of the choristers in Lincoln Cathedral, was afterwards Organist of the parish church of S. John, Hackney; of S. Dunstan-in-the-West, and of S. Mary Woolnoth, London, and died between 1760 and 1770.

In 1544 he published a Tune-book for Schools, containing 123 tunes harmonized in four and five parts by fifteen of the most eminent composers of the time. The tune given here was harmonized in five parts by Johannes Stahl, and was set to the hymn "Nun lasst uns den Leib begraben." It was afterwards usually associated with Scheffler's hymn "Die Seele Christi heil'ge mich," 1657. There are some grounds for believing that Stahl composed the melody also.

Scotch (The) Psalter.

The version of the Psalms first used in Scotland after the Reformation was by John Wedderburn, a native of Dundee, whence his collection seems to have been sometimes known as the Dundee or Dundie Psalms. In 1556 a Form of Prayer was drawn up for the use of an English congregation at Geneva, of which John Knox and Goodman were appointed Co-Pastors. It contains 51 Psalms, of which 44 were, with some alterations, those published in England by Sternhold and Hopkins not long before. About 1560 this collection was introduced into Scotland with the number of the psalms increased to 87. The whole Psalter was published in 1564, and was based on that of Geneva. Of the subsequent editions the most important were those of 1595, 1615 (that of Andro Hart), and 1635. This Psalter continued in use till 1650, when it was superseded by the metrical version of the Psalms employed at the present time.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—COMPOSERS.

Smart, Henry, son of Mr. Henry Smart, an eminent musician and brother of Sir George Smart; born in London, 25 Oct., 1812; after receiving a commission in the Indian Army, which he did not accept, was articled to a solicitor, but finally adopted music as his profession, and studied chiefly under Mr. W. H. Kearns; was Organist of the parish church, Blackburn, in Lancashire, 1831-36, of St. Luke's, Old-street, London, 1844-64, and since then of the parish church of S. Pancras, Euston-square. He has published an Opera ("Bertha"), several Cantatas ("The Bride of Dunkerron," 1864, "King René's Daughter," 1871, and "Jacob," 1874), many Anthems, Services, Part-songs, Trios, Duets, Songs, and compositions for the organ. He has devoted much study to the mechanism of the Organ, and has designed several of the largest in England, one of them being that in the Town-hall of Leeds.

Smith, Isaac, Precentor of Alie-street Meeting-house, London, in the latter part of the eighteenth century. He published "A Collection of Psalm Tunes in three Parts," N.D. (cir. 1770.)

Abridge (cir. 1770) ... 275
[Marked in Smith's Collection as one of the tunes composed by himself.]

Smith, James Whitehead, son of Mr. Joseph Smith, born at Wells, Somersetshire, 10 July, 1827; educated at the Chapter Grammar School, Wells; studied from 1843 to 1848 at the Royal Academy of Music, London, of which he is an Honorary Member and Associate; Organist of Marlborough College, 1848-63, since which time he has been Organist of Wimborne Minster.

Easter Eve (1853) ... 326
[First published in the Rev. Dr. Maurice's "Choral Harmony," but was originally written for words in the Marlborough College Hymn Book, beginning "All is o'er, the pain, the sorrow," and sung in the College on Easter Eve.]

Smith, Robert Archibald, for many years Precentor of S. George's Church, Edinburgh; died in 1829.

Saint Mirven ... 201

Southgate, Thomas Bishop, son of Mr. William Southgate, born at Hornsey, Middlesex, 8 June, 1814; educated in the School of the Chapel Royal, where he was a chorister; studied harmony under Attwood and Goss, and the organ under Samuel Wesley; Organist of Hornsey Church from 1834 to 1853, and of St. Anne's, Highgate Rise, London, from that time until his death; died at Highgate, 3 Nov., 1868. He has published other hymn-tunes, and musical compositions of various kinds.

Southgate (cir. 1855) ... 134, tune ii.

Spohr, Louis, MUS. D., son of Karl Heinrich Spohr, a physician; was born at Brunswick, 5 April, 1784. In 1786 his family removed to Seesen, which has been sometimes erroneously believed to have been his birth-place. As in the case of most other great artists, his musical talent was apparent in his childhood, and the acquisition of a violin when he was five years of age laid the foundation of his future eminence as a performer on that instrument. He was at first intended by his father for the medical profession, but having obtained permission to follow that of music, went to Brunswick, where he studied Harmony under Hartung, and the violin under Kuniach and Maucourt. The Duke of Brunswick, who perceived Spohr's talent, gave him a post in the Court orchestra in 1799, and in 1802 placed him for a year under the tuition of Franz Eck, with whom he visited St. Petersburg. In 1805 he became Concert-director to the Court of Saxe-Gotha, and thenceforward spent a portion of almost every year in artistic tours through various parts of Europe. In 1822 he was appointed Director of the orchestra of the Court Theatre at Cassel, an office which he held till 1857, when he retired on a pension, and died at Cassel, 22 Oct., 1859. As a violinist, Spohr was one of the greatest of his time; and as a composer holds a high position, though he cannot, perhaps, be placed in the foremost rank. He cultivated with success almost every species of composition, and produced Operas (of which the principal are Faust, 1813, and Jessonda, 1823), Oratorios, 10 Symphonies, 34 String Quartets, one Pianoforte Sonata, Violin Concertos, and many other works. His best-known Oratorio is "The Last Judgment" (Die letzten Dinge), first produced at Cassel in 1826, and in England at Norwich in 1830. He also wrote, in 1835, "Calvary" (Des Heilands letzte Stunden), and in 1840, "The Fall of Babylon" (Der Fall Babels), which he composed for the Norwich Musical Festival of 1842. In 1847 he also set to music Milton's version of the 84th Psalm. Spohr possessed much originality, grace, and melody, but was deficient in breadth and in variety in the management of his subjects. His originality therefore degenerated in his later works into mannerism, his melody is sometimes cloying, and his fondness for intricacy of construction and for chromatic treatment not unfrequently produces a sense of monotony, and weakens the force of his conceptions.

Stevenson, Sir John Andrew, MUS. D., son of John Stevenson, a violinist in the State Band in Dublin; born in Dublin about 1762; educated as a chorister in the Cathedrals of Christ Church and S. Patrick, Dublin, of both which he was afterwards a Vicar Choral. He was also a member of the choir of the chapel of Trinity College, Dublin. He received the honorary degree of Doctor in Music from the University of Dublin in 1791, and in 1803* was knighted by Lord Hardwicke, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. He died 14 Sept., 1833, at the residence of his son-in-law, the Marquess of Headfort, near Kells, and was buried in Painstown church, county of Meath. He wrote some Anthems, Services, Glees, and other compositions; but is best known as the arranger and musical editor of the Irish Melodies for which the words were written by Thomas Moore.

Archangel 468
[The melody is believed to be of Russian origin. It was published under the name "Hark! the vesper hymn is stealing," in "Popular National Melodies," by Thomas Moore, arranged by Stevenson (1818).]

Stewart, Sir Robert Prescott, MUS. D., son of Mr. Charles Frederick Stewart, Librarian of the King's Inns, Dublin; born in Dublin, 16 Dec., 1825; educated in the school of Christ Church Cathedral, where he was one of the children of the choir, and became in 1844 the Organist; was appointed in the same year Organist of the chapel of Trinity College, and in 1852, a Vicar Choral of S. Patrick's Cathedral; took the degree of Doctor in Music at the University of Dublin in 1851, and was appointed University Professor in 1861; received Knighthood in 1872 from the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Earl Spencer; has been conductor to the University of Dublin Choral Society from 1846, and to the Philharmonic Society from 1873. Sir Robert Stewart's compositions, which are in almost every branch of the art, include two cantatas, "A Winter's Night's Wake" and "The Eve of St. John." His published works are chiefly Anthems, Services, Glees, and Songs. He is the musical editor of this edition of the Church Hymnal.

Sullivan, Arthur Seymour, son of Mr. Thomas Sullivan, a native of Cork; born in London 13 May, 1842; was a chorister in the Chapel Royal; studied music under Sir W. Sterndale Bennett at the Royal Academy of Music, London (where he gained the Mendelssohn Scholarship), and at the Conservatoire of Leipzig. Mr. Sullivan has published many compositions, both instrumental and vocal, including Symphonies, Overtures, Music to the "Tempest," and to the "Merchant of Venice," "The Light of the World," an Oratorio, produced at the Birmingham Festival in 1873, "The Prodigal Son," an Oratorio, a "Festival Te Deum," composed to celebrate the recovery of the Prince of Wales, 1872, Anthems, and numerous Songs. He was musical editor of the new Hymnal published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge.

Tallis, Thomas, born probably about 1520; admitted a Gentleman of the Chapel Royal before the death of Henry VIII. (1547); Organist* of the Chapel Royal in the reign of Elizabeth; died 23 Nov., 1585, and was buried in the parish church of Greenwich. Tallis may be regarded as the founder of the School of English Church composers. The Intonations and Responses which Merbecke had noted from Gregorian sources, and the Litany of Cranmer were harmonized by Tallis with remarkable ability. His "Cantiones Sacre" were published in 1575. He was also the composer of a well-known full service, which was printed for the first time in Barnard's Selected Church Music, 1641.

Tallis was one of the greatest musicians of his time, and his works are distinguished for gravity of style, purity of harmony, and masterly contexture of the parts.

Tallis's Canon (1565) 10
[One of the eight tunes by Tallis in "The Whole Psalter translated into English Metre." The translation is by Archbishop Parker. Some authorities assign the date 1560 to this Psalter. Tallis's tune was written in strict Canon, two in one, but was afterwards altered in many collections, where it appeared as the "Evening Hymn," with its construction completely changed.]

Webbe, Samuel, born in 1740 in Minorca, where his father held a government appointment. His father having died suddenly, leaving his family unprovided for, he was at first apprenticed to a cabinet-maker, but, on the expiration of his indentures, commenced to study music, in which he received his first instruction from Barbandt, Organist of the Bavarian Chapel, London; and afterwards, under circumstances of great difficulty, acquired a considerable knowledge of several foreign languages. He died in London, 1816. He was distinguished as a composer of Glees, and also wrote Masses, Anthems, Songs, etc.

Württemberg Gesangbuch.

The first Württemberg Hymn Book was published in 1583, and authorized to be used in the churches. A new edition with a supplement was published in 1664, and an enlarged edition in 1711. In the same year Johann Georg Christian Störl published his Choralbuch, which contains the tune "Stuttgart." Meanwhile collections of hymns multiplied inconveniently and a new hymn book was therefore compiled and published in 1741, which was superseded in 1791 by another. General dissatisfaction having been expressed with the latter, a committee was appointed in 1837, which compiled the present book in 1839. Having been submitted to the Synod of the Church, and revised, it was published in 1842 and contains 651 hymns.

Dwight, Timothy, D.D., LL.D. See page 8.
Son of Timothy Dwight; born 14 May, 1752; graduated at Yale College in 1769, when he took charge of a grammar school at New Haven; appointed a tutor of his College in 1771; became a Congregational preacher in 1777, and served with the army as a chaplain in that and the following year; ordained Pastor of the Congregational church at Greenfield, Connecticut, 1783; died at New Haven. He published an epic poem, "The Conquest of Canaan" (1785), and several volumes of poetry. His most important prose works appeared after his death.

The hymns "Brunn alles Heils" and "O Majestät" are from the fourth edition of Geistliches Blumen-gärtlein, published cir. 1740.

Werner, Georg. See page 23.
He edited the Königsberg hymn book, and published a metrical version of 100 Psalms, which appeared, 50 in 1638, and 50 in 1643. The hymn "Der du, Herr Jesu, Ruh und Rast," has been usually, but erroneously, ascribed to Georg Werner, Professor of Law at the University of Helmstädt, Brunswick, who was born at Bopfinger, Württemberg, 1 Aug., 1608, and died 28 Sept., 1671.

Whately, Richard, D.D. See page 24.
The verse added by Archoishop Whately to Heber's hymn, "God that madest earth and heaven," was probably suggested by the Compline Antiphon "Salva nos, Domine, vigilantes, custodi nos dormientes, ut vigilemus in Christo et requiescamus in pace."

Bickersteth, Edward Henry. See page 4.

Mr. Bickersteth has also published The Shadowed home, and the Light beyond; Yesterday, To-day, and For ever, a poem; and The two Brothers, and other poems. Eighteen of his hymns are included in the last-named work.

The 3rd stanza of the hymn "Lord, shall Thy children come to Thee" was added to it by Mr. Buckoll, in 1843, for the Rugby School Chapel Hymn-book. The other stanzas are by Bishop Hinds.

Campbell, Miss J. M. See page 5.

We plough the fields and scatter ... 455
[To this translation the following original stanza, first published in the Record newspaper in 1875, has been added by the Rev. Henry Downton, to supply the want in the hymn of some expressions distinctly Christian:

Our souls, blest Saviour, gather—
Wheat for the golden floor,
Where angels are the reapers,
And saints the harvest store:
There glad, and safe, and glorious,
While endless ages run,
The first fruits of creation
Shall hymn the great Three-One.
All Thy works shall praise Thee
In earth, and sea, and sky;
Thy saints make known, around Thy throne,
Thy majesty!

Downton, Henry. See page 8.

Mr. Downton has also contributed original hymns to the Day of Rest (1875-76), and added a stanza to Miss Campbell's translation "We plough the fields and scatter." See page 5.

How, William Walsham. See page 12.

The hymn "For all Thy Saints who from their labours rest" appeared in Lord Nelson's Hymn for Saints' days, and other Hymns, by a Layman (1864).

The hymn "This day by Thy creating word" was altered in the enlarged edition of Morell and How's Psalms and Hymns (1864). The first line originally stood "This day the Light, of heavenly birth."

Ken, Thomas, D.D. See page 13.

The recent discovery in the Bodleian library of an edition of the Manual of Prayers dated 1695, and containing Bishop Ken's hymns, shows that they were added to that work two years earlier than has been hitherto supposed. The edition of 1697 seems to be merely a reprint of that of 1695, with the date altered.

Nelson, Earl. See page 17.

Lord Nelson's hymn "From all Thy saints in warfare" was suggested by "Ye saints in blest communion," a hymn by Dr. Monsell published in his Hymns of Love and Praise for the Church's year (1863). It appeared in Hymn for Saints' days, and other Hymns, by a Layman (1864).

Anonymous. See page 26.

The tune "Jubilee" is also known as "Beverley." In "The Psalms and Hymns of Isaac Watts, abridged for vocal use with music," edited by Mr. G. H. Davidson and Mr. James Brabham, this tune, under the title "Beverley," is erroneously ascribed to E. Hawkins, having been mistaken for a tune of the same name composed for the "Psalmist" (1835). In some collections it has been confounded with the "Old 148th," to which it only bears a slight resemblance.

Atkinson, Frederick Cook. See page 27.

Beaty, Richard William. To page 28.

Son of Mr. William Beaty; born in Dublin; educated in Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin; appointed about 1824 Organist and Musical Instructor of the blind women of the Molyneux Asylum, Organist of the Free Church, Great Charles-street, 1828, an appointment he still holds, and Master of the choristers in Christ Church Cathedral from 1830 to 1872. He has written several songs and other works, and composed or arranged for the Sequel to Weyman's Melodia Sacra many of the Psalm and Hymn-tunes published in that work.

Caritas (1830)... 317, tune ii.

Carey, Henry. See page 30.

The tune "Surrey" is found with Carey's name, in John Church's Psalmody (1723). The melody alone is given, with a figured bass. It is set to Addison's version of the 23rd Psalm.

Croft, William, Mus. D. See page 30.

The tune known as "S. Anne's" appears in Barber's Book of Psalm Tunes in the following form, arranged in four parts, with the melody assigned to the tenor. It is there named "Leeds tune," and ascribed to "Mr. Denby"—

LEEDS TUNE.

MR. DENBY.

Barber's book was licensed 14 February, 1687, but the only edition of it now known is the "seventh, with additions," 1715. If "Leeds tune" was in Barber's collection, when first compiled, it cannot be by Croft, who was born in 1677, and there seems no reason for supposing that it was added afterwards. Even so, it is not likely that a tune by a composer of Croft's eminence would have been ascribed to another. It is to be remarked that Barber's collection contains two other tunes, "Hallifax" and "Leverpool," ascribed to Denby, and that these three are the only tunes among the twenty-nine in the book to which a composer's name is appended. Also, that the last six pages, which are certainly "additions," contain, besides an anthem by Robert King, a Morning and Evening Hymn and an anthem by Jeremiah Clark, Croft's fellow-organist at the Chapel Royal, an anthem by Croft himself. The names of these composers are all given, and as Croft is described as "Mr." this addition must have been made to Barber's collection before 1713, when Croft took the degree of Doctor.

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—ADDENDA.

The tune appears in the sixth and enlarged edition of the "Supplement" to Tate and Brady's Psalms, 1708, set to the 42nd Psalm, under the name of S. Anne's tune, and arranged for two voices.

ST. ANNE'S TUNE.

"Supplement," 1708.

It is here anonymous, but was probably added to the Supplement by Croft, who is believed to have been the editor of that work.

It is also found, ascribed to Croft, in John Church's "Introduction to Psalmody," 1723. Church was a Gentleman of the Chapel Royal when Croft was organist, but while some doubt respecting the authorship of the tune may continue to exist until an early edition of Barber's collection is discovered, it seems on the whole the more probable belief that "Leeds tune" by Denby was re-arranged by Croft, and became thenceforward ascribed to the latter under the name of "S. Anne."

Croft was organist of S. Anne's, Westminster, until 1711, whence the tune probably derived its new name.

An organ fugue by J. S. Bach is known in England as "St. Anne's fugue," but this is a misnomer, as the subject of the fugue is not S. Anne's tune, but its first strain only, which, as has been remarked above (p. 30), is considerably older than the tune.

Curteis, Elizabeth Anna. See page 31.

The "Morning Hymn," as originally published, consisted of the melody, with an accompaniment for the pianoforte. It is here harmonized by Sir Robert Stewart.

Dayman, Edward Arthur. See page 7.

Mr. Dayman also contributed many hymns to "The Hymnary" (1872).

Dickinson, Charles John. See page 32.

Consolation 23, tune II.
[This tune was originally the concluding chorale of a sacred Cantata named "Consolation," which is still unpublished. It first appeared in the "Church Hymnal" (1874).]

Stillorgan or Hursley 172, tune II.
[From "Chants Chrétiens" (1834), where it is called "Air Allemand." The name "Stillorgan" was given to it when it was inserted in the Sequel to Weyman's Melodia Sacra. In England the tune is known as "Hursley" from having been adopted by Mr. Keble as the melody to which he sung his hymn "Sun of my soul." It is, however, not very well suited to this hymn.]

Goss, Sir John, MUS. D. See page 34.
Received the degree of Doctor in Music from the University of Cambridge, 1876.

Greek Air. See page 35.

This air formed the musical illustration of the words "List! 'tis a Grecian maid that sings" in "A Melologue upon National Music" by Thomas Moore. The Melologue was written in 1811 for a benefit at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, where it was recited by Miss Smith.

Greene, Maurice, MUS. D. See page 35.

The tune "S. Luke" is attributed in Dr. Edward Miller's "Psalms of David" (1790) to George Green.

Händel, Georg Friedrich. See page 35.

According to Dr. Chrysander the "Te Deum," in A, and the Anthems "Let God arise," in A, and "O praise the Lord, ye angels of His," which are usually classed among the works written for the Duke of Chandos, are compositions of a later date. Dr. Chrysander also includes an arrangement of the Utrecht "Jubilate," "O be joyful in the Lord," among the Chandos anthems, thus making them eleven in number.

Hayes, William, MUS. D. See page 37.

The version of Hayes's Chant given here is an abridgment by Mr. A. H. D. Troyte.

Hymn of the Antient Irish Church. See page 38.

In the following arrangement of the tune "S. Columba" the melody is given as published by Dr. Petrie, and harmonies suitable to its character are added by Sir Robert Stewart.

Born at Medfield, Massachusetts; resided at Savannah, Georgia, from 1811 to 1827, when he settled in Boston.

The tune "Rockingham" appears in Miller's "Psalms of David," 1790. The composer's name is not given, but the heading states "Part of the melody taken from a hymn tune."

Pergolesi, Giovanni Battista. See page 43.

It is difficult to ascertain with accuracy the facts of this composer's life. The statement that he was appointed in 1734 Chapel-master of the church of "Notre-Dame" or "Santa Maria" at Loreto is made on the authority of Fétis and others, but seems open to doubt. The church at Loreto is properly named the church of the "Santa Casa," not of "Santa Maria." Villarosa says nothing of Pergolesi's having held any such appointment, and the fact that there were then in Naples four schools of music, one of which was called that of "Santa Maria di Loreto," renders it not unlikely that it was with this institution, and not with the church at Loreto, that Pergolesi was connected.

The tune "S. Salvador" was first published at Rome with three others. It was originally named "Trinity."

Son of Mr. George Agnew Reay; born at Hexham, Northumberland; educated in Durham Cathedral, where he was a chorister, and graduated Bachelor in Music at the University of Oxford in 1871; was Organist of S. Peter's church, Tiverton, Devonshire, 1847-54, of the Parish church, Hampstead, of S. Saviour's, Warwick-road, Paddington, and of S. Stephen's, Westbourne-park Road, London, successively, 1854-59, appointed Organist and Precentor of S. Peter's College, Radley, 1859, Organist and Choir-master of the Parish church, Bury, Lancashire, 1861, and in 1864, Organist and Master of the Song School of the Parish church, Newark-on-Trent. Mr. Reay has published a Service, Anthems, many Part-songs, some Songs, and other compositions, and has contributed several Hymn-tunes to Choppe's "Congregational Hymn and Tune Book," 1862, to "The Hymnary," 1872, to "Tunes New and Old," and to other collections.

Received the degree of Doctor in Music from the University of Cambridge in 1876.

The tune "Yorkshire," with Byrom's words in full, appears in "A Collection of Psalm tunes, Anthems, Hymns, and Chants for one, two, three, and four voices, composed by Mr. John Wainwright, organist of the Collegiate Church at Manchester." The first five lines of each stanza were originally set "for two voices" (s.b.), the last line for "chorus" (s.a.t.b.).

The title of this collection is "Kirchen Gesäng, aus dem Wittenbergischen, und allen andern den besten Gesangbüchern, so bisz anhero hin und wider ausgangen, colligirt und gesamlet, in eine feine, richtige und gute Ordnung gebracht, etc. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt-am-Mayn, bey Joan. Wolff, 1569." It contains 61 hymns of the Brethren, 26 by Nicolaus Hermann, 14 by Burkard Waldis, and 88 Psalms by Johannes Magdeburg.

Mein Sünd'mich werden kränken sehr.

(This tune is found first in Wolff's Gesangbuch, and is also in Schein's Cantional, 1627, as well as in other collections, set to Nicolaus Hermann's hymn "Wenn mein Stündlein vorhanden ist." It was afterwards harmonized by Händel, and inserted in his "Passion-music" of 1716, set to the words "Mein Sünd'mich werden kränken sehr," with which the second stanza of Hermann's hymn commences. The tune is given here with Händel's harmonies, arranged by Sir Robert Stewart.]

Born at Norwich, in 1826; was a chorister in Norwich Cathedral under Dr. Buck, whose assistant he afterwards became; was organist at Morpeth, and lastly, for many years, of S. Paul's Church, Brighton; died at Brighton, 29 April, 1870. Three hymn-tunes, of which Newminster Abbey is one, were contributed by him to "Christ Church Hymns," edited by Mr. George Smith, 1861. These hymns, with three others and a "Magnificat," were published, under the editorship of Mr. Alfred King, after Mr. White's death.

Son of Major Nicholas Brady; was a King's Scholar at Westminster School; entered Christ Church, Oxford, 30 Dec., 1678, but it is uncertain how long he remained at that University, as the College books for the years 1680 to 1694, inclusive, are missing. It is also unknown in what year he was admitted a member of Trinity College, Dublin, no records of entrances having been kept there at that time. It is, however, almost certain that he was a Sizar. He graduated Bachelor of Arts at Dublin in 1685, Master of Arts in the following year, and Bachelor and Doctor in Divinity in 1699. His first clerical appointments were in his native county, but in 1690 he settled in London, and, after holding other preferments, became Vicar of Richmond and Rector of Clapham, both in Surrey.

Cotterill, Thomas. See page 7.
Graduated at Cambridge in 1801; took Holy Orders in 1806; became Minister to the church at Lane End, 1808; Perpetual Curate of S. Paul's, Sheffield, 1817.

Dix, William Chatterton. See page 8.
Mr. Dix is also the author of Altar Songs, 1867 (2nd ed. 1868), and of a small volume entitled Hymns of Love and Joy, printed for private circulation.

Fawcett, John, D.D. See page 9.
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing ... 59
[This hymn, in three stanzas, is first found in the third edition of Conyers's Collection of Psalms and Hymns from various Authors for the use of serious and devout Christians, 1774. It is also (slightly altered) in Toplady's Psalms and Hymns, 1776, in a Collection of Hymns, etc., Edinburgh, 1778, in Simpson's Collection of Psalms and Hymns, 2nd ed., Macclesfield, 1780, and in the fourth edition of Harris's Collection of Hymns for Public Worship, York, 1780. In these collections the hymn is anonymous. In a Selection of Psalms for Social Worship, York, A. Ward, 1786, the 1st and 2nd stanzas are found ascribed to Fawcett, and in the 7th edition of Harris's Collection, Hull, 1791, the hymn appears with Fawcett's name appended. It is also ascribed to him in a Collection of Hymns for Christian Worship, Dublin, 1800.

Some doubt has been thrown on the authorship of the hymn from its not having been included in the collection published by Fawcett in 1782 (new ed. 1827), but this argument is alone of little weight. Other hymns by Fawcett, including three in the "Gospel Magazine" for February, 1777, were not reprinted by him, and it is most unlikely that the editors of the Selection of 1786 and of the 7th ed. of Harris's Collection (both Yorkshire publications) were mistaken in ascribing the "Dismissal Hymn" to Fawcett, himself a native of Yorkshire, and residing at Waingate at the time.

* It is not in the first edition, 1774.

A hymn, in one double stanza of eight lines, with chorus of two lines, and written in imitation of Fawcett's hymn, is found in Dr. Hawker's Psalms and Hymns for the Sunday School in the Parish Church of Charles, Plymouth (9th ed., N.D., 11th ed., 1801). The first line of this hymn is borrowed from Fawcett, but the remainder is wholly different. It is found also, but with considerable alterations, in the Rev. Edward Smyth's Collection, Manchester, 1793. Of these two versions that of Hawker seems to be the older, and is possibly by Hawker himself. It is ascribed to him in Baring-Gould's Life of the Rev. R. S. Hawker, where, however, Mr. Baring-Gould has inadvertently quoted the hymn with Fawcett's text, which is found indeed in the latest edition of the Charles Collection (1867), but was then introduced in it for the first time by the editor, the Rev. H. A. Greaves.

If the eight-line stanza is by Dr. Hawker, it must have appeared in his Collection before 1793. He became Vicar of Charles in 1784, and the Sunday School was established in 1787.

The double verse, as in Hawker's Collection, is found also in Select Psalms and Hymns. A New Edition, Macclesfield, 1795, and this volume (a new, and much altered, edition of Simpson's Collection) contains Fawcett's hymn as well.

Hawker's version appears also in the Rev. Isaac Nicholson's Collection, London, 2nd ed., 1811, and in Bailey's Sion's Melody, 1813, with the addition of a second double stanza.

Another imitation of Fawcett's hymn, commencing with the same first line, was written by the Rev. Henry J. Buckoll for the Rugby School Chapel Hymn-book.]

[The three hymns given here from Kempthorne's Collection are found in Psalms, Hymns, and Anthems for the Foundling Chapel, 1796. They are there anonymous.]

King, John. See page 13.

Incumbent of Christ Church, Hull; died 12 Sept., 1858, in the 70th year of his age. Gwyther's "Psalmist" contains one psalm and four hymns marked J. King. In a copy of the "Psalmist," with MS. notes by the editor, these hymns are assigned to "Joshua King, Vicar of Hull;" but the person meant by Mr. Gwyther must have been the Incumbent of Christ Church, no one named King having held the Vicarage of Hull. Mr. King published several sermons and other works, and edited a volume of Hymns and Poems by a lady (M. A. Bodley), entitled "Original Hymns on Scripture Texts and other Poems." London, 1840.

[This hymn is given here as it appeared originally in Hymns and Sacred Poems, 1740. In the "Large Hymn Book," 1780, for the first stanza another was substituted, of which the first line is "O disclose Thy lovely face," and which forms the second stanza of the hymn "Lord, how long, how long shall I," also in Hymns and Sacred Poems, 1740. In 1762 Charles Wesley published another hymn, commencing with the line "Christ, Whose glory fills the skies," but which is in other respects wholly different. This hymn also is in the Wesleyan Collection of 1780, and it was probably to avoid the confusion that might arise from two different hymns having their first lines exactly alike that the first stanza of one of them was changed by John Wesley. With this alteration the hymn appeared in all editions of the Wesleyan Collection, issued by the Conference, until 1874, but in the new edition of 1875 the original text has been restored.]

It may not be uninteresting to note that the first metrical version of the Book of Psalms published in America was printed at Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1640, by Stephen Daye, doubtless a member of the family of John Daye. This, known as the "Bay Psalm Book," is believed to have been the first book of any kind printed in North America.

Franc, Guillaume. See page 33.

The dates assigned, in page 33, to the successive additions to the Genevan Psalter are those of the editions in which the psalms first appeared with music. The words alone of the thirty-four psalms first added by Beza (of which the 134th psalm was one) were published in 1551. The next six appeared in 1554 in the same edition in which the preceding thirty-four psalms are first found with music, but the words only are given, with references to tunes set to other psalms in the volume. The following is a list of the psalms as they seem to have successively appeared, with music, in the Genevan Psalter.

1542. Thirty psalms by Marot: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 19, 22, 24, 32, 37, 38, 51, 103, 104, 113, 114, 115, 130, 137, 143. This edition contained also five psalms, probably by Calvin (25, 36, 46, 91, 138), which were replaced in the following year by new versions of them by Marot.

1543. Nineteen psalms added by Marot: 18, 23, 25, 33, 36, 43, 45, 46, 50, 72, 79, 86, 91, 101, 107, 110, 118, 128, 138. Marot's psalms are sometimes quoted as fifty in number; the Song of Simeon is then counted.

1554. Thirty-four psalms added by Beza: 16, 17, 20, 21, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 34, 35, 39, 40, 41, 42, 44, 47, 73, 90, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 129, 131, 132, 133, 134. The same edition contains the following six psalms without tunes, but with references to tunes set to other psalms: 52, 57, 63, 64, 65, 111.

1559. One psalm without music: 67.

1562. The complete Psalter.

Old Hundredth ... 39
[The 134th Psalm was one of the thirty-four psalms added to the Genevan Psalter by Beza in 1554. Its first line is "Or sus serveurs du Seigneur." The original form of the melody is as follows:—

The "Old Hundredth" is found in Daye's Psalter, 1562.]

Stillorgan or Hursley ... 172, tune ii.
[Dr. Rimbault states ("Notes and Queries" for 11th April, 1866) that in a ms. collection of German chorales in his possession this tune is ascribed to Peter Ritter, 1772. The original is set to a metrical version of the "Te Deum" in iambic measure, seven. In some German collections also it is assigned to the same composer. Peter Ritter was born at Mannheim about 1760, was a pupil of the Abbé Vogler, and for many years held the appointment of Music-Director in his native town, where he died 31 July, 1846.]

Giardini, Felice. See page 34.

Moscow ... 109, 192, tune ii.
[This tune, under the name of "Trinity," is in "A Collection of Psalm and Hymn Tunes, never published before." From a note at the foot of the title-page it appears that this collection was published for the benefit of the Lock Hospital. The preface is dated 1769, and signed "M. Madan." As originally written, the 7th and 8th bars are in unison.]

Gibbons, Orlando, MVS. D. See page 34.

Angels (1643) ... 229
[This is one of the tunes set by Gibbons to George Wither's "Hymns and Songs of the Church," 1643, where it is found in three different forms. It is in two parts, Treble and Bass, and in common time. In modern versions of the tune both its rhythm and the melody of the first strain have been altered. It obtained the name of "Angels' Song Tune" from the words of one of the hymns to which it was set, and of which the subject was taken from S. Luke's Gospel, ii. 13.]

Gibbons (1643) ... 49
[This tune, named "Norwich" in some collections, is also from Wither's "Hymns and Songs of the Church," 1643.]

Gilbert, Walter Bond, MUS. B. See page 34.
Successively Organist of Topsham, Devonshire; of Tunbridge, of Maidstone, and of Lee, Kent; afterwards of Boston, Lincolnshire; graduated Bachelor in Music, 1854.

Händel, Georg Friedrich. See page 36.
Händel's three original hymn-tunes were discovered in the Fitzwilliam Library, Cambridge, by Samuel Wesley, who gives the following account of their origin: "The late comedian, Rich, was also the proprietor of Covent Garden Theatre during the period when Handel conducted his Oratorios at that house. He married a person who became a serious character, after having been a very contrary one, and who requested Handel to set to music the three hymns which I transcribed in the Fitzwilliam Library, from the autograph, and published them in consequence." These tunes were originally written for Treble and Bass only. Wesley published them in "The Psalmist," with the addition of inner parts. Havergal dates the tunes "circa 1742," but this is certainly too early, as the words of none of the hymns for which they were composed had then appeared. The hymn "O love divine" was published in 1749, and the tunes were probably written about 1750.

Alléluia dulce carmen.
[This tune is the "Tantum ergo" in S. Webbe's First Mass in A, published in "A Collection of Modern Church Music, consisting of Masses, &c., by Webbe, Paxton, Ricci, and Dr. Arne," 1791, where it is in two parts, Treble and Bass. It seems, however, to have been merely borrowed by Webbe from some other composer, as in his "Collection of Motetts or Antiphons," published in 1792, it appears as a separate movement, in four parts, and anonymous, while all his own compositions in the volume have his name appended to them. It is ascribed by some to Michael Haydn.]

[Leoni, the singer, after whom this tune was named, was the master of the celebrated John Braham.]

Isaac, Heinrich. See page 38.
Innsbrück ... 29, 408
Nun ruhen alle Wälder.
[This was at first a secular melody to the words "Innsbrück ich muss dich lassen." It was afterwards set to the hymn by Johann Hesse; "Owelt ich muss dich lassen," and finally to Paul Gerhardt's hymn "Nun ruhen alle Wälder," with which it has remained associated.]

Josephi, Georg. See page 38.
Angelus ... 19
[The third strain of this tune has been formed by writing the corresponding strain of Josephi's tune backwards. The fourth strain is constructed out of material afforded by the concluding portion of the original, which forms a sort of coda, and is in common time.]

Kirbye, George. See page 39.
Windsor, or Old 116th ... 51, 345 [Whatever may be the original source of this melody, it seems probable (as the Rev. Henry Parr has pointed out in his "Church of England Psalmody") that it was immediately derived by Kirbye from Dr. Christopher Tye's setting of "The Actes of the Apostles, translated into Englyshe Metre, with notes to each Chapter," 1553; where the third chapter opens with a passage which is identical with the first strain of 'Windsor,' and concludes with the last half of that tune.]

Knapp, William. See page 39.
Wareham ... 31
[This tune is found in "A Sett of New Psalm Tunes and Anthems" by William Knapp, London, 1738.]

Lampe, Johann Friedrich. To page 39.
Born, 1693, in Saxony, where he studied music at Helmstadt; settled in London about 1725 as a bassoon player in the opera band; composed many single songs, and set to music several operas, the best known of which is Henry Carey's burlesque opera "The Dragon of Wantley;" was also the author of a treatise on Thorough-bass. He died in Edinburgh, where he had gone to reside the year before, in July, 1751, and a hymn upon his death is found among Charles Wesley's "Funeral Hymns," 1759.

Saint Luke ... 69
[This tune appeared in "Hymns on the Great Festivals and other occasions," London, printed for M. Cooper, 1746.* This collection, which consists of melodies only, with a figured bass, set to twenty-four hymns by Charles Wesley, is without the name of either the author or the composer, but on the title-page of the second edition, issued in 1753, after Lampe's death, it is stated that the work may be obtained "at Mrs. Lampe's lodging," and in a letter of C. Wesley's, dated Dec. 11, 1746, the following passage occurs: "Tell Mrs. Dewal not to mind that envious gentleman who slandered Lampe. His tunes are universally admired here among the musical men, and have brought me into high favour among them."

This tune was originally set to the hymn "Sinners, obey the Gospel word." It is known also by the names "Invitation" and "Devonshire," and has been frequently ascribed erroneously sometimes to George Greene†, sometimes to Dr. Maurice Greene. George Greene may have been the first to harmonize Lampe's melody, of which he was thence believed to be the composer. There seem to be no grounds for supposing that Dr. Greene had any connection whatever with the tune.

The original key is E flat. The melody of the first bar is now restored as written by Lampe:—

Langdon, Richard, MUS. B. See page 39.
Son of the Rev. Tobias Langdon, Priest Vicar of Exeter Cathedral; graduated Bachelor in Music at Oxford in 1761; was Organist and Subchanter of Exeter Cathedral until 1777; Organist of Armagh Cathedral from 1782 to 1794.

Lausanne Choral Book. See page 39.
The correct title of this collection is "Psaumes et Cantiques pour les Assemblées de Culté et pour l'édification privée," Lausanne, 1851 (5ème ed. 1872). It was formed for the use of the "Eglise évangélique libre du Canton de Vaud."

Saint Faith ... 394
[This tune, as altered by Dr. Rimbault from Cantique 26 in the Lausanne collection, was published in "Psalms and Hymns for Divine Worship," London, Nisbet, 1867, under the name of "Broadlands." Its name was changed to "S. Faith" in the "Church Hymnal." It is stated in the Lausanne collection to be derived from the "Recueil de la Confession d'Augsbourg." The tune is found in "Cantiques sacrez pour les principales solemnitez des chrétiens," etc. Casael, 1740.]

* Incorrectly quoted 1745 in Dibdin's "Standard Psalm Tune Book."

† Nothing is known of this person. Some editors have called him a son of Dr. Greene, but Dr. Greene had no son.

Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit.

[This melody has undergone much alteration at the hands of successive editors. The reading adopted here for the end of the second, fourth, and seventh strains is modern, and was introduced first by Mr. Braham. All the earlier versions of the tune read:—

Madan, Martin. See page 40.

His original tunes, thirty-three in number, and his adaptations, are in "A Collection of Psalm and Hymn Tunes, never published before," 1769, commonly known as the "Lock Collection."

Mason, Lowell, MUS. D. See page 40.

Son of Mr. Johnson Mason.

Saint Augustine 139
[The last three bars of Dr. Mason's tune "Lathrop" were altered in Mercer's Psalter.]

Milgrove, Benjamin. See page 41.

He published "Sixteen Hymns as they are sung at the Right Honourable the Countess of Huntingdon's Chapel in Bath, set to Music. Book I.," N. D. (cir. 1769); "Twelve Hymns, etc. Book 2nd," 1771; "Twelve Hymns, etc. Book III.," 1781. The tune "Hart's" is in the first collection, set to the hymn "Brethren, let us join to bless."

Aynhoe 377
[This tune is attributed by some editors to Dr. Nares, but does not appear under his name in any of the older collections. It is an altered form of a tune named "Haynor," assigned by Dibdin (Standard Psalm Tune Book) to "Christopher Clark, from Vocal Harmony, 1745," and which is also found, without name of composer, in Abraham Milner's "Psalm Singer's Companion," 1751.]

Nicolai, Philipp. See page 42.

Wie schön leuchtet uns der Morgenstern.
[This is said to have been originally a secular melody. It is found, in a different and more concise form, in "Wolff's Gesangbuch," † 1869, where it is set to "Leuchtet dem Herren alle Lande" (Ps. 100), and in "Gesangbuchein," Bonn, 1877, set to "Hilf mir, Gott, durch den Namen" (Ps. 34). Nicolai appears to have merely recast and expanded the tune to suit his own hymn, published in 1899 (see page 17).]

* This work was published without music in 1636.

Helmaley 76, tune ii.

[This, as a hymn tune, seems to have first appeared in Wesley's "Select Hymns with Tunes annexed," 2nd ed., 1765, where it is named "Olivers," and is set to the hymn "Lo! He comes, with clouds descending," with a reference to "Come, Thou Conqueror of the nations." It is not in the first edition, 1761, nor does that edition contain either of the above-named hymns, or any hymn in the same metre. "Guardian Angels," from which "Olivers" or "Helmaley" was adapted, must therefore have existed as a popular song for several years before the production of the "Golden Pippin," which was written in 1771 and first acted in 1773. "Guardian Angels" was not originally in the burletta, but was introduced in it in 1776 with new words, replacing a song set to a melody of Giordani's. The dance tune from which "Olivers" is often supposed to have been derived is itself another, and probably later, adaptation from "Guardian Angels." The name "Helmaley" is taken from the parish of that name in Yorkshire, of which Dr. Conyers, the compiler of "A Collection of Psalms and Hymns from various Authors for the use of serious and devout Christians" (1st ed., 1767), was Vicar.

The words of "Guardian Angels," with some differences in the text, are considerably older than 1765, and were originally published under the title of "The Forsaken Nymph, a new Song," with a melody wholly different from that from which "Helmaley" is adapted.]

Scotch (The) Psalter. See page 45.

The tunes in the earlier editions of this Psalter were all "Proper," or appropriated each to a particular psalm. A 'Common Tune,' or tune not assigned to special words, had however been also long in use, and in the Psalter of 1615 this (known as "Old Common Tune") and eleven other "Common Tunes" were inserted, and distinguished by names derived from places. Two more Common Tunes were added in 1633, three in 1634, and in the edition of 1635 the number was made up to thirty-one. In this last edition also the tunes appear harmonized for the first time.

Ayr (1560) 210, tune ii.
[This was originally the Proper Tune set to the 71st Psalm, and first appeared in the Psalter published in 1560.]

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—ADDENDA.

Smith, Isaac. See page 46.

Smith's Collection passed through several editions, all without date. The first of these was issued probably about 1770; the fifth, much enlarged by S. Major, certainly after 1787, as it contains a reference to Rippon's Collection, published in that year. The tunes composed by Smith himself are marked by an asterisk, and are twenty-nine in number. His collection contains also two original anthems.

Smith, Robert Archibald. See page 46.

Born of Scottish parents at Reading, Berkshire, in 1780; Precentor of the Abbey Church, Paisley; afterwards of S. George's Church, Edinburgh. He published "Sacred Music sung in St. George's Church, Edinburgh," 1825.

Stanley, Samuel. See page 47.

Born in 1767; Precentor of Carr's-lane Congregational Chapel, Birmingham; died in 1822. He published "Twenty-four Tunes in four parts, composed chiefly to Dr. Watts's Psalms and Hymns," N. D.; "Nineteen Psalm, Hymn, and Charity Hymn Tunes," N. D.; and other works. A collection entitled "Sacred Music, comprising Twenty New Psalm and Hymn Tunes by the late Mr. Samuel Stanley," N. D., appeared after his death. Several of Stanley's tunes were printed first in Dr. Edward Miller's collections.

Consummation est ... 180, tune ii.
[This tune appeared first in "Dr. Watts's Psalms and Hymns, set to new music by Edward Miller, Mus. D. To which is added an Appendix containing Tunes adapted to a new selection of six hundred Hymns by the Rev. Dr. Williams and the Rev. Mr. Boden." This volume is not dated, but was entered at Stationers' Hall 18 Oct., 1800, and was published in connection with Williams and Boden's Collection, Doncaster, 1801. The tune is in the Appendix under the name of "Calvary" and is marked as "new." "Calvary" was subsequently included by Stanley in his "Twenty-four Tunes."]

Stewart, Sir Robert Prescott, MUS. D. See page 47.

Mount Calvary ... 463
[Naumann's "Amen" (see "Doxology," p. 482) has been adopted by the composer as the second strain of this tune.]

Tallis, Thomas. See page 47.

There is reason to believe that Tallis was at first a chorister at S. Paul's Cathedral, his first master being Thomas Mulliner, and was transferred thence to the Chapel Royal as a singing "child." Recent discoveries show that he was Organist of Waltham Abbey until its dissolution in 1540, about which time he probably returned to the Chapel Royal as one of the Gentlemen of the Chapel.

Born at Bath towards the end of the 18th century; studied music under Charles Wesley; became Organist of S. Michael's Church, Bath, and afterwards, until 1859, of S. Mary's, Penzance, Cornwall; died in America. He published some Songs, Anthems, and Hymn-tunes, as well as several compositions for the Organ, the Pianoforte, and the Harp. He also edited "A useful selection from the most approved Psalms," "100 Psalm and Hymn Tunes in Score," and "The Chanter's Companion."

Kingstown ... 39, tune ii.
[This tune was composed at Penzance, and was originally set to the hymn "Lord, dismiss us with thy blessing." It is also known as "Kintore," "Dismissal," and "Mount of Olives."]

[This tune is in Ashworth's "Collection of Tunes." The first edition of this collection has no date, the second is dated 1765, and the third 1766. The tune appears in all three editions under the name of "Mottram." It is also commonly known as "Stockport."]

Webbe, Samuel. See page 48.

Died 25 May, 1816,* and is buried in St. Pancras's Churchyard, London.

Melcombe ... 5, 209

Eldest son of Mr. Samuel Webbe;† born in London about 1770; received instruction in music chiefly from his father, and became an excellent pianist and organist; was successively Organist of the Unitarian Chapel, Paradise-street, Liverpool; of the Spanish Ambassador's Chapel in London; of S. Nicholas's Church, Liverpool; and of S. Patrick's Roman Catholic Chapel, Toxteth-park; died 25 Nov., 1843. He composed many Songs and Glees, as well as some music for the Roman Catholic Church.

Belmont ... 245

Bedford ... 36, part i., 244.
[The earliest dated publication in which this tune has as yet been found is, according to Mr. Havergal, the "Psalm Singers' Magazine," 1729. It is also in B. Smith's "Harmonious Companion, or the Psalm Singers' Magazine," 1732, of which the former is probably an earlier edition. The date, 1699, assigned by Dibdin, in his "Standard Psalm Tune Book," to Wilkins's Psalmody is certainly much too early. The researches of the Rev. H. Parr (Church of England Psalmody), have shown that Matthew Wilkins was born at Great Milton, Oxfordshire, in 1704, and died there in 1772. It is probable therefore that his "Book of Psalmody" was not published before 1730. The tune "Bedford" is assigned to Wheall in Michael Broome's "Collection of Church Music" (cir. 1740), as well as by local tradition. It was played by the chimes of S. Paul's Church, Bedford, from the middle of last century until they were taken down for recent repairs of the tower. Wheall's connection with S. Paul's Church is not likely to have commenced before 1715, when the organ was built by Gerard Schmidt. This organ was sold to the Moravian church at Bedford in 1832.]

Wilson, Hugh. See page 49.

Martyrdom ... 171, 303
[This tune is said to be partly borrowed from an old Covenanting Melody. Mr. Parr (Church of England Psalmody) says he first finds it in R. A. Smith's "Sacred Music sung in St. George's Church, Edinburgh," 1825.]

His father, Edward Byrom, of Kersall Cell and Hyde's Cross, in Manchester, was a descendant of an old Lancashire family.

Byrom is usually said to have been born in 1691, but this is Old Style. He was baptized on the day of his birth. From having studied medicine for a short time he was commonly addressed and spoken of as "Dr." Byrom, but never took a higher degree than that of Master of Arts. He died at Manchester.

Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore him 232
[This is one of five hymns contained in four additional pages inserted in the Foundling Chapel Collection of 1796. Its date may therefore be a little later.]

Kethe, William. See page 13.

Kethe's version of the Hundredth Psalm first appeared in a Psalter published at Geneva for the use of the English congregation in that town. The first edition (1556) contained the 44 Psalms published in England not long before by Sternhold and Hopkins, with the addition of 7 others.* This Psalter was enlarged in succeeding editions, but their dates are uncertain, nor has it yet been ascertained in what edition Kethe's version was first published. In the completed Psalter, fifty-one psalms and the Ten Commandments were provided with tunes, but the Hundredth Psalm was without music, and it is probable that Daye's Psalter was the first in which it was adapted to Franc's tune to the French version of the 134th Psalm.

Lyte, Henry Francis. See pages 14 and 49.

Abide with me, fast falls the eventide 14
[This hymn was written at Berryhead in September, 1847, shortly before Mr. Lyte left England for the last time. It seems to have been first printed on a leaflet.]

* See note on the Scotch Psalter, page 45.

Maitland, Frances Sara Fuller. See page 15.

The notice of Miss F. S. Maitland in the former editions was incorrect; Mrs. Herschell was her eldest sister. The collection of Hymns for Private Devotion was compiled by her mother, Mrs. Fuller-Maitland. Mrs. Colquhoun published in 1876 a small volume entitled Rhymes and Chimes.

Wesley, Charles. See pages 23 and 59.

The following list of the principal poetical works written by Charles Wesley, or produced by him in conjunction with his brother, with the dates in most cases of the first edition of each work, is taken from the Rev. Josiah Miller's "Singers and Songs of the Church," 1869:—

'A Collection of Psalms and Hymns,' by John Wesley (London, 1738), the first collection of all; 'Hymns and Sacred Poems,' different volumes in 1739, 1740, and 1742, and two additional volumes, with the same title, in 1749; 'Hymns on God's Everlasting Love,' by C. Wesley (1741); 'Elegy on the death of Robert Jones, Esq.,' by C. Wesley (1742); 'A Collection of Psalms and Hymns,' first published by John Wesley in 1741, and in later editions added to by Charles; 'Hymns for the Watch Nights,' by C. Wesley (about 1744); 'Hymns on the Lord's Supper,' by C. Wesley, in 1745 [To this work was prefixed a treatise by the Rev. Dr. Brevint on "The Christian Sacrament and Sacrifice." The hymns are a kind of paraphrase of the treatise]; 'Hymns for Times of Trouble and Persecution,' by C. Wesley (1744); 'Hymns for the Nativity of our Lord,' by C. Wesley (second edition, 1745); 'Hymns for those that seek and those that have Redemption in the Blood of Jesus Christ,' by Charles Wesley (1746); 'Hymns for our Lord's Ascension,' by J. and C. Wesley (1746); 'Hymns for our Lord's Resurrection,' by C. Wesley (1746); 'Hymns of Petition and Thanksgiving for the Promise of the Father,' by J. and C. Wesley (1746); 'Hymns for the Public Thanksgiving Day' (Oct. 9, 1746), by C. Wesley; 'Hymns to the Trinity,' by C. Wesley (1746); 'Graces before and after Meat,' by C. Wesley (about 1746); 'Hymns for New Year's Day,' by J. and C. Wesley (1750, and several other years to 1788); 'Hymns occasioned by the Earthquake in 1750,' by C. Wesley; 'Hymns and Spiritual Songs for the Use of Real Christians of every Denomination,' by J. and C. Wesley (1753); 'Hymns of Intercession for all Mankind,' by C. Wesley (1758); 'Hymns on the Expected Invasion,' by C. Wesley (1759); 'Funeral Hymns,' by C. Wesley (1759); 'Hymns for Those to whom Christ is All in All,' by C. Wesley (1761); 'Hymns to be used on the Thanksgiving Day, November 29, 1759,' by C. Wesley; 'Hymns for the use of the Methodist Preachers,' by C. Wesley, given in J. Wesley's 'Reasons against a Separation from the Church of England' (1760); 'Short Hymns on Select Passages of the Holy Scriptures,' by C. Wesley (1762) [The first edition of this work contains 2,145 hymns]; 'Hymns for Children and Others of Riper Years,' by J. and C. Wesley (1763); 'Elegy on the late Rev. George Whitefield,' by C. Wesley (1771); 'Preparation for Death,' by C. Wesley (1772); 'Hymns for Families,' by C. Wesley (1767);

BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX—ADDENDA.

'Hymns written in the time of the Tumults' (June, 1780), by C. Wesley; 'Hymns for the Nation,' in 1782; 'Prayers for Condemned Malefactors' (1785)—the prayers are given in hymns; 'A Pocket Hymn Book for the use of Children' (1788); and also, a 'Poetical Version of nearly the whole of the Psalms of David,' by C. Wesley, recently discovered in ms., and first published in 1854.

In addition to the numerous hymns by Charles Wesley in these collections, a few are found in his prose works, and he left a large number in manuscript.

Lo! He comes, with clouds descending 76

[This hymn, as given by Madan, is a cento consisting of six stanzas, of which the third and the fourth are by Cennick, the first, the second, and the last are from a hymn of four stanzas, No. 39 in Wesley's Hymns of Intercession for all Mankind, 1758, and the fifth is the concluding stanza of No. 38 in the same collection, of which the first line is, "Rise, ye dearly purchas'd sinners." Some of Cennick's lines seem to have been suggested by Psalm xcvi., ver. 7, in Wesley's Collection of Psalms and Hymns, 1741, while the metre of Cennick's hymn was adopted by Wesley for his own hymn on the same subject in 1758. Olivers also wrote a Judgment Hymn in the same metre, commencing "Come, immortal King of glory." It contains a few expressions borrowed from Wesley's hymn, but is otherwise different.

In the hymn as given here, the first, the second, and the last stanzas are by Wesley; the third stanza and the line "O come quickly" in the fourth are by Cennick.]

Whately, Richard, D.D. See pages 24 and 49.

[Heber's hymn, with the additional verse, is printed among some hymns and translations appended to Archbishop Whately's Lectures on Prayer, by a Country Pastor, published in 1860.]

Anonymous. See pages 26 and 54.

Bexley 234

[This tune is found in its present form, and under the name "Bexley" in "The Divine Musical Miscellany," printed by William Smith, 1754, and in Aaron Williams's "Universal Psalmist," 1st ed., 1763. The latter collection also gives the tune in its original form, as "Colchester."]

Baker, Henry. See page 28.

Hesperus... .. 179, 260, 332

[Published in "A Hymnal for use in the English Church, with accompanying Tunes," edited by J. G. (the Hon. and Rev. John Grey), where it is named "Whitburn," and is set to the hymn "Sun of my soul."]

Cecil, Richard, M.A. To page 30.

Born in London 8 Nov., 1748; educated at Queen's College, Oxford, where he graduated Bachelor of Arts in 1777; was incorporated at Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, and took the degree of Master of Arts there in 1790; sometime Lecturer at Lothbury and at Orange-street Chapel; Minister of S. John's Chapel, Bedford-row, 1780; Lecturer at Christ Church, Spitalfields, 1787; also at Long Acre Chapel; Rector of Bisley and Vicar of Chobham, Surrey, 1800; died 15 Aug., 1810.

Saint John 103

[This tune is in "The Psalm and Hymn Tunes, used at St. John's Chapel, Bedford Row," edited in 1814 by the composer's daughter, Theophania Cecil, who was for many years Organist of that chapel.]

Courteville, Raphael. See pages 30 and 55.

Saint James 427

[In "Select Psalms," 1697, this tune is named "St. James's Tune." The music is in two parts, Treble and Bass, and is set to the first verse of Psalm xix.]

Croft, William, MUS. D. See pages 30 and 50.

Saint Anne 90, version I., 241, 442, 454, tune II.

[An edition of Barber's "Book of Psalm Tunes," published probably between 1695 and 1700, has recently been discovered. It contains but twelve hymn tunes with names, and among these none of the three ascribed to Denby appears. "Leeds Tune" was therefore not in the early editions of Barber's collection, but whether it was added before the appearance of "S. Anne" in 1708 still remains uncertain.]

Este's Psalter. See page 32.

Este was not merely the printer, but was also the editor of this Psalter. In 1609 he changed his name to Snodham.

Both "Winchester" and "Windsor" are among the nine new tunes. These were "Tunes usually sung in London and other places of this Realm" which were then for the first time placed in a collection with the usual Church tunes.

Gloucester 143, 360, 388

[This tune was arranged by Edward Hodges, Mus. D., from the anthem "Lord, for Thy tender mercies' sake."]

Franc, Guillaume. See pages 33 and 55.

Besides the Psalms enumerated above, and the Song of Simeon, Marot wrote in 1543 metrical versions of the Creed, the Ten Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, the Salutation of the Angel, and Prayers before and after meat, all which were set to music and included in the Genevan Psalter about the same time.

Twenty-four Psalms in the Genevan Psalter are set to tunes used for other Psalms in earlier editions, viz. :—

| Psalm 53 to 14. | Psalm 77 to 86. |
|-----------------|-----------------|
| " 62 " 24. | " 78 " 90. |
| " 63 " 17. | " 82 " 46. |
| " 64 " 5. | " 95 " 24. |
| " 65 " 72. | " 98 " 118. |
| " 66 " 118. | " 100 " 131. |
| " 67 " 33. | " 109 " 28. |
| " 68 " 36. | " 111 " 24. |
| " 69 " 51. | " 117 " 127. |
| " 70 " 17. | " 139 " 30. |
| " 71 " 31. | " 142 " 131. |
| " 76 " 30. | " 144 " 18. |

Psalm 140, added to the Psalter in 1562, was set to the Ten Commandments tune of 1543, and of the other Psalms first published in 1562, Psalms 60 and 108, 74 and 116, were set respectively to the same tunes.

Psalms 52 and 57, published without music in 1554, appear to have had proper tunes fitted to them in 1562.

The Genevan Psalter therefore contains one hundred and twenty-three distinct tunes to the Psalms besides the tunes to the Song of Simeon and the other pieces by Marot.

Gilding, Edmund. To page 34.

Organist of S. Edmund-the-King, and S. Martin's, Ludgate, in 1762; also, at one time, of S. Giles's, Cripplegate; died 4 Aug., 1782.

Dedication 372

[Published in 1762 in Riley's Psalms, under the name of S. Edmund. Another tune by Gilding is in the same collection.]

Lawes, Henry. See pages 40 and 57.

King's College 198

[This tune was originally adapted to the paraphrase of Psalm xlvii. The melody as given here is somewhat altered. The tunes by Lawes to Sandys's Paraphrases are 24 in number. The edition in which they appeared was printed in 1637, though not published until the following year.]

Ratisbon 2, tune ii., 402

Eins ist noth, ach Herr, dies Eine.

[This tune has undergone several modifications to suit the various hymns to which it has been set. It was originally written in triple time, and is found in Neander's "Bundeslieder," set to his hymn "Grosser Prophet, mein Herze begehret." The first part of the melody seems to have been borrowed from the tune "Jesus meine Zuversicht" in Crüger's "Praxis pietatis melica," with the time changed from common to triple. When the tune was adapted to the hymn "Eins ist noth," this portion of it was restored to its original rhythm.

The latter part also was afterwards changed to common time, and one strain (the modulation into B minor) added to suit the tune to the hymn "Jesu, meines Leben Leben." This is the form in which it appears in Werner's Choral Buch, 1815, and in which, with some slight alterations, it is given here.]

Groningen 43

Gott ist gegenwärtig! Lasset uns anbeten.

[Originally set to Neander's hymn "Wunderbarer König, Herrscher von uns allen."]

Palestrina, Giovanni Pierluigi da. See page 42.

Veni, Creator Spiritus 216

Victory 185
[The authorship of this tune is doubtful.]

Smith, Isaac. See pages 46 and 58.

Two of Smith's tunes, "Eagle-Street" and "New Eagle-Street," are found in "A Collection of Tunes in Three Parts," London, Thomas Knibb, n.d. (cir. 1758), and in the first edition of Aaron Williams's "Universal Psalmist," 1763, but were probably printed in other collections before the publication of that edited by Smith himself.

A cloth-maker in Yorkshire who composed several hymn tunes, fifteen of which were published in "Dr. Watts's Psalms and Hymns, set to new music by Edward Miller, Mus. D." 2 Vols. n.d. (vol. i., 1800, vol. ii., cir. 1803.) From the terms in which Miller refers to him it would appear that Widdup was dead when this collection was published.

Worcester 113, 445

[This tune is in the second volume of Miller's Collection, under the name of "Birstall."]

Church Hymnal.

MORNING.

Hymn 1.

LAUDS (L.M.)

RICHARD REDHEAD.

"I myself will awake right early."

1.

f AWAKE, my soul, and with the sun
Thy daily stage of duty run ;
Shake off dull sloth and joyful rise,
To pay thy morning sacrifice.

2.

mf Wake, and lift up thyself, my heart,
And with the Angels bear thy part,
Who all night long unwearied sing
High praises to th' eternal King.

3.

f All praise to Thee, Who safe hast kept,
And hast refreshed me whilst I slept ;
Grant, Lord, when I from death shall
I may of endless light partake. [wake,

4.

p Lord, I my vows to Thee renew,
Disperse my sins as morning dew ;
Guard my first springs of thought and
And with Thyself my spirit fill. [will,

5.

Direct, control, suggest, this day,
All I design, or do, or say ;
cres. That all my powers, with all their might,
In Thy sole glory may unite. Amen.

Hymn 2.

FIRST TUNE.

Straf' mich nicht in deinem Zorn.

NASSAU (7777 77).

JOHANN ROSENMÜLLER.

"Unto you that fear my Name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise."

1.

f CHRIST, Whose glory fills the skies,
Christ, the true, the only Light,
Sun of Righteousness, arise,
Triumph o'er the shades of night :
Day-spring from on high, be near ;
Day-star, in my heart appear.

p Dark and cheerless is the morn
Unaccompanied by Thee ;
Joyless is the day's return cres. Till Thy mercy's beams I see—
Till they inward light impart,
Glad my eyes and warm my heart.

3.

p Visit then this soul of mine,
Pierce the gloom of sin and grief,
cres. Fill me, Radiancy divine !
Scatter all my unbelief :
More and more Thyself display,
f Shining to the perfect day. Amen.

Hymn 2.

SECOND TUNE.

Eins ist noth, ach Herr, dies Eine.

RATISBON (7777 77).

JOACHIM NEANDER.

"Unto you that fear my Name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise."

I.

f CHRIST, Whose glory fills the skies,
Christ, the true, the only Light,
Sun of Righteousness, arise,
Triumph o'er the shades of night:
Day-spring from on high, be near;
Day-star, in my heart appear.

Hymn 3.

BISHOPTHORPE (C.M.)

JEREMIAH CLARK.

"When I awake I am still with Thee."

I.

p THROUGH all the dangers of the night,
 Preserved, O Lord, by Thee, cres. Again we hail the cheerful light,
 Again we bow the knee.

p O guide us, Lord, throughout the day,
 Preserve us by Thine arm;
 For they are safe, and only they,
 Whom Thou preserv'st from harm.

3.

cres. Let all our words and all our ways
 Declare that we are Thine,
 That so the light of truth and grace
 Before the world may shine.

p Let us ne'er turn away from Thee;
 O Saviour, hold us fast,
f Till with unclouded eyes we see
 Thy glorious face at last. Amen.

Hymn 4.

S. MONICA (L.M.)

Mrs. JOSEPH ROBINSON.

"His compassions fail not, they are new every morning."

1.

NEW every morning is the love
Our wakening and uprising prove;
Through sleep and darkness safely brought,
Restored to life and power and thought.

New mercies, each returning day,
Hover around us while we pray;
New perils past, new sins forgiven,
New thoughts of God, new hopes of heaven.

3.

If, on our daily course, our mind
Be set to hallow all we find,
New treasures still, of countless price,
God will provide for sacrifice.

♩ Old friends, old scenes, will lovelier be,
As more of heaven in each we see;
Some softening gleam of love and prayer
Shall dawn on every cross and care.

5.

The trivial round, the common task,
Will furnish all we ought to ask;
Room to deny ourselves—a road
To bring us daily nearer God.

6.

♩ Only, O Lord, in Thy dear love,
Fit us for perfect rest above;
And help us this and every day,
To live more nearly as we pray. Amen.

MORNING.

Hymn 5.

MELCOMBE (L.M.)

SAMUEL WEBBE.

"He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

1.
p O JESU, Lord of heavenly grace,
Thou brightness of the Father's face,
Thou fountain of eternal light,
Whose beams disperse the shades of night;

2.
f Come, Holy Sun of heavenly love,
Pour down Thy radiance from above,
And to our inward hearts convey
The Holy Spirit's cloudless ray.

3.
May He our actions deign to bless,
And loose the bands of wickedness;
From sudden falls our feet defend,
And guide us safely to the end.

May faith, deep-rooted in the soul,
Subdue our flesh, our minds control:
May guile depart, and discord cease,
And all within be joy and peace.

5.
p O hallowed thus be every day;
Let meekness be our morning ray,
And faithful love our noon-day light,
And hope our sunset calm and bright.

6.
O Christ, with each returning morn
Thine image to our heart is borne; cres. O may we ever clearly see
Our Saviour and our God in Thee. Amen.

Hymn 6.

BARHAM (C.M.)

ROSE ANNA MURRAY DALE.

MORNING.

"In Thy light shall we see light."

1.
My God, the Spring of all my joys,
The Life of my delights,
The Glory of my brightest days,
And Comfort of my nights!

2.
p In darkest shades if He appear,
My dawning is begun;
cres. He is my soul's sweet Morning star,
f And He my rising Sun.

3.
f The opening heavens around me shine
With beams of sacred bliss,
While Jesus shows His heart is mine, p And whispers, I am His. Amen.

Hymn 7.

MATTINS (L.M.)

WILLIAM BOYCE, Mus.D.

"I will go forth in the strength of the Lord God."

1.
FORTH, in Thy Name, O Lord, I go,
My daily labour to pursue;
Thee, only Thee, resolved to know,
In all I think, or speak, or do.

2.
The task Thy wisdom hath assigned
O let me cheerfully fulfil;
In all my works Thy presence find,
And prove Thine acceptable will.

3.
Thee may I set at my right hand,
Whose eyes my inmost substance see,
And labour on at Thy command,
And offer all my works to Thee.

4.
Give me to bear Thy easy yoke,
And every moment watch and pray,
And still to things eternal look,
And hasten to Thy glorious day;

5.
For Thee delightfully employ
Whate'er Thy bounteous grace hath given,
And run my course with even joy,
And closely walk with Thee to heaven. Amen.

MORNING.

Hymn 8.

Die güld'ne Sonne, voll Freud' und Wonne.

FRANCONIA (5555, 10 5656, 10).

JOHANN GEORG EEBLING.

"Thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to praise Thee."

1.
 EVENING and morning,
 Sunset and dawning,
 Wealth, peace, and gladness,
 Comfort in sadness, [Thine!
cres. These are Thy works; all the glory be Times without number,
 Awake or in slumber,
 Thine eye observes us;
 From danger preserve us;
f Causing Thy mercy upon us to shine.
 2.
p Father, O hear me;
 Pardon and spare me;
 Calm all my terrors;
 Blot out my errors, [be scanned.
 That by Thine eyes they may no more

Order my goings;
 Direct all my doings;
 As it may please Thee,
 Retain or release me;
mf All I commit to Thy Fatherly hand.
 3.
p [Griefs of God's sending Soon have an ending;
 Clouds may be pouring,
 Wind and wave roaring,
mf Sunshine will come when the tempest cres. Joys still increasing, [has past.
 And peace never ceasing;
 Fountains that dry not,
 And roses that die not f Blooming in Eden, await me at last.]
 Amen.

MORNING.

Hymn 9.

HOWARD (C.M.)

ELIZABETH CUTHBERT.

"Ponder my words, O Lord."

PSALM V.

I.

p LORD, hear the voice of my complaint,
Accept my secret prayer;
cres. To Thee alone, my King, my God,
Will I for help repair.

mf Thou in the morn my voice shalt hear;
And with the dawning day,
To Thee devoutly I'll look up,
To Thee devoutly pray.

3.

f To righteous men the righteous Lord
His blessing will extend,
And with His favour all His saints,
As with a shield defend. Amen.

Hymn 10.

TALLIS'S CANON (L.M.)

THOMAS TALLIS.

"Under His wings shalt thou trust."

1.
f ALL praise to Thee, my God, this night,
For all the blessings of the light;
mf Keep me, O keep me, King of kings,
Beneath Thine own Almighty wings.

p Forgive me, Lord, for Thy dear Son,
The ill that I this day have done,
That with the world, myself, and Thee,
I, ere I sleep, at peace may be.

3.
Teach me to live that I may dread
The grave as little as my bed;
Teach me to die, that so I may Rise glorious at the awful day.

4.
O may my soul on Thee repose,
And may sweet sleep mine eyelids close;
Sleep that shall me more vigorous make
To serve my God when I awake.

5.
When in the night I sleepless lie,
My soul with heavenly thoughts supply;
Let no ill dreams disturb my rest,
No powers of darkness me molest. Amen.

Hymn 11.

FIRST TUNE.

MANE NOBISCUM (L.M.)

Rt. Rev. HENRY LASCELLES JENNER, D.D.

EVENING.

"The Lord God is a Sun and Shield."

1.
SUN of my soul, Thou Saviour dear,
It is not night if Thou be near:
Oh! may no earth-born cloud arise
To hide Thee from Thy servant's eyes.

2.
p When the soft dews of kindly sleep
My wearied eyelids gently steep,
Be my last thought how sweet to rest
For ever on my Saviour's breast.

3.
Abide with me from morn till eve,
For without Thee I cannot live:
Abide with me when night is nigh,
For without Thee I dare not die.

4.
p If some poor wand'ring child of Thine
Have spurned to-day the voice divine—
Now, Lord, the gracious work begin;
Let him no more lie down in sin.

5.
Watch by the sick; enrich the poor
With blessings from Thy boundless store;
Be every mourner's sleep to-night,
Like infants' slumbers, pure and light.

f Come near and bless us when we wake,
Ere through the world our way we take;
Till in the ocean of Thy love
We lose ourselves in heaven above.

Amen.

Hymn 12.

HIMMEL (8787 77).

FRIEDRICH HEINRICH HIMMEL.

"I will lay me down in peace and take my rest."

I.

THROUGH the day Thy love hath spared us :
 Hear us ere the hour of rest ;
 Through the silent watches guard us ;
 Let no foe our peace molest :
 Jesus, Thou our Guardian be ;
p Sweet it is to trust in Thee.

2.

Pilgrims here on earth, and strangers,
 Dwelling in the midst of foes,
 Us and ours preserve from dangers ;
p In Thine arms may we repose ;
 And when life's sad day is past,
cres. Rest with Thee in heaven at last. Amen.

Hymn 13.

Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele.

UPSAL (8484 8884).

JOHANN CRÜGER.

♩ = 88.

A - men.

"For Thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety."

1.
p GOD, that madest earth and heaven,
Darkness and light ;
Who the day for toil hast given,
For rest the night ;
May Thine angel-guards defend us,
Slumber sweet Thy mercy send us,
Holy dreams and hopes attend us,
This livelong night !

Guard us waking, guard us sleeping,
And when we die,
May we, in Thy mighty keeping,
All peaceful lie !
When the last dread call shall wake us,
Do not Thou, our God, forsake us,
But to reign in glory take us
With Thee on high. Amen.

EVENING.

Hymn 14.

EVENTIDE (10,10,10,10).

WILLIAM HENRY MONK.

"Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent."

1.
ABIDE with me; fast falls the eventide;
The darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide; [flee, cres. When other helpers fail, and comforts dim. Help of the helpless, O abide with me.

p Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see;
f O Thou Who changest not, abide with me.

3.
I need Thy presence every passing hour;
cres. What but Thy grace can foil the Tempter's power?

Who like Thyself my guide and stay can be? [with me.
f Through cloud and sunshine, Lord, abide 4.
f I fear no foe with Thee at hand to bless;
Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness; [victory?
Where is death's sting? where, grave, thy
I triumph still if Thou abide with me.

5.
pp Hold Thou Thy Cross before my closing eyes;
Shine through the gloom, and point me
to the skies;
cres. Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee; [Amen.
In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me.

Hymn 16.

S. DENYS (L.M.)

Rev. FREDERICK WILLIAM HOGAN.

"I am the Light of the world."

1.

O CHRIST, Who art the Light and Day,
Thy beams chase night's dark shades away;
The very Light of Light Thou art,
Who dost that blessed light impart.

2.

p All-Holy Lord, to Thee we bend,
Thy servants through this night defend,
And grant us calm repose in Thee,
A quiet night from perils free.

3.

Let not dull sleep the soul oppress,
Nor secret foe the heart possess,
Nor Satan's wiles the flesh allure,
And make us in Thy sight impure.

4.

cres. Light slumber let our eyelids take,
The heart to Thee be still awake;
And Thy right hand protection be
To those who love and trust in Thee.

5.

f O Lord, our strong defence, be nigh;
Bid all the powers of darkness fly;
Preserve and watch o'er us for good,
Whom Thou hast purchased with Thy blood.

6.

p Remember us, dear Lord, we pray,
Whilst burdened in the flesh we stay;
mf Thou only canst the soul defend;
Be with us, Saviour, to the end. Amen.

Hymn 17.

S. ANATOLIUS (7676 88).

FIRST TUNE.

Rev. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, Mus.L.

"The Lord is thy Keeper."

I.

p THE day is past and over ;
 All thanks, O Lord, to Thee ;
 I pray Thee that offenceless
 The hours of dark may be ;
cres. O Jesu ! keep me in Thy sight,
 And save me through the coming night.

p The toils of day are over :
 I raise the hymn to Thee—
 And ask that free from peril
 The hours of fear may be ;
cres. O Jesu ! keep me in Thy sight,
 And guard me through the coming night.

3.

p Be Thou my soul's preserver,
 O God ! for Thou dost know
 How many are the perils
 Through which I have to go ;
cres. Lover of men ! O hear my call,
 And guard and save me from them all. Amen.

EVENING.

Hymn 17.

S. JEROME (7676 88).

SECOND TUNE.

Mainzer Choralbuch.

1.

p THE day is past and over;
All thanks, O Lord, to Thee;
I pray Thee that offenceless
The hours of dark may be;
cres. O Jesu! keep me in Thy sight,
And save me through the coming night.

p The toils of day are over:
I raise the hymn to Thee—

And ask that free from peril
The hours of fear may be;
cres. O Jesu! keep me in Thy sight,
And guard me through the coming night.

3.

p Be Thou my soul's preserver,
O God! for Thou dost know
How many are the perils
Through which I have to go;
cres. Lover of men! O hear my call, [Amen.
And guard and save me from them all.

Hymn 18.

German.

EVENING.

1. "The day is Thine; the night also is Thine."
p ANOTHER day is past and gone,
 O God, we bow to Thee;
 Again, as nightly shades come on,
 To Thy defence we flee.
2.
 Forgive us all the evil done,
 The good undone, to-day;
 And keep us from the Wicked One,
 Now, Father, and for aye.
3.
cres. When shall that day of gladness come,
 Ne'er sinking in the west;
- That country and that blessed home,
 Where none shall break our rest;
 4.
 Where life shall be all love and peace,
 And pleasure without end;
 Where golden harps that never cease
 With joyous hymns shall blend;
5.
 Where we, O God, preserved beneath
 The shelter of Thy wing, cres. For evermore Thy praise shall breathe,
f And of Thy mercy sing? Amen.

Hymn 19.

ANGELUS (L.M.)

Komm mein Herze, komm mein Schatz.

GEORG JOSEPHI.

"At even they brought unto Him all that were diseased."

1.
 At even, ere the sun was set,
 The sick, O Lord, around Thee lay;
p Oh, in what divers pains they met!
f Oh, with what joy they went away!
2.
 Once more 'tis eventide, and we Oppressed with various ills draw near;
 What if Thy form we cannot see?
cres. We know and feel that Thou art here.
3.
p O Saviour Christ, our woes dispel;
 For some are sick, and some are sad,
 And some have never loved Thee well,
 And some have lost the love they had;
4.
 And some have found the world is vain,
 Yet from the world they break not free;
- And some have friends who give them pain,
 Yet have not sought a friend in Thee;
 5.
 And none, O Lord, have perfect rest,
 For none are wholly free from sin;
 And they who fain would serve Thee best
 Are conscious most of wrong within.
6.
 O Saviour Christ, Thou too art Man;
 Thou hast been troubled, tempted, tried;
 Thy kind but searching glance can scan
 The very wounds that shame would hide;
7.
f Thy touch has still its ancient power;
 No word from Thee can fruitless fall;
p Hear in this solemn evening hour,
 And in Thy mercy heal us all. Amen.

EVENING.

Hymn 20.

VESPERS (6466).

Sir ROBERT STEWART, Mus.D.

"Let the lifting up of my hands be an evening sacrifice."

1.
THE sun is sinking fast,
The daylight dies;
Let love awake and pay
Her evening sacrifice.

2.
As Christ upon the Cross
His head inclined,
And to His Father's hands
His parting soul resigned;

3.
So now, herself my soul
Would wholly give
Into His sacred charge,
In Whom all spirits live;

4.
So now beneath His eye
Would calmly rest,

Without a wish or thought
Abiding in the breast,

5.
Save that His will be done,
Whate'er betide;
Dead to herself, and dead
In Him to all beside.

6.
cres. Thus would I live: yet now
Not I, but He
In all His power and love
Henceforth alive in me.

7.
f One sacred Trinity!
One Lord Divine!
May I be ever His,
And He for ever mine. Amen.

Hymn 21.

LÜNEBURG (866 866).

Warum sollt' ich mich denn grämen?

JOHANN GEORG EBELING.

EVENING.

"I will say of the Lord, He is my Refuge—in Him will I trust."

1.
p ERE I sleep, for every favour
This day showed by my God,
f I will bless my Saviour.

2.
O my Lord, what shall I render
To Thy Name, still the same,
Gracious, good, and tender?

3.
p Leave me not, but ever love me;
Let Thy peace be my bliss,
Till Thou hence remove me.

4.
Visit me with Thy salvation;
Let Thy care still be near,
Round my habitation.

5.
f Thou, my Rock, my Guard, my Tower,
While I sleep, safely keep Me with all Thy power.

6.
p And, whene'er in death I slumber, cres. Let me rise with the wise,
f Counted in their number. Amen.

S. ETHELBURGA (8884).

Hymn 22.

REV. HENRY JAMES POOLE.

"The Lord shall be Thine everlasting Light."

1.
p THE radiant morn hath passed away,
And spent too soon her golden store;
The shadows of departing day
Creep on once more.

2.
Our life is but a fading dawn,
Its glorious noon how quickly past;
Lead us, O Christ, when all is gone,
Safe home at last.

3.
cres. Oh! by Thy soul-inspiring grace,
Uplift our hearts to realms on high;
Help us to look to that bright place
Beyond the sky:

4.
Where light, and love, and joy, and peace
In undivided empire reign,
And thronging angels never cease
Their deathless strain;

5.
Where saints are clothed in spotless white,
And evening shadows never fall,
f Where Thou, Eternal Light of Light,
Art Lord of all. Amen.

EVENING.

Hymn 23.

BUCKLAND (7777).

FIRST TUNE.

Rev. LEIGHTON GEORGE HAYNE, Mus.D.

"Under the shadow of the Almighty."

1.
God Who madest earth and heaven,
Father, Son, and Holy Ghost ;
Who the day and night hast given,
Sun, and moon, and starry host ;

2.
Ever lead us, ever guide
All our wanderings by Thy word ;
As Thou hast been, still abide
Our Defence, our Refuge, Lord.

3.
f Mighty God, we now commend
Soul and body unto Thee ;
All the powers that Thou dost lend
By Thy hand directed be.

4.
p Never safe except with Thee, Ever Thou our Guardian be, cres. Till our final rest be come,
And Thine angels bear us home.
Amen.

Hymn 23.

CONSOLATION (7777).

SECOND TUNE.

Rev. CHARLES JOHN DICKINSON.

Hymn 24.

LUGANO (8787 8787).

Italian Chorale.

"Behold, He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep."

I.

p SAVIOUR, breathe an evening blessing,
Ere repose our spirits seal;
Sin and want we come confessing, cres. Thou canst save and Thou canst heal.

p Though the night be dark and dreary,
Darkness cannot hide from Thee;
Thou art He Who, never weary,
Watchest where Thy people be.

3.

Though destruction walk around us,
Though the arrow past us fly,
Angel-guards from Thee surround us;
We are safe if Thou art nigh.

[us,
Should swift death this night o'ertake
And our couch become our tomb, cres. May the morn in heaven awake us
f Clad in light and deathless bloom.
Amen.

Hymn 25.*

EMMAUS (S.M.)

JOSEPH BARNEY.

"Thy sun shall no more go down by day."

I.
p THE day, O Lord, is spent ;
 Abide with us, and rest ;
 Our hearts' desires are fully bent
 On making Thee our guest.

2.
 We have not reached that land,
 That happy land, as yet,
 Where holy angels round Thee stand,
 Whose sun can never set.

3.
p Our sun is sinking now,
 Our day is almost o'er ;
cres. O Sun of Righteousness, do Thou
f Shine on us evermore. Amen.

Hymn 26.

S. DUNSTAN (7777).

RICHARD REDHEAD.

* This hymn may also be sung to "DEDICATION," No 372

EVENING.

"The Lord will lighten my darkness."

I.
p God the Father, be Thou near,
 Save from every harm to-night,
 Make us all Thy children dear,
 In the darkness be our light.

2.
 God, the Saviour, be our Peace,
 Put away our sins to-night,
 Speak the word of full release, cres. Turn our darkness into light.

3.
p Holy Spirit, deign to come,
 Sanctify us all to-night,
 In our hearts prepare Thy home,
 Turn our darkness into light.

4.
 Holy Trinity, be nigh,
 Mystery of Love adored,
 Help to live and help to die, cres. Lighten all our darkness, Lord.
 Amen.

Hymn 27.

NACHTLIED (565656 5).

FRIEDRICH FERDINAND FLEMMING, M.D.

"In the night His song shall be with me."

I.
p NIGHT's shadows falling
 Men to rest are calling;
 Rest we, possessing
 Heavenly peace and blessing;
 This we implore Thee,
 Falling down before Thee,
 Great King of Glory!

2.
 O Saviour, hear us;
 Son of God, be near us;
 Thine angels send us;
 Let Thy love attend us;
 He nothing feareth
 Whom Thy presence cheereth,
 Light his path cleareth.

3.
p Be near, relieving
 All who now are grieving;
 Thy visitation
 Be our consolation;

O hear the sighing
 Of the faint and dying;
 Lord, hear our crying.

4.
 Thou ever livest;
 Endless life Thou givest;
 Thou watch art keeping O'er Thy faithful sleeping; cres. In Thy clear shining
 They are now reclining,
 All care resigning.

5.
f O Lord of Glory,
 Praise we and adore Thee—
 Thee for us given,
 Our true Rest from heaven:
 Rest, peace, and blessing
 We are now possessing,
 Thy Name confessing. Amen.

Hymn 28.

S. VINCENT (8686 88).

JOSEPH BARNBY.

"My soul waiteth upon God; from Him cometh my salvation."

I.

LORD of my life, Whose tender care
Hath led me on till now,
Here, lowly, at the hour of prayer,
Before Thy throne I bow;
I bless Thy gracious hand, and pray
Forgiveness for another day.

2.

Oh, may I daily, hourly, strive
In heavenly grace to grow;
To Thee and to Thy glory live,
Dead to all else below;
Tread in the path my Saviour trod,
Though thorny, yet the path to God.

3.

With prayer my humble praise I bring
For mercies day by day;
Lord, teach my heart Thy love to sing,
Lord, teach me how to pray;
All that I have, or am, to Thee
I offer through eternity. Amen.

PSALM LXIII.

I.

O GOD, my gracious God, to Thee
My morning prayer shall offered be,
For Thee my soul doth pant ;
To me the enjoyment of Thy love,
Than life itself, doth dearer prove ;
Renewed strength from Thee I want.

2.

Thou, Lord, art present to my mind
p When I lie down, sweet sleep to find,
And when I wake at night :
Since Thou to me dost succour bring, cres. Beneath the shadow of Thy wing
I rest with safety and delight. Amen.

THE LORD'S DAY.

Hymn 30.

Lobt Gott, ihr Christen allzugleich.

JOACHIMSTHAL (C.M.)

NICOLAUS HERMANN.

"This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it."

PSALM CXVIII.

f THIS is the day the Lord hath made,
He calls the hours His own;
Let heaven rejoice, let earth be glad,
And praise surround the throne.

2.

To-day He rose and left the dead,
And Satan's empire fell;
To-day the saints His triumphs spread,
And all His wonders tell.

3.

Hosanna to the anointed King,
To David's holy Son!
Help us, O Lord! descend and bring Salvation from Thy throne.

p Blest be the Lord, Who comes to men
With messages of grace;
Who comes, in God His Father's Name,
To save our sinful race.

5.

f Hosanna in the highest strains
The Church on earth can raise;
The highest heavens in which He reigns
Shall give Him nobler praise. Amen.

THE LORD'S DAY.

Hymn 31.

WAREHAM (L.M.)

WILLIAM KNAPP.

"God said, 'Let there be light:' and there was light."

I.

THIS day, by Thy creating word,
First o'er the earth the light was poured ;
O Lord, this day upon us shine,
And fill our souls with Light Divine.

2.

This day the Lord, for sinners slain,
In might victorious rose again ;
O Jesus, may we raised be
From death of sin to Life in Thee.

3.

This day the Holy Spirit came
With fiery tongues of cloven flame:
O Spirit, fill our hearts to-day
With Grace to hear and Grace to pray.

4.

p O day of Light, and Life, and Grace—
From earthly toils sweet resting-place—cres. Thy hallowed hours, best gift of love,
Give we again to God above. Amen.

THE LORD'S DAY.

Hymn 32.

AURELIA (7676 7676).

SAMUEL SEBASTIAN WESLEY, Mus.D.

"There remaineth . . . a rest for the people of God."

1.

O DAY of rest and gladness,
O day of joy and light,
p O balm of care and sadness,
Most beautiful, most bright;
cres. On thee the high and lowly Before the eternal Throne
f Sing Holy, Holy, Holy,
To the GREAT THREE IN ONE.

2.

mf On thee, at the creation,
The light first had its birth;
On thee for our salvation
Christ rose from depths of earth;
On thee our Lord victorious
The Spirit sent from heaven;
And thus on thee most glorious
A triple light was given.

3.

p To-day on weary nations
The heavenly Manna falls,
To holy convocations cres. The silver trumpet calls,
Where Gospel-light is glowing
With pure and radiant beams,
And living water flowing
With soul-refreshing streams.

4.

p New graces ever gaining
From this our day of rest,
We reach the Rest remaining
To spirits of the blest;
f To Holy Ghost be praises,
To Father and to Son;
The Church her voice upraises
To Thee, blest THREE IN ONE.

Amen.

THE LORD'S DAY.

Hymn 33.

LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN.

"It is good to sing praises unto our God."
PSALM XCII.

SWEEET is the work, my God, my King,
To praise Thy Name, give thanks, and sing;
To show Thy love by morning light,
And talk of all Thy truth at night.

2.
p Sweet is the day of sacred rest,
No mortal cares shall seize my breast;
O may my heart in tune be found,
Like David's harp of solemn sound.

3.
f My heart shall triumph in my Lord,
And bless His works and bless His Word;
Thy works of grace how bright they shine!
How deep Thy counsels! how divine!

4.
And I shall share a glorious part,
When grace hath well refined my heart;
And fresh supplies of joy are shed,
Like holy oil to cheer my head.

5.
cres. Then shall I see, and hear, and know
What mortals cannot reach below,
And every power find sweet employ

Thy help and mercy here afford,

3.

Abide among us with Thy ray,
O light that light'nest all;
And let Thy truth preserve our way,
p Nor suffer us to fall.

4.

Abide with us to bless us still,
O bounteous Lord of peace;
With grace and power our spirits fill,
Our faith and love increase.

5.

Abide among us as our Shield,
O Captain of Thy host;
That to the world we may not yield,
Nor e'er forsake our post.

6.

cres. Abide with us in faithful love,
Our God and Saviour be,
Thy help at need O let us prove,

PSALM LXXXIV.

1.
LORD of the worlds above,
How pleasant and how fair
The dwellings of Thy love,
Thine earthly temples are !
To Thine abode
cres. My heart aspires,
With warm desires
To see my God.

2.

"Serve the Lord with gladness."

PSALM C. (OLD VERSION.)

1.
f ALL people that on earth do dwell,
Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice;
Him serve with fear, His praise forth tell,
Come ye before Him and rejoice.

2.
p The Lord, ye know, is God indeed;
Without our aid He did us make:
We are His flock, He doth us feed,
And for His sheep He doth us take.

3.
f O enter then His gates with praise,
Approach with joy His courts unto;
Praise, laud, and bless His Name always,
For it is seemly so to do.

4.
p For why? the Lord our God is good,
His mercy is for ever sure;
cres. His truth at all times firmly stood;
And shall from age to age endure.

5.
f To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
The God Whom heaven and earth adore,

 Angels, saints, their voices blending—
p Bow Thine ear
 To us here ;
cres. Hearken, O Lord Jesus, dim. To our meaner praises.

3.
p O Thou Fount of blessing,
 Purify our spirit,
 Trusting only in Thy merit :
cres. Like the holy angels
 Who behold Thy glory,
 May we ceaselessly adore Thee :
mf Let Thy will,
 Ever still,
 Rule Thy Church terrestrial,
 As the hosts celestial.

4.
p Jesus, condescending
 To the meek and lowly
 From Thy heaven high and holy,
 Make us now Thy temple ;
 Waft us then to regions
 Filled with bright seraphic legions ; cres. May this hope Bear us up,
f Till these eyes for ever
 Gaze on Thee, our Saviour. Amen.

Hymn 44.

PURLEIGH (886 886).

ARTHUR HENRY BROWN.

"I dwell in the high and holy place ; with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit."

I.

THOU God of power, and God of Love,
 Whose glory fills the realms above,
 Whose praise archangels sing,
 ♪ And veil their faces while they cry, cres. "Thrice Holy !" to their God most high,
 "Thrice Holy !" to their King :—

♪ Thee as our God we too would claim,
 And bless the Saviour's precious Name,
 Through Whom this grace is given,
 Who bore the curse to sinners due,
cres. Who forms their ruined souls anew,
 And makes them heirs of heaven.

3.

The veil that hides Thy glory rend,
 And here in saving power descend,
 And fix Thy blest abode :
 Here to each heart Thyself reveal, cres. And all who enter cause to feel
 The presence of our God. Amen.

Hymn 46.

WARRINGTON (L.M.)

RALPH HARRISON.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

"Where two or three are gathered together in My Name, there am I in the midst."

1.
JESUS, where'er Thy people meet,
There they behold Thy mercy-seat:
Where'er they seek Thee, Thou art found,
And every place is hallowed ground.

2.
For Thou, within no walls confined,
Inhabitest the humble mind:
Such ever bring Thee where they come,
And going, take Thee to their home.

3.
Here may we prove the power of prayer
To strengthen faith and banish care, cres. To teach our faint desires to rise,
And bring all heaven before our eyes.

4.
* [Behold, at Thy commanding word,
We stretch the curtain and the cord;
Come Thou and fill this wider space,
And bless us with a large increase.]

5.
p Lord, we are few, but Thou art near;
Nor short Thine arm, nor deaf Thine ear;
cres. O rend the heavens, come quickly down,
f And make a thousand hearts thine own! Amen.

Hymn 47.†

S. RAPHAEL (L.M.)

REV. EDWARD SEYMOUR.

"Let us . . . come boldly unto the throne of grace."

1.
FROM every stormy wind that blows,
From every swelling tide of woes,
p There is a calm, a sure retreat;
'Tis found beneath the mercy-seat.

2.
There is a place where Jesus sheds
The oil of gladness on our heads;
p A place than all beside more sweet;
It is the blood-stained mercy-seat.

3.
There is a spot where spirits blend,
And friend holds fellowship with friend;
Though sundered far, by faith they meet
Around one common mercy-seat.

4.
p Ah! whither could we flee for aid,
When tempted, desolate, dismayed?
Or how the hosts of hell defeat,
Had suffering saints no mercy-seat?

5.
cres. There, there on eagle wing we soar,
And time and sense seem all no more,
And heaven comes down our souls to greet,
f And glory crowns the mercy-seat. Amen.

Hymn 48.

NARRAGHMORE (C.M.)

Rev. CHARLES JOHN DICKINSON.

"O Thou that hearest prayer, unto Thee shall all flesh come."

1.
THERE is an eye that never sleeps
Beneath the wing of night;
There is an ear that never shuts
When sink the beams of light.

2.
There is an arm that never tires,
p When human strength gives way;
There is a love that never fails,
p When earthly loves decay.

3.
That eye is fixed on seraph throngs;
That arm upholds the sky;
That ear is filled with angels' songs;
That love is throned on high.

4.
cres. But there's a power which man can
When mortal aid is vain, [wield,
That eye, that arm, that love to reach,
That listening ear to gain.

5.
f That power is prayer: which soars on high,
Through Jesus, to the throne,
And moves the hand which moves the world
To bring salvation down. Amen.

Hymn 49.

GIBBONS (7777).

ORLANDO GIBBONS, Mus.D.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

"Ask, and it shall be given you."

1.
COME, my soul, thy suit prepare ;
Jesus loves to answer prayer ;
He Himself has bid thee pray :
Therefore will not say thee nay.

2.
Thou art coming to a King ;
Large petitions with thee bring ;
For His grace and power are such,
None can ever ask too much.

3.
p With my burden I begin ;
Lord, remove this load of sin ;

Let Thy blood for sinners spilt,
Set my conscience free from guilt.

4.
cres. Lord, I come to Thee for rest ;
Take possession of my breast ;
There Thy blood-bought right maintain,
And without a rival reign.

5.
p While I am a pilgrim here,
Let Thy love my spirit cheer !
cres. As my Guide, my Guard, my Friend,
Lead me to my journey's end. Amen.

Hymn 50.

EVENTIDE (10,10,10,10.)

WILLIAM HENRY MONK.

"I will arise and go to my Father."

1.
p FATHER, again in Jesus' Name we meet,
And bow in penitence beneath Thy feet :
Again to Thee our feeble voices raise, cres. To sue for mercy and to sing Thy praise.

2.
O we would bless Thee for Thy ceaseless care,
And all Thy work from day to day declare ! [crowned ?]
Is not our life with hourly mercies
Does not Thine arm encircle us around ?

3.
p Alas ! unworthy of Thy boundless love, Too oft with careless feet from Thee we rove ; [come, cres. But now, encouraged by Thy voice, we Returning sinners, to a Father's home.

4.
O by that Name in which all fulness dwells,
p O by that love which every love excels,
cres. O by that blood so freely shed for sin,
Open blest Mercy's gate, and take us in.
Amen.

Hymn 53.

S. COLUMBANUS (8787 47).

WALTER NEWPORT.

The musical score for Hymn 53 consists of three systems of staves. Each system has a treble staff and a bass staff. The key signature is one flat (B-flat). The tempo marking is quarter note = 92. The music is written in a simple, hymn-like style with many whole and half notes. The final system ends with the text "A-men." written below the bass staff.

"We wait for Thy loving-kindness, O God, in the midst of Thy temple."

Tidings sent to every creature,
Millions yet have never heard;
Can they hear without a preacher?
Lord Almighty, give the word!
cres. Give the word! In every nation
Let the Gospel-trumpet sound,
Witnessing a world's salvation
To the earth's remotest bound.

3.

Then the end!—Thy Church completed,
All Thy chosen gathered in,
f With their King in glory seated,
Satan bound, and banished sin;
Gone for ever—parting, weeping,
Hunger, sorrow, death, and pain—
p Lo! her watch Thy Church is keeping:
cres. Come, Lord Jesus, come—to reign. Amen.

Hymn 75.

VIGIL (6464 6764).

ARTHUR PATTON.

"Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving."

1.

p HARK ! 'tis the watchman's cry :
 Wake, brethren, wake !
 Jesus our Lord is nigh ;
cres. Wake, brethren, wake !
 Sleep is for sons of night ;
 Ye are children of the light ;
 Yours is the glory bright—
f Wake, brethren, wake !

2.

Call to each waking band,
 Watch, brethren, watch ;
 Clear is our Lord's command,
 Watch, brethren, watch.
 Be ye as they that wait
 Always at the Bridegroom's gate ;
 E'en though He tarry late,
 Watch, brethren, watch.

3.

Heed we the Master's call,
 Work, brethren, work !
 There's room enough for all ;
 Work, brethren, work ;

This vineyard of the Lord
 Constant labour will afford ;
 Yours is a sure reward ;
f Work, brethren, work !

4.

p Hear we the Saviour's voice,
 Pray, brethren, pray !
 Would ye His heart rejoice ?
 Pray, brethren, pray.
 Sin calls for constant fear ;
 Weakness needs the strong One near ;
 Long as ye struggle here,
 Pray, brethren, pray.

5.

Now sound the final chord,
f Praise, brethren, praise !
 Thrice holy is our Lord ;
 Praise, brethren, praise !
 What more befits the tongues,
 Soon to join the angels' songs,
 While heaven the note prolongs,
f Praise, brethren, praise ! Amen.

LUTHER'S HYMN (8787 887).

Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit.

MARTIN LUTHER?

"The Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Archangel, and with the trump of God."

1.
p GREAT God, what do I see and hear!
 The end of things created;
 The Judge of mankind doth appear
 On clouds of glory seated!
 The trumpet sounds, the graves restore
 The dead which they contained before:
 Prepare, my soul, to meet Him.

2.
 The dead in Christ shall first arise
 At the last trumpet's sounding,
 Caught up to meet Him in the skies, cres. With joy their Lord surrounding:
 No gloomy fears their souls dismay;
 His presence sheds eternal day cres. On those prepared to meet Him.

3.
p But sinners, filled with guilty fears,
 Behold His wrath prevailing;
 For they shall rise, and find their tears
 And sighs are unavailing:
 The day of grace is past and gone;
 Trembling they stand before the throne,
 All unprepared to meet Him.

4.
 Great God, what do I see and hear!
 The end of things created!
 The Judge of mankind doth appear,
 On clouds of glory seated!
p Low at His Cross, I view the day
 When heaven and earth shall pass away.
cres. And thus prepare to meet him. Amen.

Hymn 78.

PART I.

BETHLEHEM (777).

Heil'ger Geist, du Tröster mein.

FRIEDRICH FILITZ, Ph.D.

"This is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world."

1.

PART I.

BLESSED night, when first that plain
Echoed with the joyful strain:
"Peace has come to earth again."

2.

Blessed hills, that heard the song
Of the glorious angel-throng,
Swelling all your slopes along.

3.

Happy shepherds, on whose ear
Fell the tidings glad and dear:
"God to man is drawing near."

4.

This, the woman's promised seed,
Abram's mighty Son, indeed;
Succourer of earth's great need.

5.

p Babe of promise, born at last,
After weary ages past,
When our hopes were overcast,

6.

cres. We adore Thee as our King,
And to Thee our song we sing,
Our best offering to Thee bring.

7.

p "Lamb of God"—Thy lowly Name—

Hymn 78.

PART II.

HAVERGAL (777).

Rev. WILLIAM HENRY HAVERGAL.

CHRISTMAS EVE.

PART II.

1.
f MIGHTY King of Righteousness,
King of Glory, King of Peace,
Never shall Thy Kingdom cease!

2.
Thee earth's Heir and Lord we own;
Raise again its fallen throne;
Take its everlasting crown.

3.
Scatter darkness with Thy light;
End the sorrows of our night:
Speak the word, and all is bright.

4.
Spoil the spoiler of the earth,
Bring creation's second birth,
Promised day of song and mirth.

5.
p 'Tis Thine Israel's voice that calls,
Build again Thy Salem's walls;
Dwell within her holy halls.

6.
'Tis Thy Church's voice that cries,
Rend these long unrended skies;
Bridegroom of the Church, arise.

7.
cres. Sun of Peace, no longer stay,
Let the shadows flee away,
And the long night end in day. Amen.

Hymn 79.

WINCHESTER (C.M.)

Este's Psalter.

"And the angel said unto them, 'Fear not.'"

1.
WHILE shepherds watched their flocks by
All seated on the ground, [night,
The angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.

2.
"Fear not," said he; for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind;
f "Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.

3.
"To you, in David's town, this day,
Is born of David's line
A Saviour, Who is Christ the Lord;
And this shall be the sign:

4.
"The heavenly Babe you there shall find
To human view displayed,
All meanly wrapped in swathing bands,
And in a manger laid."

5.
Thus spake the seraph; and forthwith
Appeared a shining throng
Of angels, praising God, who thus Addressed their joyful song:

6.
f "All glory be to God on high,
And to the earth be peace;
Good-will, henceforth, from heaven to men
Begin, and never cease." Amen.

CHRISTMAS.

YORKSHIRE (10,10,10,10,10,10).

Hymn 80.

JOHN WAINWRIGHT.

"Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy."

1.

f CHRISTIANS, awake, salute the happy morn,
Whereon the Saviour of the world was born;
Rise to adore the mystery of love,
Which hosts of angels chanted from above;
With them the joyful tidings first begun
Of God incarnate and the Virgin's Son.

2.

Then to the watchful shepherds it was told,
Who heard the angelic herald's voice: "Behold,
I bring good tidings of a Saviour's birth
To you and all the nations upon earth:
cres. This day hath God fulfilled His promised word, f This day is born a Saviour, Christ the Lord."

3.

He spake; and straightway the celestial choir
In hymns of joy, unknown before, conspire:
The praises of redeeming love they sang,
And heaven's whole orb with hallelujahs rang:
God's highest glory was their anthem still,
Peace upon earth, and unto men good-will.

4.

To Bethlehem straight the enlightened shepherds ran
To see the wonder God had wrought for man:
And found, with Joseph and the blessed Maid,
Her Son, the Saviour, in a manger laid;
Amazed the wondrous story they proclaim,
The first apostles of His infant fame.

CHRISTMAS.

5.
Let us, like these good shepherds, then employ
Our grateful voices to proclaim the joy ;
p Trace we the Babe, Who hath retrieved our loss,
From His poor manger to His bitter Cross ;
cres. Treading His steps, assisted by His grace,
Till man's first heavenly state again takes place.

6.
Then may we hope, the angelic thrones among,
To sing, redeemed, a glad triumphal song ;
He that was born upon this joyful day,
cres. Around us all His glory shall display ;
Saved by His love, incessant we shall sing
f Of angels and of angel-men, the King. Amen.

Hymn 81.

TALLIS'S ORDINAL (C.M.)

THOMAS TALLIS.

"Unto you is born this day, . . . a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

1.
O SAVIOUR, Whom this holy morn
Gave to our world below,
To mortal want and labour born,
And more than mortal woe ;—

2.
Incarnate Word, by every grief,
By each temptation tried ;
Who lived to yield our ills relief, p And, to redeem us, died ;—

3.
If gaily clothed and proudly fed
In dangerous wealth we dwell,
Remind us of Thy manger-bed
And lowly cottage cell.

4.
If pressed by poverty severe
In envious want we pine ;
O may the Spirit whisper near,
How poor a lot was Thine.

5.
cres. Through every change of earthly scene,
From sin preserve us free ;
Like us, Thou hast a mourner been,
May we rejoice with Thee. Amen.

Hymn 82.

HUMMEL (8787 8787).

JOHANN NEPOMUK HUMMEL.

The musical score consists of four systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The key signature is one sharp (F#). The tempo marking is quarter note = 88. The score includes a final 'A-men.' marking.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God."

HARK! what mean those holy voices,
Sweetly sounding through the skies?
Lo! the angelic host rejoices,
Heavenly hallelujahs rise.
Listen to the wondrous story
Which they chant in hymns of joy—cres. "Glory in the highest, glory!
f Glory be to God on high!"

2.

p "Peace on earth, good-will from heaven,
Reaching far as man is found;
cres. Souls redeemed and sins forgiven;—
Loud our golden harps shall sound.

Christ is born, the great Anointed;
Heaven and earth His praises sing!
O receive whom God appointed
For your Prophet, Priest, and King!"

3.

"Hasten, mortals, to adore Him;
Learn His name and taste His joy:
Till in heaven ye sing before Him,
f Glory be to God on high!"
Let us learn the wondrous story
Of our great Redeemer's birth;
Spread the brightness of His glory
Till it cover all the earth. Amen.

CHRISTMAS (7777 7777).

FELIX MENDELSSOHN-BARTHOLDY, Ph. D.

Organ pedal.

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good-will toward men."

1.
f HARK! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King;
f Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
 God and sinners reconciled!
f Joyful, all ye nations rise,
 Join the triumph of the skies;
 With the angelic host proclaim Christ is born in Bethlehem.
ff Hark! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King.

2.
 Christ, by highest heaven adored!
 Christ, the everlasting Lord!
 Late in time behold Him come,
 Offspring of a virgin's womb:

Veiled in flesh the Godhead see;
 Hail the incarnate Deity,
 Pleased as man with men to dwell,
f Jesus, our Emmanuel!
ff Hark! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King.

3.
cres. Hail, the heaven-born Prince of Peace!
 Hail, the Sun of Righteousness!
 Light and life to all He brings,
 Risen with healing in His wings.
 Mild, He lays His glory by, cres. Born that man no more may die,
 Born to raise the sons of earth,
 Born to give them second birth.
ff Hark! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King. Amen.

Hymn 84.

LONDON NEW (C.M.)

Scotch Psalter.

"Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten Thee."

I.

f HIGH let us swell our tuneful notes,
And join the angelic throng;
For angels no such love have known,
To awake a cheerful song.

2.

Good-will to sinful men is shown,
And peace on earth is given;
For, lo! the incarnate Saviour comes
With messages from heaven.

3.

Justice and grace, with sweet accord,
His rising beams adorn;
Let heaven and earth in concert join,
To us a Child is born.

4.

f Glory to God in highest strains,
In highest worlds be paid;
His glory by our lips proclaimed,
And by our lives displayed.

5.

When shall we reach those blissful realms
Where Christ exalted reigns;
And learn of the celestial choir
Their own immortal strains? Amen.

Hymn 96.

KILMARNOCK (C.M.)

NEIL DOUGALL.

CIRCUMCISION : NAME OF JESUS.

"Putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ."

1.
O FOR a heart to praise my God,
A heart from sin set free ;
A heart that's cleansed by the blood,
So freely shed for me.

2.
A heart resigned, submissive, meek,
My dear Redeemer's throne ;
Where only Christ is heard to speak,
Where Jesus reigns alone.

3.
An humble, lowly, contrite heart,
Believing, true, and clean ;
Which neither life nor death can part
From Him that dwells within.

4.
A heart in every thought renewed,
And full of love divine,
Perfect and right, and pure and good,
An image, Lord, of Thine.

5.
Thy nature, gracious Lord, impart ;
Come, quickly from above ;
Write Thy new Name upon my heart,
Thy new, best Name of Love. Amen.

Hymn 97.

S. PETER (C.M.)

ALEXANDER ROBERT REINAGLE.

"Thou shalt call His Name Jesus."

1.
How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
In a believer's ear !
It soothes his sorrows, heals his wounds,
And drives away his fear.

p It makes the wounded spirit whole,
And calms the troubled breast ;
'Tis manna to the hungry soul,
And to the weary rest.

3.
Dear Name ! the rock on which I build,
My shield and hiding-place,
My never-failing treasury, filled
With boundless stores of grace.

4.
cres. Jesus, my Saviour, Shepherd, Friend,
My Prophet, Priest, and King,
My Lord, my Life, my Way, my End,
Accept the praise I bring.

5.
Weak is the effort of my heart,
And cold my warmest thought,
But when I see Thee as Thou art,
I'll praise Thee as I ought.

6.
Till then I would Thy love proclaim
With every fleeting breath ;
And may the music of Thy Name
p Refresh my soul in death ! Amen.

Hymn 98.

EVAN (C.M.)

Rev. WILLIAM HENRY HAVERGAL.

"And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, His Name was called Jesus."

1.

THERE is a Name I love to hear,
I love to sing its worth ;
It sounds like music in mine ear,
The sweetest Name on earth.

2.

It tells me of a Saviour's love,
Who died to set me free ;
It tells me of His precious blood,
The sinner's perfect plea.

3.

It tells me of a Father's smile
Beaming upon His child ;
It cheers me through this "little while,"
Through desert waste and wild.

4.

JESUS, the Name I love so well,
The Name I love to hear :
No saint on earth its worth can tell,
No heart conceive how dear.

5.

This Name shall shed its fragrance still Along this thorny road,
Shall sweetly smooth the rugged hill
That leads me up to God.

6.

cres. And there with all the blood-bought throng,
From sin and sorrow free,
I'll sing the new eternal song
Of Jesus' love to me. Amen.

Hymn 99.

TANTUM ERGO (878787).

Ancient Melody.

"A Name which is above every name."

1.

To the Name of our salvation
Laud and honour let us pay;
Which for many a generation
Hid in God's foreknowledge lay,
But with holy exultation
f We may sing aloud to-day.

2.

JESUS is the Name we treasure;
Name beyond what words can tell;
Name of gladness, Name of pleasure,
Ear and heart delighting well;
Name of sweetness, passing measure,
Saving us from sin and hell.

3.

f 'Tis the Name for adoration,
Name for songs of victory,
p Name for holy meditation
In this vale of misery,
f Name for joyful veneration
By the citizens on high.

4.

p 'Tis the Name that whoso preacheth
Speaks like music to the ear;
Who in prayer this Name beseecheth
Sweetest comfort findeth near;
Who its perfect wisdom reacheth
Heavenly joy possesseth here.

JESUS is the Name exalted
Over every other name;
In this Name, whene'er assaulted,
We can put our foes to shame;
Strength to them who else had halted,
Eyes to blind, and feet to lame.

6.

cres. Therefore we in love adoring
This most blessed Name revere;
Holy Jesu, Thee imploring
So to write it in us here,
That hereafter, heavenward soaring,
f We may sing with angels there.
Amen.

ORISONS (777777).

Treuer Heiland ! wir sind hier.

CONRAD KOCHER.

"Lo, the star . . . went before them till it came and stood over where the young child was."

1.

As with gladness men of old
Did the guiding star behold ;
As with joy they hailed its light,
Leading onward, beaming bright :
So, most gracious Lord, may we Evermore be led to Thee.

2.

cres. As with joyful steps they sped
To that lowly manger-bed ;
There to bend the knee before
Him Whom heaven and earth adore ;
So may we with willing feet
Ever seek Thy mercy-seat.

3.

As they offered gifts most rare
At that manger rude and bare ;
So may we with holy joy,
Pure and free from sin's alloy,
All our costliest treasures bring,
Christ ! to Thee, our heavenly King.

4.

Holy Jesus ! every day
Keep us in the narrow way ;
And, when earthly things are past,
Bring our ransomed souls at last
Where they need no star to guide,
Where no clouds Thy glory hide.

5.

cres. In the heavenly country bright
Need they no created light ;
Thou its Light, its Joy, its Crown,
Thou its Sun, which goes not down :
There for ever may we sing
f Hallelujahs to our King. Amen.

Hymn 101.

BASTWELL (11,10,11,10).

FIRST TUNE. SIR HERBERT STANLEY OAKELEY, Mus.D.

"We have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him."

1.

BRIGHTEST and best of the sons of the morning,
Dawn on our darkness and lend us thine aid:
Star of the East, the horizon adorning,
Guide where our infant Redeemer is laid!

2.

p Cold on His cradle the dew-drops are shining,
Low lies His head with the beasts of the stall;
Angels adore Him in slumber reclining, cres. Maker and Monarch and Saviour of all.

3.

Say, shall we yield Him, in costly devotion,
Odours of Edom, and offerings divine,
Gems of the mountain, and pearls of the ocean,
Myrrh from the forest, or gold from the mine?

4.

Vainly we offer each ample oblation,
Vainly with gifts would His favour secure;
Richer by far is the heart's adoration,
Dearer to God are the prayers of the poor.

Hymn 102.

DUNDEE (C.M.)

Scotch Psalter.

"The people that walked in darkness have seen a great Light."

1.

THE people that in darkness sat
A glorious Light have seen ;
The Light has shined on them who long
In shades of death have been.

2.

To hail Thee, Sun of Righteousness,
The gathering nations come ;
They joy as when the reapers bear
The harvest treasures home.

3.

f For unto us a Child is born,
To us a Son is given,
And on His shoulder ever rests
All power in earth and heaven.

4.

NARENZA (S.M.)

Kölner Gesangbuch.

"He that soweth the good seed is the Son of Man."

1.

Nor by Thy mighty hand, .
Thy wondrous works alone,
But by the marvels of Thy Word,
Thy glory, Christ, is known.

2.

Forth from the eternal gates,
Thine everlasting home,
To sow the seed of truth below,
Thou didst vouchsafe to come.

3.

And still from age to age
Thou, gracious Lord, hast been
The bearer forth of goodly seed,
The Sower still unseen.

4.

And Thou wilt come again,
To reap what Thou hast sown,
The Sower and the Reaper Thou,
The Gatherer of Thine own.

5.

Watch, Lord, Thy harvest-field
With Thine unsleeping eye,
The children of the kingdom keep
To Thy Epiphany ;

6.

p So, when in Thy great day
The tares shall severed be,
May we be gathered in Thy barn
With all Thy saints to Thee.

7.

Hymn 106.

ORA, LABORA (4,10,10,10,4).

Sir ROBERT STEWART, Mus.D.

"Go, work to-day in My vineyard."

1.

COME, labour on!
 Who dares stand idle on the harvest plain?
 While all around him waves the golden grain,
 And to each servant does the Master say,
"Go, work to-day!"

2.

Come, labour on!
 Claim the high calling angels cannot share,
 To young and old the Gospel-gladness bear;
 Redeem the time; its hours too swiftly fly,
p The night draws nigh.

3.

[Come, labour on!
 The labourers are few, the field is wide,
 New stations must be filled, and blanks supplied;
 From voices distant far or near at home,
 The call is "Come."]

4.

Come, labour on!
 The enemy is watching night and day,
 To sow the tares, to snatch the seed away;
 While we in sleep our duty have forgot,
pp He slumbered not.

5.

Come, labour on! [fear!
 Away with gloomy doubts and faithless
 No arm so weak but may do service here;
 By feeblest agents can our God fulfil
 His righteous will.

6.

Come, labour on!
 No time for rest, till glows the western sky, [lie,
cres. While the long shadows o'er our pathway
 And a glad sound comes with the setting
"Servants, well done!" [sun—

7.

"Of His Kingdom there shall be no end."

PSALM LXXII.

HAIL to the Lord's Anointed, Great David's greater Son !
Hail, in the time appointed,
His reign on earth begun ;
He comes to break oppression,
To set the captive free ;
To take away transgression,
And rule in equity.

2.

p He shall come down like showers
Upon the fruitful earth ;
And love, joy, hope, like flowers,
Spring in His path to birth ;
cres. Before Him on the mountains,
Shall Peace, the herald, go ;
And Righteousness, in fountains,
From hill to valley flow.

3.

[Arabia's desert-ranger
To Him shall bow the knee :
The Ethiopian stranger
His glory come to see :
With offerings of devotion,
Ships from the isles shall meet
To pour the wealth of ocean
In tribute at His feet.

4.

Kings shall fall down before Him,
And gold and incense bring ;
f All nations shall adore Him,
His praise all people sing :
For He shall have dominion
O'er river, sea, and shore,
Far as the eagle's pinion,
Or dove's light wing can soar.]

5.

p To Him shall prayer unceasing,
And daily vows, ascend ;
cres. His Kingdom still increasing—
A Kingdom without end ;
The mountain dews shall nourish
A seed, in weakness sown,
Whose fruit shall spread and flourish,
And shake like Lebanon.

cres. O'er every foe victorious,

 Triumphant songs to raise;
 Till heaven on high rejoices,
 And earth is filled with praise.
 Ten thousand hearts are bounding
 With holy hopes and free;
 The Gospel-trump is sounding,
 The trump of jubilee.

2.

O Christian brothers, glorious
 Shall be the conflict's close:
 The Cross hath been victorious,
 And shall be o'er its foes.
 Faith is our battle-token:
 Our Leader all controls;
 Our trophies, fetters broken;
 Our captives, ransomed souls.

3.

p Not unto us—Lord Jesus,
 To Thee all praise be due;
 Whose blood-bought mercy frees us,
 Has freed our brethren too.
cres. Not unto us—in glory
 The angels catch the strain,
 And cast their crowns before Thee
 Exultingly again.

4.

f Captain of our salvation,

 Thee crowning Lord of all. Amen.

Hymn 109.

Moscow (664 6664).

FELICE GIARDINI.

1.

THOU, Whose almighty word
Chaos and darkness heard,
And took their flight;
Hear us, we humbly pray,
And where the Gospel-day
Sheds not its glorious ray,
f Let there be light!

2.

Thou, Who didst come to bring,
On Thy redeeming wing,
Healing and sight,
Health to the sick in mind,
Sight to the inly blind!
Oh! now to all mankind
f Let there be light!

3.

p Spirit of truth and love,
Life-giving, holy Dove,
Speed forth Thy flight;
Move on the waters' face,
Bearing the lamp of grace,
And in earth's darkest place
f Let there be light!

4.

f Holy and Blessed Three,
Glorious Trinity,
Wisdom, Love, Might;
Boundless as ocean's tide
Rolling in fullest pride,
Through the world, far and wide,
ff Let there be light! Amen.

S. GEORGE'S, WINDSOR (7777 7777).

Sir GEORGE J. ELVEY, Mus.D.

"Alleluia, for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth."

1.

f HARK! the song of jubilee,
Loud as mighty thunder's roar,
Or the fulness of the sea,
When it breaks upon the shore:
"Hallelujah!" for the Lord
God Omnipotent shall reign;
"Hallelujah!" let the word
Echo round the earth and main.

2.

"Hallelujah!" Hark! the sound
From the centre to the skies,
Wakes above, beneath, around,
All creation's harmonies;

See Jehovah's banners furled, [done;
Sheathed His sword; He speaks—'tis
And the kingdoms of this world
Are the kingdoms of His Son.

3.

He shall reign from pole to pole
With illimitable sway;
He shall reign when, like a scroll,
Yonder heavens have passed away:
Then the end; beneath His rod Man's last enemy shall fall;
ff "Hallelujah!" Christ in God,
God in Christ, is All in All! Amen.

Hymn 112.

CALCUTTA (7676 7676).

Greek Air.

"Come over . . . and help us."

1.

FROM Greenland's icy mountains,
 From India's coral strand,
 Where Afric's sunny fountains
 Roll down their golden sand;
 From many an ancient river,
 From many a palmy plain,
 They call us to deliver
 Their land from error's chain.

2.

What though the spicy breezes
 Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle,
 Though every prospect pleases,
 And only man is vile:
 In vain with lavish kindness
 The gifts of God are strown,
 The heathen in his blindness
 Bows down to wood and stone.

3.

Can we, whose souls are lighted
 With wisdom from on high,
 Can we to men benighted
 The Lamp of Life deny?
f Salvation, O Salvation!
 The joyful sound proclaim,
 Till each remotest nation
 Has learnt Messiah's Name.

4.

Waft, waft, ye winds, His story,
 And you, ye waters, roll,
 Till, like a sea of glory,
 It spreads from pole to pole;

Hymn 121.

SYCHAR (8787).

REV. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, MUS.D.

SUNDAYS AFTER EPIPHANY: MISSIONS.

"The Lord shall reign for ever, even Thy God, O Zion."

1.
f Zion's King shall reign victorious;
All the earth shall own His sway;
He will make His kingdom glorious;
He will reign through endless day.

2.
Nations, now from God estrangèd,
Then shall see a glorious light,
Night to day shall then be changèd,
Heaven shall triumph in the sight.

3.
p Then shall Israel, long dispersèd,
Mourning seek the Lord their God,
Look on Him Whom once they piercèd,
Own and kiss the chastening rod.

4.
f Mighty King! Thine arm revealing,
Now Thy glorious cause maintain;
Bring the nations help and healing,
Make them subject to Thy reign. Amen.

ZION (8787 47).

Hymn 122.*

REV. THOMAS KELLY.

"Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem."

1.
On the mountain's top appearing,
Lo, the sacred herald stands,
Welcome news to Zion bearing,
Zion long in hostile lands:
p Mourning captive,
God Himself will loose thy bands.

2.
p Has thy night been long and mournful;
Have thy friends unfaithful proved;
Have thy foes been proud and scornful,
By thy sighs and tears unmoved?
Cease thy mourning:
cres. Zion still is well-beloved.

3.
God, thy God, will now restore thee;
He Himself appears thy Friend;
All thy foes shall flee before thee,
Here their boasts and triumphs end:
f Great deliverance
Zion's King vouchsafes to send.

4.
Enemies no more shall trouble;
All thy wrongs shall be redressed;
For thy shame thou shalt have double,
In thy Maker's favour blessed;
All thy conflicts
p End in everlasting rest. Amen.

RIPON (8686 8686).

German.

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, . . . how often would I have gathered thy children together."

1.

JERUSALEM! JERUSALEM!
 Enthronèd once on high;
 Thou favoured home of God on earth,
 Thou heaven below the sky;
 Now brought to bondage with thy sons,
 A curse and grief to see:
 Jerusalem! Jerusalem!
 Our tears shall flow for thee.

2.

p Oh! hadst thou known thy day of grace,
 And flocked beneath the wing
 Of Him who called thee lovingly,
 Thine own anointed King;
cres. Then had the tribes of all the world
 Gone up thy pomp to see,
 And glory dwelt within thy gates,
 And all thy sons been free!

3.

"And who art thou that mournest me!"
 Replied the ruin grey;
 "And fear'st not rather that thyself
 May prove a castaway?
 I am a dried and abject branch,
 My place is given to thee:
 But woe to every barren graft
 Of thy wild olive-tree!

4.

"Our day of grace is sunk in night:
 Thy noon is in its prime:
 O turn and seek thy Saviour's face,
 In this accepted time;
 So, Gentile, may Jerusalem
 A lesson prove to thee;
 And in the new Jerusalem
 Thy home for ever be!" Amen.

HALLELUJAH (8787 47).

RICHARD REDHEAD.

"I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

1.

COME, ye sinners, poor and wretched,
Come to mercy's open door!
Jesus ready stands to save you,
Full of pity, love, and power:
He is able;
He is willing; doubt no more!

2.

Let not conscience make you linger,
Nor of fitness fondly dream!
All the fitness He requireth
Is to feel your need of Him:
This He gives you;
'Tis the Spirit's rising beam.

3.

Lo! the incarnate God, ascended,
Pleads the merits of His blood;
Venture on Him, venture wholly,
Let no other trust intrude!
None but Jesus
Can do helpless sinners good.

4.

ADAM PHILIPP KRIEGER.

"There is none other name . . . given among men, whereby we must be saved."

1.
 WHEN wounded sore the stricken soul
 Lies bleeding and unbound,
 One only Hand, a pierced Hand,
 Can salve the sinner's wound.

2.
 When sorrow swells the laden breast,
 And tears of anguish flow,
 One only Heart, a broken Heart,
 Can feel the sinner's woe.

3.
 When penitence has wept in vain
 Over some foul dark spot,
 One only Stream, a Stream of Blood,
 Can wash away the blot.

4.
 'Tis Jesus' Blood that washes white,
 His Hand that brings relief;
 His Heart is touched with all our joys,
 And feeleth for our grief.

5.

SINNER, hear thy Saviour's call,
He now is passing by ;
He hath seen thy grievous thrall
And heard thy mournful cry ;
He hath pardon to impart,
Grace to save thee from thy fears ;
See the love that fills His heart,
And wipe away thy tears.

2.

Why art thou afraid to come
And tell Him all thy case ?
He will not pronounce thy doom,
Nor frown thee from His face.
Wilt thou fear Emmanuel ?
Wilt thou dread the Lamb of God,
Who, to save thy soul from hell,
Hath shed His precious blood ?

3.

Though His Majesty be great,
His mercy is no less ;
Though He thy transgressions hate,
He feels for thy distress ;
By Himself the Lord hath sworn,
He delights not in thy death,
But invites thee to return,
That thou may'st live by faith.

4.

Raise thy down-cast eyes and see
What throngs His throne surround ;
These, though sinners once like thee,
Have full salvation found ;

1. "I have found My sheep which was lost."
 I WAS a wandering sheep,
 I did not love the fold;
 I did not love my Shepherd's voice,
 I would not be controlled.
 I was a wayward child,
 I did not love my home,
 I did not love my Father's voice,
 I loved afar to roam.

2.
 The Shepherd sought His sheep,
 The Father sought His child;
 They followed me o'er vale and hill,
 O'er deserts waste and wild.
 p They found me nigh to death,

 They made me clean and fair;
 They brought me to my home in peace—
 The long-sought wanderer.

4.
 Jesus my Shepherd is,
 'Twas He that loved my soul,
 'Twas He that washed me in His blood,
 'Twas He that made me whole.
 'Twas He that sought the lost,
 That found the wandering sheep;
 'Twas He that brought me to the fold,

GETHESEMANE (7777 77).

Rev. Sir FREDERICK ARTHUR GORE OUSELEY.

"Could ye not watch with Me one hour."

1.

p Go to dark Gethsemane,
Ye that feel the Tempter's power,
Your Redeemer's conflict see;
Watch with Him one bitter hour;
Turn not from His griefs away;
Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.

2.

p Follow to the judgment-hall,
View the Lord of Life arraigned;
dim. O the wormwood and the gall!
O the pangs His soul sustained!
Shun not suffering, shame or loss,
Learn of Him to bear the cross.

3.

p Calvary's mournful mountain climb,
There, adoring at His feet,
Mark that miracle of time,
God's own sacrifice complete:
"It is finished!" hear Him cry;
Learn of Jesus Christ to die.

4.

p Early hasten to the tomb
Where they laid His breathless clay:
dim. All is solitude and gloom:
Who hath taken Him away?
f Christ is risen: He meets our eyes:
Saviour, teach us so to rise! Amen.

* This Hymn may also be sung to "PETRA," No. 165.

(165)

Hymn 170.

POTSDAM (S.M.)

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH.

"Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law."

I.

Nor all the blood of beasts
On Jewish altars slain,
Could give the guilty conscience peace,
Or wash away the stain.

2.

f But Christ, the heavenly Lamb,
Takes all our sins away ;
A sacrifice of nobler name,
And richer far than they.

3.

p My faith would lay her hand
On that dear head of Thine,
While like a penitent I stand,
And there confess my sin.

4.

f Believing, we rejoice
To see the curse remove ;
We bless the Lamb with cheerful voice, dim. And sing His bleeding Love. Amen.

(166)

Hymn 171.

MARTYRDOM (C.M.)

HUGH WILSON ?

"There shall be a fountain opened for sin and for uncleanness."

1.

THERE is a fountain filled with blood,
Drawn from Emmanuel's veins,
And sinners plunged beneath that flood
Lose all their guilty stains.

2.

The dying thief rejoiced to see
That fountain in his day;
And there have I, as vile as he,
Washed all my sins away.

3.

Dear dying Lamb, Thy precious blood
Shall never lose its power,
Till all the ransomed Church of God
Be saved to sin no more.

4.

E'er since, by faith, I saw the stream
Thy flowing wounds supply,
Redeeming love has been my theme,
And shall be till I die.

5.

cres. Then in a nobler, sweeter song,
I'll sing Thy power to save,
When this poor lisping, stammering
Lies silent in the grave. [tongue

6.

Lord, I believe Thou hast prepared,
Unworthy though I be,
For me a blood-bought free reward,
A golden harp for me.

7.

f 'Tis strung and tuned for endless years,
And formed by power divine,
To sound in God the Father's ears
No other Name but Thine. Amen.

Hymn 172.

S. SALVADOR (L.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

EMILIO PIERACCINI.

"Whosoever . . . shall be ashamed of Me . . . of him also shall the Son of Man be ashamed."

1.

JESUS! and shall it ever be,
A mortal man, ashamed of Thee!
Ashamed of Thee, Whom angels praise,
Whose glories shine through endless days!

2.

Ashamed of Jesus! that dear Friend,
On Whom my hopes of heaven depend!
No! when I blush, be this my shame,
That I no more revere His Name.

3.

Ashamed of Jesus! yes, I may,
When I've no guilt to wash away;
No tear to wipe, no good to crave,
No fears to quell, no soul to save.

4.

f Till then—nor is my boasting vain—
Till then, I boast a Saviour slain, p And oh! may this my glory be, [Amen].
That Christ is not ashamed of me!

Hymn 173.

FIRST TUNE.

S. MARY (6565).

Wem in Leidenstagen.

FRIEDRICH FILITZ, Ph.D.

"The blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things than that of Abel."

1.
f GLORY be to Jesus,
Who, in bitter pains,
dim. Poured for me the life-blood
From His sacred veins!

2.
Grace and life eternal
In that blood I find;
Blest be His compassion,
Infinitely kind!

3.
Blest through endless ages,
Be the precious stream,
Which from endless torments
Did the world redeem!

4.
Abel's blood for vengeance
Pleaded to the skies;

But the blood of Jesus
For our pardon cries.

5.
Oft as it is sprinkled
On our guilty hearts,
Satan in confusion
Terror-struck departs.

6.
cres. Oft as earth exulting
Wafts its praise on high,
Angel-hosts rejoicing
Make their glad reply.

7.
f Lift ye, then, your voices;
Swell the mighty flood;
cres. Louder still and louder ff Praise the precious blood. Amen.

Hymn 174.

RICHARD REDHEAD.

"The hour is come: behold the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners."

1.
p SEE the destined day arise!
See, a willing Sacrifice,
Jesus, to redeem our loss,
Hangs upon the shameful Cross.

2.
Jesus, who but Thou had borne,
Lifted on that tree of scorn,
Every pang and bitter throe,
Finishing Thy life of woe?

3.
Who but Thou had dared to drain,
Steeped in gall, the cup of pain?

And with tender body bear
Thorns and nails and piercing spear?

4.
Thence the cleansing Water flowed,
Mingled from Thy side with Blood;
Sign to all attesting eyes
Of the finished Sacrifice.

5.
cres. Holy Jesus, grant us grace
In that Sacrifice to place
All our trust for life renewed,
Pardoned sin and promised good.
Amen.

Hymn 175.

S. CROSS (L.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

REV. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, Mus.D.

"They crucified Him."

1.
p O COME and mourn with me awhile
 O come ye to the Saviour's side;
 O come, together let us mourn;
pp Jesus, our Lord, is crucified.

2.
 Have we no tears to shed for Him,
 While soldiers scoff and Jews deride?
 Ah! look how patiently He hangs;
pp Jesus, our Lord, is crucified.

3. [love;
 Seven times He spake, seven words of
 And all three hours His silence cried
 For mercy on the souls of men;
p Jesus, our Lord, is crucified.

4.
pp A broken heart, a fount of tears
 Ask, and they will not be denied;
 Lord Jesus, may we love and weep,
 Since Thou for us art crucified. Amen.

Hymn 176.O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden.

BACH'S PASSION CHORALE (8686 7676).

HANS LEO HASSLER.

♩ = 76.

A-men.

"Who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

I.

p O SACRED Head, surrounded
By crown of piercing thorn!
O bleeding Head, so wounded,
Reviled, and put to scorn!
Death's pallid hue comes o'er Thee,
The glow of life decays,
Yet angel-hosts adore Thee,
And tremble as they gaze.

2.

p I see Thy strength and vigour
All fading in the strife,
And death with cruel rigour Bereaving Thee of life;

cres. O agony and dying!
O love to sinners free!
Jesu, all grace supplying,
O turn Thy face on me.

3.

p In this Thy bitter Passion,
Good Shepherd, think of me,
With Thy most sweet compassion,
Unworthy though I be:
Beneath Thy Cross abiding,
For ever would I rest,

cres. In Thy dear love confiding, [Amen.
And with Thy presence blest.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Hymn 177.

S. GABRIEL (664 6664).

Rev. EDWARD SEYMOUR.

"Look unto Me, and be ye saved."

I.

My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour Divine!
p Now hear me while I pray;
cres. Take all my guilt away;
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine!

2.

May Thy rich grace impart
Strength to my fainting heart,
My zeal inspire.
cres. As Thou hast died for me,
O may my love to Thee
Pure, warm, and changeless be,
f A living fire!

3.

p While life's dark maze I tread,
And griefs around me spread,
Be Thou my Guide.
cres. Bid darkness turn to day,
Wipe sorrow's tears away, dim. Nor let me ever stray
From Thee aside.

4.

When ends life's transient dream,
When death's cold sullen stream
Shall o'er me roll;
Blest Saviour! then in love
Fear and distrust remove;
cres. O bear me safe above,
f A ransomed soul! Amen.

Hymn 178.

S. JOHN'S, WESTMINSTER (C.M.)

JAMES TURLE.

"He is our Peace."

1.

To Calvary, Lord, in spirit now
Our weary souls repair,
To dwell upon Thy dying love,
And taste its sweetness there.

2.

Sweet resting-place of every heart
That feels the plague of sin,
Yet knows that deep mysterious joy,
The peace of God within.

3.

There, through Thine hour of deepest
Thy suffering spirit passed; [woe,
Grace there its wondrous victory
And love endured its last. [gained,

4.

p Dear suffering Lamb! Thy bleeding
With cords of love divine, [wounds, cres. Have drawn our willing hearts to Thee,
And linked our life with Thine.

5.

Thy sympathies and hopes are ours;
Dear Lord! we wait to see
Creation—all, below, above—
Redeemed and blest by Thee.

6.

Our longing eyes would fain behold
That bright and blessed brow,
p Once wrung with bitterest anguish, cres. Its crown of glory now. [wear

7.

Why linger then? Come, Saviour, come,
Responsive to our call;
cres. Come, claim Thine ancient power, and reign,
f The Heir and Lord of all. Amen.

Hymn 179.

HESPERUS (L.M.)

HENRY BAKER, Mus.B.

"God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ."

I.

We sing the praise of Him Who died,
Of Him who died upon the Cross;
The sinner's hope let men deride,
For this we count the world but loss.

2.

Inscribed upon the Cross we see
In shining letters "God is love:"
p He bears our sins upon the tree;
cres. He brings us mercy from above.

3.

The Cross—it takes our guilt away;
p It holds the fainting spirit up;
It cheers with hope the gloomy day,
And sweetens every bitter cup.

4.

cres. It makes the coward spirit brave,
And nerves the feeble arm for fight;
It takes its terror from the grave,
And gilds the bed of death with light.

5.

p The balm of life, the cure of woe,
The measure and the pledge of love,
cres. The sinner's refuge here below,
The angels' theme in heaven above. Amen.

FIRST TUNE.

Wolff's Gesangbuch.

"Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy Kingdom."

I.

f THE Lord of Might, from Sinai's brow,
Gave forth His voice of thunder :
And Israel lay on earth below,
Outstretched in fear and wonder.
Beneath His feet was pitchy night,
And at His left hand and His right
The rocks were rent asunder.

2.

p The Lord of Love, on Calvary,
A meek and suffering stranger,
Upraised to heaven His languid eye
In Nature's hour of danger.

For us He bore the weight of woe,
For us He gave His blood to flow,
And met His Father's anger.

3.

f The Lord of Love, the Lord of Might,
The King of all created,
Shall back return to claim His right,
On clouds of glory seated ;
With trumpet-sound and angel-song,
ff And hallelujahs loud and long,
O'er death and hell defeated ! Amen.

CLARION (7777).

EDWARD FRANCIS RIMBAULT, LL.D.

"He is risen, as He said."

1.

CHRIST the Lord is risen to-day,
Sons of men, and angels say;
Raise your joys and triumphs high;
Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply.

2.

Love's redeeming work is done;
Fought the fight, the battle won:
Lo! our sun's eclipse is o'er;
Lo! He sets in blood no more.

3.

Vain the stone, the watch, the seal;
Christ hath burst the gates of hell;
Death in vain forbids His rise;
Christ hath opened Paradise.

4.

Lives again our glorious King;
Where, O death, is now thy sting?
Once He died our souls to save;
Where thy victory, O grave?

5.

Soar we now where Christ hath led,
Following our exalted Head:
Made like Him, like Him we rise;
cres. Ours the cross, the grave, the skies.

6.

f Hail the Lord of earth and heaven,
Praise to Thee by both be given;
Thee we greet triumphant now,
Hail the Resurrection Thou! Amen.

I.

THE day of Resurrection !
Earth ! tell it out abroad !
The passover of gladness—
The passover of God.
From death to life eternal,
From earth unto the sky,
Our Christ hath brought us over,
With hymns of victory.

2.

Our hearts be pure from evil
That we may see aright
The Lord in rays eternal
Of resurrection-light :
And, listening to His accents,
May hear, so calm and plain,
His own—All hail !—and hearing,
May raise the victor-strain.

3.

f Now let the heavens be joyful !
Let earth her song begin !
Let the round world keep triumph,
And all that is therein ;
Invisible and visible,
Their notes let all things blend,
For Christ the Lord is risen,
Our joy that hath no end. Amen.

1.

HOSANNA to the living Lord !
Hosanna to the incarnate Word !
To Christ, Creator, Saviour, King,
Let earth, let heaven, Hosanna sing :
f Hosanna in the highest !

2.

Hosanna, Lord ! Thine angels cry :
Hosanna, Lord ! Thy saints reply ;

LEBANON (878787).

Alleluia, dulce carmen.

JOHANN MICHAEL HAYDN ?

"Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us unto God by Thy blood."

I.

GLORY, glory everlasting
Be to Him Who bore the Cross,
Who redeemed our souls by tasting
Death, the death deserved by us;
f Spread His Glory,
Who redeemed His people thus!

2.

Jesu's love is love unbounded,
Without measure, without end;
Human thought is here confounded,
'Tis too vast to comprehend;
f Praise the Saviour;
Magnify the sinner's Friend!

3.

While we hear the wondrous story
Of the Saviour's Cross and shame, cres. Sing we, "Everlasting glory
Be to God and to the Lamb!"
Saints and angels,
f Give ye glory to His Name! Amen.

OLD 113TH (888888 888888).

German.

SUNDAYS AFTER EASTER.

"Blessing and honour and glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb."

I.

FROM highest heaven the Eternal Son,
With God the Father ever One,
Came down to suffer, and to die:
For love of sinful man He bore
Our human griefs and troubles sore,
Our load of guilt and misery.

2.

Sing out, ye saints of God, and praise
The Lamb, Who died His flock to raise
From sin and everlasting woe;
With angels round the throne above,
O tell the wonders of His love,
The joys that from His mercy flow.

3.

p In darkest shades of night we lay
Without a beam to guide our way,
Or hope of aught beyond the grave;
cres. But He hath brought us life and light,
And opened heaven to our sight,
And lives for ever strong to save.

4.

f Rejoice, ye saints of God, rejoice;
Sing out, and praise with cheerful voice
The Lamb Whom heaven and earth adore;
To Him Who gave His only Son,
To God the Spirit, with Them One,
Be praise and glory evermore. Amen.

1.
HARK! ten thousand voices sounding
Far and wide throughout the sky,
'Tis the voice of joy abounding,
f Jesus lives, no more to die!

2.
Jesus lives, His conflict over,
Lives to claim His great reward;
Angels round the Victor hover,
Crowding to behold their Lord.

3.
Yonder throne for Him erected
Now becomes the Victor's seat;
Lo, the Man on earth rejected,
Angels worship at His feet!

4.
f All the powers of heaven adore Him,
All obey His sovereign word;
dim. Day and night they cry before Him,

Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
And wake them to a second birth;
f But we believe that Thou didst come,
And quit for us Thy glorious home.

2.

We were not with the faithful few,
Who stood Thy bitter Cross around,
Nor heard the prayer for those who slew,
Nor felt that earthquake rock the ground;
We saw no spear-wound pierce Thy side;
Yet we believe that Thou hast died.

3.

His tender last farewell,
A Guide, a Comforter, bequeathed,
p With us to dwell.
2.
He came, sweet influence to impart,
A gracious, willing Guest,
While He can find one humble heart
p Wherein to rest.
3.
p And His that gentle voice we hear,
Soft as the breath of even,
That checks each thought, that calms
each fear,
pp And speaks of heaven.

4.
And every virtue we possess,
And every conquest won,
And every thought of holiness,
Are His alone.
5.
p Spirit of purity and grace,
Our weakness, pitying, see :
cres. O make our hearts Thy dwelling-place,
And worthier Thee.
6.
f O praise the Father ; praise the Son,
Blest Spirit, praise to Thee ;
cres. All praise to God, the Three in One,
dim. The One in Three. Amen.

Hymn 216.

VENI, CREATOR SPIRITUS (L.M.)

GIOVANNI PIERLUIGI DA PALESTRINA ?

WHITSUNTIDE.

"He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you for ever."

I.

COME, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
And lighten with celestial fire;
Thou the anointing Spirit art,
Who dost Thy seven-fold gifts impart.

2.

Thy blessèd unction from above,
Is comfort, life, and fire of love;
Enable with perpetual light
The dulness of our blinded sight.

3.

Anoint and cheer our soilèd face
With the abundance of Thy grace;
Keep far our foes, give peace at home:
Where Thou art Guide no ill can come.

4.

Teach us to know the Father, Son,
And Thee, of both, to be but One,
That through the ages all along,
This still may be our endless song;

After last Verse.

Hymn 217.

TALLIS'S ORDINAL (C.M.)

THOMAS TALLIS.

"There are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit."

1.

SPIRIT Divine, attend our prayer,
And make this house Thy home;
Descend with all Thy gracious power;
O come, great Spirit, come!

2.

Come as the light—to us reveal
Our emptiness and woe;
And lead us in those paths of life
Where all the righteous go.

3.

cres. Come as the fire—and purge our hearts
Like sacrificial flame;
Let our whole soul an offering be
To our Redeemer's Name.

4.

p Come as the dew—and sweetly bless
This consecrated hour:
May barren minds be taught to own
Thy fertilizing power.

5.

p Come as the dove—and spread Thy wings,
The wings of peaceful love:
And let the Church on earth become Blest as the Church above. Amen.

Hymn 218.

S. ETHELDREDA (C.M.)

Right Rev. THOMAS TURTON, D.D.

WHITSUNTIDE.

"The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost."

1.

COME, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove,
With all Thy quickening powers:
Kindle a flame of sacred love
In these cold hearts of ours.

2.

See how we linger here below,
Fond of these earthly toys;
Our souls—how heavily they go
To reach eternal joys!

3.

In vain we tune our lifeless songs;
In vain we strive to rise;
p Hosannas languish on our tongues,
And our devotion dies.

4.

Dear Lord, and shall we ever be
In this poor dying state;
Our love so faint, so cold to Thee,
And Thine to us so great?

5.

cres. Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove,
With all Thy quickening powers;
Come, shed abroad a Saviour's love
And that shall kindle ours. Amen.

Hymn 219.

S. HILARY (L.M.)

GEORGE HEWS.

"Let Thy loving Spirit lead me."

1.

COME, Gracious Spirit, Heavenly Dove,
With light and comfort from above;
Be Thou our Guardian, Thou our Guide,
O'er every thought and step preside.

2.

The light of truth to us display,
And make us know and love Thy way;
Plant holy fear in every heart,
That we from God may ne'er depart.

3.

Lead us to holiness, the road
That we must take to dwell with God:
Lead us to Christ, the living way;
Nor let us from His pastures stray.

4.

cres. Lead us to God, our final rest,
To be with Him for ever blest;
f Lead us to heaven, the seat of bliss,
Where pleasure in perfection is.

Amen.

Hymn 220.

MOCCAS (S.M.)

ALEXANDER ROBERT REINAGLE.

"As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

1.

COME, Holy Spirit, come,
 Let Thy bright beams arise,
 Dispel the darkness from our minds,
 And open all our eyes.

2.

Revive our drooping faith,
 Our doubts and fears remove,
 And kindle in our breast the flame
 Of never dying love.

3.

p Convince us of our sin,
 Then lead to Jesus' blood, cres. And to our wondering view reveal
 The secret love of God.

4.

'Tis Thine to cleanse the heart,
 To sanctify the soul,
 To pour fresh life in every part,
 And new create the whole.

5.

Dwell therefore in our hearts,
 Our minds from bondage free;
cres. Then we shall know and praise and love
 The Father, Son, and Thee. Amen.

Hymn 221.

KIEL (7777).

FIRST TUNE.

ANDREAS JACOB ROMBERG, Ph.D.

"Who hath also given unto us the earnest of the Spirit."

1.
GRACIOUS Spirit, Love divine!
Let Thy light around us shine;
All our guilty fears remove,
Fill us with Thy peace and love.

2.
p Pardon to the contrite give;
Bid the wounded sinner live;
Lead us to the Lamb of God;
Wash us in His precious blood.

3.
p Earnest Thou of heavenly rest,
Comfort every troubled breast;
cres. Life and joy and peace impart,
Sanctifying every heart.

4.
Guardian Spirit, lest we stray,
Keep us in the heavenly way;
cres. Bring us to Thy courts above, [Amen.
f Realms of light and endless love.

Hymn 222. Rev. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, Mus. D.

"By His Spirit He hath garnished the heavens."

1.
CREATOR Spirit! by whose aid
The world's foundations first were laid,
Come, visit every humble mind,
Come, pour Thy joys on human-kind:
p From sin and sorrow set us free,
And make Thy temples meet for Thee.

2.
Thrice Holy Fount! thrice Holy Fire!
Our hearts with heavenly love inspire;
Our frailty help, our vice control,
And calm the passions of the soul:
Come, and Thy sacred unction bring,
To sanctify us while we sing.

3.
f Immortal honour, endless fame
Attend the Almighty Father's Name;
Let God the Son be glorified,
Who for lost man's redemption died;
And equal adoration be,
Eternal Comforter, to Thee. Amen.

"He shall teach you all things."

1.
COME, Holy Ghost, come, Lord our God,
 And shed Thy heavenly gifts abroad
 On us, and unto every heart
 True faith and fervent love impart.
 O Lord, Who by Thy heavenly light
 Hast called Thy Church from sinful night,
 Out of all nations, tribes, and places,
 To Thee we render thanks and praises;

f Hallelujah!

2.
 Thou Light divine, most gracious Lord,
 Revive us by Thy holy Word,
 And teach Thy flock in truth to call
 On God the Father of us all;
 From all strange doctrines us preserve,
 No other master may we serve
 But Christ, Who is our only Saviour;
 In Him we will confide for ever.

f Hallelujah!

3.
p O Holy Ghost, kind Comforter,
 Help us with watchfulness and prayer,
 Midst various trials Thee to obey,
 And never from the truth to stray:
cres. O Lord, by Thy almighty grace,
 Prepare us so to run our race,
 That we, by Thy illumination,
 May gain heaven's glorious habitation.

Hymn 224.

DEEHURST (8787 8787).

JAMES LANGRAN.

"One cried unto another and said, Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord of Hosts."

1.

ROUND the Lord in glory seated
Cherubim and seraphim
Filled His temple, and repeated
Each to each the alternate hymn—
"Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven,
Earth is with Thy fulness stored;
Unto Thee be glory given,
Holy, holy, holy Lord."

2.

f Heaven is still with glory ringing,
Earth takes up the angels' cry,
p "Holy, holy, holy," singing,
"Lord of Hosts, the Lord most high."

With His seraph-train before Him,
With His holy Church below,
Thus conspire we to adore Him,
Bid we thus our anthem flow:

3.

f "Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven,
Earth is with Thy fulness stored;
Unto Thee be glory given,
Holy, holy, holy Lord."
Thus Thy glorious Name confessing,
We adopt Thy angels' cry,
"Holy, holy, holy," blessing [Amen.
Thee, the Lord of Hosts most high.

TRINITY SUNDAY.

Hymn 225.

EDWARD GRIFFITHS.

"They rest not day and night, saying, Holy, Holy, Holy!"

1.

Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty,
Early in the morning our songs shall rise to Thee!

Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty; cres. God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

2.

Holy, Holy, Holy! all the saints adore Thee,
Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea,
Cherubim and seraphim falling down before Thee, cres. Which wert, and art, and evermore shall be.

3.

p Holy, Holy, Holy! though the darkness hide Thee,
Though the eye of sinful man Thy glory may not see;
Only Thou art holy: there is none beside Thee cres. Perfect in power, in love, and purity.

4.

Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty,
All Thy works shall praise Thy Name in earth and sky and sea;

p, cres. Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty!

f God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity! Amen.

FRIEDRICH FILITZ, Ph.D.

"The Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ."

I.

THREE in One, and One in Three,
Ruler of the earth and sea,
Hear us while we lift to Thee
Holy chant and psalm.

2.

Light of lights! with morning, shine;
Lift on us Thy Light divine;
And let Charity benign
p Breathe on us her balm.

3.

Light of lights! when falls the even,
Let it close on sin forgiven;
Fold us in the peace of heaven,
p Shed a holy calm.

4.

cres. Three in One and One in Three,
Dimly here we worship Thee;
With the saints hereafter we Hope to bear the palm. Amen.

Hymn 227.

EISENACH (L.M.)

Mach's mit mir, Gott, nach deiner Güte.

JOHANN HERMANN SCHEIN.

"I have found a ransom."

1.

FATHER of Heaven, Whose love profound
A ransom for our souls hath found,
Before Thy throne we sinners bend ;
p To us Thy pardoning love extend.

2.

Almighty Son, incarnate Word,
Our Prophet, Priest, Redeemer, Lord,
Before Thy throne we sinners bend ;
To us Thy saving grace extend.

3.

Eternal Spirit, by Whose breath
The soul is raised from sin and death,
Before Thy throne we sinners bend ;
To us Thy quickening power extend.

4.

f Jehovah—Father, Spirit, Son—
Mysterious Godhead, Three in One !
p Before Thy throne we sinners bend ;
cres. Grace, pardon, life to us extend. Amen.

Hymn 228.

MANNHEIM (8787 87).

Auf, auf, weil der Tag erschienen.

FRIEDRICH FILITZ, Ph.D.

"I am with thee, and will keep thee."

I.

LEAD us! Heavenly Father, lead us
O'er the world's tempestuous sea;
Guard us, guide us, keep us, feed us,
For we have no help but Thee:
Yet possessing
Every blessing,
If our God our Father be.

2.

Saviour, breathe forgiveness o'er us;
All our weakness Thou dost know;
Thou didst tread this earth before us,
Thou didst feel its keenest woe:
p Lone and dreary,
Faint and weary,
Through the desert Thou didst go.

3.

Spirit of our God, descending,
Fill our hearts with heavenly joy;
Love with every feeling blending,
Pleasure that can never cloy:
Thus provided,
Pardoned, guided,
Nothing can our peace destroy. Amen.

Hymn 229.

ANGELS (L.M.)

ORLANDO GIBBONS, Mus.D.

"I pray God your whole spirit, soul, and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ."

I.

O LORD, our Maker! ever near,
Both soul and body bless and cheer;
From all that's ill by day—by night,
Protect us, through Thy guardian might.

2.

O Lord, our Saviour, Sun of Grace!
Shed down on us Thy gladdening rays,
That we in faith may look to Thee—
That Thou to us may'st gracious be.

3.

O Lord, our Comforter divine,
On us Thy presence ever shine!
Thine image on our souls imprest,
p May we in peace unbroken rest.

4.

f Jehovah—Father, Spirit, Son—
Full Spring of bliss, which still shall run,
With streams of life our spirits fill,
That we may praise and bless Thee still. Amen.

HYMNS OF PRAISE: THE WORKS AND WORD OF GOD.

NOTTINGHAM (C.M.)

JEREMIAH CLARK.

"I will extol Thee, my God, O King."

PSALM CXLV.

I.

f THEE I'll extol, my God and King,
Thy endless praise proclaim;
This tribute daily I will bring,
And ever bless Thy Name.

2.

Thou, Lord, beyond compare art great,
And highly to be praised;
Thy majesty, with boundless height,
Above our knowledge raised.

3.

Thy love through earth extends its fame,
To all Thy works expressed;
These show Thy praise, whilst Thy great Name
Is by Thy servants blessed.

4.

Thy steadfast throne, from changes free,
Shall stand for ever fast;
Thy boundless sway no end shall see,
But time itself outlast. Amen.

Hymn 231.

BICKLEIGH (6666 4444).

SAMUEL REAY, Mus.B.

"Praise ye the Lord."

PSALM CXLVIII.

I.

YE boundless realms of joy,
Exalt your Maker's fame,
His praise your song employ Above the starry frame;
cres. Your voices raise,
Ye cherubim
And seraphim,
To sing His praise.

2.

Thou moon, that rul'st the night,
And sun that guid'st the day;
Ye glittering stars of night,
To Him your homage pay;
His praise declare,
Ye heavens above,
And clouds that move
In liquid air.

3.

f Let them adore the Lord,
And praise His holy Name,
By Whose almighty word
They all from nothing came;
And all shall last
From changes free;
His firm decree
Stands ever fast. Amen.

ALLA TRINITA BEATA (8787 8787).

Laudi Spirituali.

"O praise the Lord of Heaven."

1.

PSALM CXLVIII.

2.

PRAISE the Lord! ye heavens adore Him;
Praise Him, angels, in the height;
Sun and moon, rejoice before Him,
Praise him, all ye stars and light:
Praise the Lord! for He hath spoken,
Worlds His mighty voice obeyed;
Laws, which never shall be broken,
For their guidance He hath made.

Praise the Lord! for He is glorious;
Never shall His promise fail;
cres. God hath made His saints victorious,
Sin and death shall not prevail.
f Praise the God of our salvation;
Hosts on high, His power proclaim;
ff Heaven and earth and all creation,
Laud and magnify His Name!

Amen.

Hymn 234.

BEXLEY (C.M.)

Anonymous.

"I will praise Thee, O Lord."

PSALM IX.

1.

To celebrate Thy praise, O Lord,
I will my heart prepare;
To all the listening world Thy works,
Thy wondrous works, declare.

2.

The thought of them shall to my soul
Exalted pleasure bring:
Whilst to Thy Name, O Thou most High,
Triumphant praise I sing.

3.

All those who have Thy goodness proved
Will in Thy truth confide;
Whose mercy ne'er forsook the man
That on Thy help relied.

4.

f Sing praises, therefore, to the Lord,
From Zion, His abode;
Proclaim His deeds, till all the world
Confess no other God. Amen.

THE WORKS AND WORD OF GOD.

"The heavens declare the glory of God."

PSALM XIX.

1.

THE heavens declare Thy glory,
The firmament Thy power,
Day unto day the story
Repeats from hour to hour—
Night unto night replying,
Proclaims in every land,
O Lord, with voice undying
The wonders of Thy hand.

2.

f The sun with royal splendour,
Goes forth to chant Thy praise,
p Stars, moonbeams soft and tender,
Their gentle anthems raise;
O'er every tribe and nation
That music strange is poured, cres. The song of all creation
To Thee, creation's Lord!

3.

p How perfect, just and holy
The precepts Thou hast given!
Still making wise the lowly,
They lift the thoughts to heaven;
How pure, how soul-restoring,
Thy Gospel's heavenly lay;
A brighter radiance pouring
Than noon of brightest day.

4.

Thy statutes, Lord, with gladness,
Rejoice the humble heart,
And guilty fear and sadness
From contrite souls depart.
Thy Word hath nobler treasure
Than dwells within the mine—
And sweetness beyond measure
Attends Thy voice divine.

5.

p Oh! who can make confession
Of every secret sin,
Or keep from all transgression
His spirit pure within?
But let me never boldly
From Thy commands depart,
Or render to Thee coldly
The service of my heart.

6.

All heaven on high rejoices
To do its Maker's will,
The stars with solemn voices
Resound Thy praises still;
So let my whole behaviour—
Thoughts, words, and actions be, cres. O Lord, my Strength and Saviour,
One ceaseless song to Thee! Amen.

Hymn 236.

MUNICH (7676 7676).

O Gott, du frommer Gott.

Württembergischer Gesangbuch.

"While ye have the light, believe in the light."

1.

O WORD OF GOD incarnate,
O Wisdom from on high,
O Truth unchanged, unchanging,
O Light of our dark sky ;
We praise Thee for the radiance
That from the hallowed page,
A lantern to our footsteps,
Shines on from age to age.

2.

The Church from her dear Master
Received the gift divine,
And still that light she lifteth
O'er all the earth to shine.
It is the golden casket,
Where gems of truth are stored ;
It is the heaven-drawn picture
Of Christ the living Word.

3.

It floateth like a banner
Before God's host unfurled ;
It shineth like a beacon
Above the darkling world :
It is the chart and compass,
That o'er life's surging sea,
'Mid mists and rocks and quicksands,
Still guide, O Christ, to Thee.

4.

O make Thy Church, dear Saviour,
A lamp of burnished gold,
To bear before the nations
Thy true light as of old ;
p O teach Thy wandering pilgrims
By this their path to trace, cres. Till clouds and darkness ended,
They see Thee face to face. Amen.

PSALM XCIII.

1.
WITH glory clad, with strength arrayed,
The Lord, that o'er all nature reigns,
The world's foundations strongly laid,
And the vast fabric still sustains.

2.
How surely stablished is Thy throne,
Which shall no change or period see!
For Thou, O Lord, and Thou alone,
Art God from all eternity.

3.

PROVIDENCE.

"While I live will I praise the Lord."

PSALM CXLVI.

I.

I'LL praise my Maker while I've breath,
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler powers :
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last,
Or immortality endures.

2.

Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Israel's God : He made the sky
And earth and seas, with all their train :
His truth for ever stands secure ;
He saves the oppressed, He feeds the poor,
And none shall find His promise vain.

3.

p The Lord gives eyesight to the blind ;
The Lord supports the sinking mind ;
He sends the labouring conscience peace :
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless,
And grants the prisoner sweet release.

4.

cres. I'll praise Him while He lends me breath,
And, when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler powers :
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last,
f Or immortality endures. Amen.

Hymn 244.

BEDFORD (C.M.)

WILLIAM WHEALL, Mus.B.

PROVIDENCE.

"I will love Thee, O Lord."

PSALM XXXIV.

1.
THROUGH all the changing scenes of life,
In trouble and in joy,
The praises of my God shall still
My heart and tongue employ.

2.
O magnify the Lord with me,
With me exalt His Name;
When in distress to Him I called,
He to my rescue came.

3.
O make but trial of His love,
Experience will decide,
How blessed they are, and only they,
Who in His truth confide.

4.
For God preserves the souls of those Who on His truth depend;
To them and their posterity
His blessing shall descend. Amen.

Hymn 245.

BELMONT (C.M.)

SAMUEL WEBBE, jun.?

"Rejoicing in tribulation."

1.
IN trouble and in grief, O God,
Thy smile hath cheered my way,
And joy hath budded from each thorn
That round my footsteps lay.

2.
p The hours of pain have yielded good,
Which prosperous days refused,
As herbs, though scentless when entire,
Perfume the air when bruised.

3.
cres. The oak strikes deeper as its boughs
f By furious blasts are driven, dim. So life's vicissitudes the more p Have fixed my heart in heaven.

4.
All-gracious Lord! whate'er my lot
At other times may be,
I'll welcome still the heaviest grief
That brings me near to Thee. Amen.

HYMNS OF PRAISE:

ADORATION (8686 887).

Hymn 246.

REV. GEORGE WILLIAM TORRANCE.

"O give thanks unto the God of heaven."

1.
ALL praise and thanks to God most High,
The Father of all love!
The God Who doeth wondrously,
The God Who from above
My soul with richest solace fills,
♩ The God Who every sorrow stills;
f Give to our God the glory!

2.
The hosts of heaven Thy praises tell,
All thrones bow down to Thee,
And all who in Thy shadow dwell,
In earth and air and sea,
Declare and laud their Maker's might,
Whose wisdom orders all things right;
f Give to our God the glory!

3.
And for the creatures He hath made
Our God shall well provide,
His grace shall be their constant aid,
Their guard on every side.
His kingdom ye may surely trust,
There all is equal, all is just;
f Give to our God the glory!

4.
Ah! then, till life hath reached its bound,
My God, I'll worship Thee;
The chorus of Thy praise shall sound
Far over land and sea.
cres. O soul and body now rejoice,
My heart send forth a gladsome voice;
f Give to our God the glory!

5.
f All ye who name Christ's holy Name,
Give to our God the glory!
Ye who the Father's power proclaim,
Give to our God the glory!
All idols under foot be trod,
The Lord is God! the Lord is God!
ff Give to our God the glory!

Hymn 247.

HANOVER—OLD 104TH—(5555 6565).

WILLIAM CROFT, Mus.D.?

"Thou art become exceeding glorious."

PSALM CIV.

1.
O worship the King
All-glorious above;
O gratefully sing
His power and His love;
Our Shield and Defender,
The Ancient of days,
Pavilioned in splendour,
And girded with praise.

2.
O tell of His might,
O sing of His grace,
Whose robe is the light,
Whose canopy space;
His chariots of wrath
Deep thunder-clouds form,
And dark is His path
On the wings of the storm.

3.
The earth with its store
Of wonders untold,
Almighty, Thy power
Hath founded of old,
Hath established it fast
By a changeless decree,
And round it hath cast,
Like a mantle, the sea.

4.
p Thy bountiful care
What tongue can recite?
It breathes in the air,
It shines in the light;
It streams from the hills,
It descends to the plain,
And sweetly distils
In the dew and the rain.

5.
cres. Frail children of dust,
And feeble as frail,
In Thee do we trust,
Nor find Thee to fail.
Thy mercies how tender!
How firm to the end!
f Our Maker, Defender,
Redeemer and Friend!

6.
f O measureless Might,
Ineffable Love!
While angels delight
To hymn Thee above,
Thy ransomed creation,
p Though feeble their lays,
cres. With true adoration,
Shall sing to Thy praise. Amen.

Hymn 248.

BUSSLIED (L.M.)

An dir allein, an dir hab' ich gesündigt.

LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN.

"Thou art my God, and I will praise Thee."

I.

ETERNAL Sovereign, Lord of all,
Prostrate before Thy throne we fall;
While here our claim and song we raise,
f "Thou art our God, and Thee we'll praise."

2.

Hence all our comfort, safety, peace,
And all those joys which never cease;
Thou Guide and Strength of all our ways,
f "Thou art our God, and Thee we'll praise."

3.

p In all our trials and our fears,
In all our sorrows and our tears;
In all our dark and gloomy days,
f "Thou art our God, and Thee we'll praise."

4.

cres. Be this our glory, when we rise
To that bright world above the skies:
For ever there this song we'll raise,
ff "Thou art our God, and Thee we'll praise." Amen.

Hymn 249.

CIVITAS REGIS MAGNI (8787 87).

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

"Praise the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."

PSALM CIII.

I.

PRAISE, my soul, the King of heaven;
To His feet Thy tribute bring;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven,
Who like me His praise should sing?
cres. Hallelujah, Hallelujah! *
Praise the everlasting King!

2.

Praise Him for His grace and favour
To our Fathers in distress;
Praise Him, still the same for ever,
Slow to chide and swift to bless:
cres. Hallelujah, Hallelujah! *
Glorious in His faithfulness!

3.

p Father-like He tends and spares us;
Well our feeble frame He knows;
In His hands He gently bears us,
Rescues us from all our foes:
cres. Hallelujah, Hallelujah! *
Widely as His mercy flows!

4.

f Angels in the height adore Him,
They behold Him face to face;
Sun and moon bow down before Him;
Dwellers all in time and space,
cres. Hallelujah, Hallelujah! * [Amen.
ff Praise with us the God of grace.

* Or—praise Him, praise Him!

Hymn 250.

Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend'.

PRAGUE (L.M.)

JOHANN HUSS.

"Give thanks unto the Lord."

PSALM CVI.

I.

O RENDER thanks to God above,
The fountain of eternal love;
Whose mercy firm through ages past
Has stood, and shall for ever last.

2.

Who can His mighty deeds express,
Not only vast but numberless?
What mortal eloquence can raise
His tribute of immortal praise?

3.

Extend to me that favour, Lord,
Thou to Thy chosen dost afford;
When Thou return'st to set them free,
Let Thy salvation visit me.

4.

p O may I worthy prove to see Thy saints in full prosperity, cres. That I the joyful choir may join,
And count Thy people's triumph mine.

5.

f Let Israel's God be ever blessed,
His Name eternally confessed:
Let all His saints with full accord,
ff Sing loud Amens—Praise ye the Lord. Amen.

Lobt Gott, ihr Christen allzugleich.

JOACHIMSTHAL (C.M.)

NICOLAUS HERMANN.

REDEMPTION.

"I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne."

1.
f COME, let us join our cheerful songs
With angels round the throne;
Tenthousand thousand are their tongues,
But all their joys are one.

2.
"Worthy the Lamb that died," they cry,
"To be exalted thus;"
p "Worthy the Lamb," our lips reply, cres. "For He was slain for us."

3.
Jesus is worthy to receive
Honour and power divine;
And blessings more than we can give
Be, Lord, for ever Thine.

4.
Let all that dwell above the sky,
And air and earth and seas,
Conspire to lift Thy glories high,
And speak Thine endless praise.

5.
f The whole creation join in one,
To bless the sacred Name
Of Him that sits upon the throne,
And to adore the Lamb. Amen.

FIRST TUNE.

WILLIAM SHRUBSOLE.

"A name which is above every name."

1.
ALL hail the power of Jesus' Name !
Let angels prostrate fall ;
Bring forth the royal diadem,
f And crown Him Lord of all.

2.
Crown Him, ye martyrs of our God,
Who from His altar call ;
Of Jesse's stem extol the rod,
f And crown Him Lord of all.

3.
Let high-born seraphs tune the lyre,
And as they tune it, fall
Before His face Who formed their choir,
f And crown Him Lord of all.

4.
Ye souls redeemed of Adam's race,
Ye ransomed from the fall,
Hail Him Who saves you by His grace,
f And crown Him Lord of all.

5.
Let every kindred, every tribe,
On this terrestrial ball,
To Him all majesty ascribe,
f And crown Him Lord of all.

6.
O that with yonder sacred throng,
We at His feet may fall,
There join the everlasting song,

"Blessing and honour and glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb."

1.

THOU, God, all glory, honour, power,
Art worthy to receive ;
Since all things by Thy word were made,
And by Thy bounty live.

2.

And worthy is the Lamb all power,
Honour, and wealth to gain,
Glory and strength; Who for our sins dim. A sacrifice was slain.

3.

f All worthy Thou, Who hast redeemed
And ransomed us to God,
From every nation, every land,
dim. By Thy most precious blood.

4.

ff Blessing and honour, glory, power,
By all in earth and heaven,
To Him that sits upon the throne
And to the Lamb be given. Amen.

Hymn 254.

SICILIAN MARINERS (8787).

Anonymous.

"Unite my heart to fear Thy Name."

1.
COME, Thou Fount of every blessing,
Tune my heart to sing Thy grace; cres. Streams of mercy, never ceasing,
f Call for songs of loudest praise.

2.
p Jesus sought me when a stranger
Wandering from the fold of God;
He, to save my soul from danger,
Interposed His precious blood.

3.
Oh! to grace how great a debtor
Daily I'm constrained to be!
Let that grace, Lord, like a fetter,
Bind my wandering heart to Thee.

4.
p Prone to wander, Lord, I feel it,
Prone to leave the God I love; [it, cres. Here's my heart, Lord, take and seal
Seal it for Thy courts above. Amen.

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

REDEMPTION.

"By grace are ye saved, through faith."

1.
GRACE! 'tis a charming sound,
Harmonious to the ear;
Heaven with the echo shall resound,
And all the earth shall hear.

2.
Grace taught my wandering feet
To tread the heavenly road;
And new supplies each hour I meet
While pressing on to God.

3.
Grace taught my soul to pray,
And made my eyes o'erflow;
'Twas grace that kept me to this day,
And will not let me go.

4.
Grace all the work shall crown
Through everlasting days;
It lays to heaven the topmost stone
And well deserves the praise.

5.
cres. O let Thy grace inspire
My soul with strength divine!
May all my powers to Thee aspire,
And all my days be Thine. Amen.

INNOCENTS (7777).

GIOVANNI BATTISTA PERGOLESI?

"Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us."

1.
Now begin the heavenly theme,
Sing aloud in Jesus' Name;
Ye who Jesus' kindness prove, cres. Triumph in redeeming love.

2.
p Mourning souls, dry up your tears,
Banish all your guilty fears;
See your guilt and curse remove, cres. Cancelled by redeeming love.

3.
Welcome all by sin opprest,
Welcome to His sacred rest;
Nothing brought Him from above,
Nothing but redeeming love.

4.
p When His Spirit leads us home,
When we to His glory come,
We shall all the fulness prove
Of our Lord's redeeming love.

5.
cres. Hither then, your music bring,
Strike aloud each joyful string;
Mortals, join the hosts above,
f Join to praise redeeming love! Amen.

Hymn 257.

Unser Herrscher, unser König.

DÜSSELDORF (8787 77).

JOACHIM NEANDER.

"Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to Him."

1.

LET us love and sing and wonder,
Let us praise the Saviour's Name !
He has hushed the law's loud thunder,
He has quenched Mount Sinai's flame :
cres. He has washed us in His blood,
He has brought us nigh to God.

2.

Let us love the Lord Who bought us,
Pitied us when enemies ;
Called us by His grace, and taught us,
Healed the blindness of our eyes :
cres. He has washed us in His blood,
He presents our souls to God.

3.

Let us sing, though fierce temptation
Threaten hard to bear us down !
For the Lord, our strong Salvation,
Holds in view the conqueror's crown :
cres. He, Who washed us in His blood,
Soon will bring us home to God.

4.

f Let us praise, and join the chorus
Of the saints enthroned on high ; dim. Here they trusted Him before us,
Now their praises fill the sky :
cres. "Thou hast washed us in Thy blood, [Amen.
ff Thou art worthy, Lamb of God !"

2.

p Son of God, to Thee we bow,
Thou art Lord, and only Thou ;
Thou the woman's promised seed, cres. Glory of Thy Church, and Head !

3.

Thee the angels ceaseless sing,
Thee we praise, our Priest and King :
Worthy is Thy Name of praise,
Full of glory, full of grace !

4.

Thou hast the glad tidings brought
Of salvation by Thee wrought ;
Wrought to set Thy people free—
Wrought to bring our souls to Thee !

5.

May we follow and adore
Thee, our Saviour, more and more :
Guide and bless us with Thy love,
Till we join Thy saints above ! Amen.

Hymn 259.

LITANY (8787 47).

FIRST TUNE.

WALTER NEWPORT.

"Blessed are the people who have the Lord for their God."

1.
 HAPPY they who trust in Jesus,
 Sweet their portion is, and sure;
 When the foe on others seizes,
 He will keep His own secure.
 Happy people!
 Happy, though despised and poor.

2.
 Ye whom God has saved from error,
 Ye who know the joyful sound,
 Fear ye not the nightly terror,
 Arms of mercy close you round;
 Dread no evil!
 God will all your foes confound.

3.
 Since His love and mercy found you,
 Ye are precious in His sight;
 Thousands now may fall around you,
 Thousands more be put to flight;
 But His presence
 Keeps you safe by day and night.

4.
 Lo! your Saviour never slumbers,
 Ever watchful is His care:
 Though ye cannot boast of numbers,
 In His strength secure ye are:
 Sweet their portion,
 Who our Saviour's kindness share.

5.
 As the bird beneath her feathers
 Guards the objects of her care,
 So the Lord His children gathers
 Spreads His wing, and hides them there:
 Thus protected,
cres. All their foes they boldly dare. Amen.

"As many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ."

1.

JESUS, Thy blood and righteousness
My beauty are, my glorious dress:
'Midst flaming worlds, in these arrayed,
With joy shall I lift up my head.

2.

When from the dust of earth I rise,
To claim my mansion in the skies,
E'en then shall this be all my plea,
"Jesus hath lived and died for me."

3.

Bold shall I stand in Thy great day,
For who aught to my charge can lay?
Fully through Thee absolved I am
From sin and fear, from guilt and shame.

4.

This spotless robe the same appears,
When ruined nature sinks in years!
No age can change its glorious hue—
The robe of Christ is ever new.

5.

3.

Heaven and earth must pass away;
Songs of praise shall crown that day:
God will make new heaven and earth;
Songs of praise shall hail their birth.

4.

p And shall man alone be dumb
Till that glorious kingdom come?
cres. No;—the Church delights to raise Psalms and hymns and songs of praise

5.

Saints below, with heart and voice,
Still in songs of praise rejoice:
Learning here, by faith and love,
Songs of praise to sing above.

6.

Borne upon their latest breath,
Songs of praise shall conquer death;
cres. Then amidst eternal joy, [Amen.
f Songs of praise their powers employ.

Hymn 269.

Anonymous.

"Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by Thy blood."

1.

To Him Who for our sins was slain,
To Him, for all His dying pain,
f Sing we Hallelujah !
To Him, the Lamb our Sacrifice,
Who gave His soul our ransom-price,
f Sing we Hallelujah !

2.

p To Him Who died that we might die
To sin, and live with Him on high,
f Sing we Hallelujah !
To Him Who rose that we might rise
And reign with Him beyond the skies,
f Sing we Hallelujah !

3.

p To Him Who now for us doth plead,
And helpeth us in all our need,
f Sing we Hallelujah !
To Him Who doth prepare on high
Our home in immortality,
f Sing we Hallelujah !

4.

To Him be glory evermore :
Ye heavenly hosts, your Lord adore !
f Sing we Hallelujah !
To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
One God most High, our joy and boast, ff Sing we Hallelujah ! Amen.

Hymn 270.

BIBERACH (8888 88).

JUSTIN HEINRICH KNECHT.

"Give thanks unto the Lord, for He is gracious."

I.

With thanks before the Lord appear,
Adore His precious saving Name :
His patience, faithfulness, and care,
Our humble, grateful praises claim ;
His goodness none can comprehend,
His tender mercies know no end.

2.

f Worthy the Lamb ! let every breath
His lauds in ceaseless strains repeat ;
p Worthy the Lamb, that for His death
Each pulse should to His honour cres. That to His throne the sacrifice [beat ;
Of prayer and praise like incense rise. Amen.

HERRNHUT (898898 66488).

Wachet auf ! ruft uns die Stimme.

PHILIPP NICOLAI.

REDEMPTION.

"They sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy."

1.

O LORD our God, in reverence lowly,
The host of heaven call Thee "Holy,"
From cherubim and seraphim,
From angel-phalanx, far extending, cres. In fuller tones is still ascending
The "Holy, Holy, Holy" hymn.
The Fount of joy Thou art,
E'er filling every heart,
Ever! Ever!

We too are Thine, and with them sing,
f "Thou, Lord, and only Thou, art King."

2.

Lord, there are bending now before Thee,
The Elders, with their crownèd glory,
The firstborn of the blessèd band;
There, too, their weary conflicts o'er,
Those who have gained the heavenly shore
In glad unnumbered myriads stand.
cres. Loud are the songs of praise,
Their mingled voices raise,
Ever! Ever!

We too are Thine, and with them sing,
f "Thou, Lord, and only Thou, art King."

3.

p They sing, in sweet and sinless numbers,
The wondrous love that never slumbers,
And of the wisdom, power, and might,
cres. The truth and faithfulness abiding,
And over all Thy works presiding;
But they can scarcely praise aright;
dim. For all is never sung,
Even by seraphs' tongue,
p Never! Never!
cres. We too are Thine, and with them sing,
f "Thou, Lord, and only Thou, art King."

4.

Come, Lord! reveal Thyself more fully,
That we may learn to praise more truly;
Make every heart a temple true,
Filled with Thy glory overflowing,
More of Thy love each morning showing,
And waking praises loud and new.
p Here let Thy peace divine
Upon Thy children shine,
Ever! Ever!
cres. And glad or sad, we ever sing, [Amen
f "Thou, Lord, and only Thou, art King."

Hymn 272.

CONWAY (6686 47).

Anonymous.

"Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance."

1.
FROM Egypt lately come,
Where death and darkness reign,
We seek our new, our better home,
Where we our rest shall gain ;
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God.

2.
To Canaan's sacred bound
We haste with songs of joy,
Where peace and liberty are found,
And sweets that never cloy.
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God.

3.
p There sin and sorrow cease,
And every conflict's o'er ;
There we shall dwell in endless peace,
And never hunger more.
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God.

4.
There in celestial strains
Enraptured myriads sing ;
There love in every bosom reigns,
For God Himself is King.
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God.

5.
We soon shall join the throng ;
Their pleasures we shall share
And sing the everlasting song,
With all the ransomed there.
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God.

6.
p How sweet the prospect is !
It cheers the pilgrim's breast :
We're journeying through the wilderness,
But soon shall gain our rest.
cres. Hallelujah !
We are on our way to God. Amen.

SURE GUIDE (8787 47).

ANTON RADIGER.

"He led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation."

1.

GUIDE us, O Thou great Jehovah,
Pilgrims through this barren land;
We are weak, but Thou art mighty;
Hold us with Thy powerful hand:
p Bread of heaven,
Feed us now and evermore.

2.

Open, Lord, the sacred fountain,
Whence the healing waters flow:
Let the cloud and fiery pillar
Lead us all our journey through:
cres. Strong Deliverer,
Be Thou still our Strength and Shield.

3.

p When we tread the verge of Jordan,
Bid our anxious fears subside;
res. Death of death, and hell's Destruction, Land us safe on Canaan's side:
f Songs of praises,
We will ever give to Thee. Amen.

COLVILLE (8888 88).

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

"As Captain of the host of the Lord am I now come."

I.

CAPTAIN of Israel's host, and Guide
Of all who seek the land above,
Beneath Thy shadow we abide,
The cloud of Thy protecting love ;
cres. Our strength Thy grace, our rule Thy Word,
Our end the glory of the Lord.

2.

By Thine unerring Spirit led,
We shall not in the desert stray :
We shall not full direction need,
Nor miss our providential way ;
cres. As far from danger as from fear,
While love, Almighty love, is near. Amen.

Who through this weary pilgrimage
Hast all our fathers led.

2.

Our vows, our prayers, we now present
Before Thy throne of grace:
God of our Fathers, be the God
Of their succeeding race.

3.

Through each perplexing path of life
Our wandering footsteps guide;
Give us each day our daily bread,
And raiment fit provide.

4.

Oh! spread Thy covering wings around
Till all our wanderings cease,
And at our Father's loved abode dim. Our souls arrive in peace!

FIRST TUNE. ARTHUR SEYMOUR SULLIVAN, Mus.D.

"Strangers and pilgrims on the earth."

1.

I'm but a stranger here,
Heaven is my home ;
Earth is a desert drear,
Heaven is my home.
p Danger and sorrow stand
Round me on every hand ;
cres. Heaven is my fatherland,
Heaven is my home.

2.

What though the tempest rage,
Heaven is my home ;
Short is my pilgrimage,
Heaven is my home ;
And Time's wild wintry blast
Soon shall be overpast ;
I shall reach home at last,
Heaven is my home.

3.

There, at my Saviour's side,
Heaven is my home ;
I shall be glorified,
Heaven is my home.
There are the good and blest
Those I love most and best
And there I too shall rest—
Heaven is my home.

4.

Therefore I murmur not,
Heaven is my home ;
Whate'er my earthly lot,
Heaven is my home.

PSALM CXXI.

I.

To Zion's hill I lift my eyes,
From thence expecting aid ;
From Zion's hill, and Zion's God,
Who heaven and earth has made.

2.

♩ Then thou, my soul, in safety rest,
Thy Guardian will not sleep ;
His watchful care, that Israel guards,
Will Israel's monarch keep.

3.

Sheltered beneath the Almighty's wings,
Thou shalt securely rest,
Where neither sun nor moon shall thee
By day or night molest.

4.

Hymn 282.

CRUX, SCALA CœLI (7676 7676).

JOSEPH BARNBY.

"Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed Thee; what shall we have therefore?"

1.
Oh, happy band of pilgrims,
If onward ye will tread
With Jesus as your Fellow,
To Jesus as your Head!
Oh, happy, if ye labour
As Jesus did for men:
Oh, happy, if ye hunger
As Jesus hungered then!

2.
The Faith by which ye see Him,
The Hope in which ye yearn,
The love that through all troubles
To Him alone will turn:
What are they but His heralds
To lead you to His sight?
What are they save the effluence
Of uncreated Light?

3.
p The trials that beset you,
The sorrows ye endure,
The manifold temptations
That Death alone can cure:
cres. What are they but His jewels
Of right celestial worth?
What are they but the ladder
Set up to heaven on earth?

4.
p The Cross that Jesus carried,
He carried as your due;
f The Crown that Jesus weareth,
He weareth it for you.
Oh, happy band of pilgrims,
Look upward to the skies,
Where such a light affliction
Shall win you such a prize. Amen.

Hymn 283.

S. ANDREW'S (8787 8787).

JOSEPH BARNBY.

"And the Lord went before them . . . to lead them the way."

1.

THROUGH the night of doubt and sorrow
Onward goes the pilgrim band,
Singing songs of expectation,
Marching to the Promised Land.
Clear before us, through the darkness
Gleams and burns the guiding Light:
Brother clasps the hand of brother,
Stepping fearless through the night.

2.

One the Light of God's own Presence,
O'er His ransomed people shed,
Chasing far the gloom and terror,
Brightening all the path we tread:
One the object of our journey,
One the Faith which never tires,
One the earnest looking forward,
One the Hope our God inspires.

3.

One the strain the lips of thousands
Lift as from the heart of one;
p One the conflict, one the peril,
One the march in God begun:
cres. One the gladness of rejoicing
On the far eternal shore,
Where the One Almighty Father,
Reigns in love for evermore.

4.

f Onward, therefore, pilgrim brothers,
Onward, with the Cross our aid!
Bear its shame, and fight its battle,
dim. Till we rest beneath its shade!
cres. Soon shall come the great awaking,
Soon the rending of the tomb;
Then, the scattering of all shadows,
And the end of toil and gloom!

Amen.

Hymn 284.

THURINGIA (558855).

Seelenbräutigam, Jesu, Gotteslamm.

ADAM DRESE.

"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day, and for ever."

I.

BLESSED be thy Name,
Jesus Christ, the same
Yesterday, to-day, for ever!
What from Thee my soul shall sever,
While I hear Thy voice,
And in Thee rejoice?

2.

Hold me with Thine hand,
For by faith I stand!
On Thy strength my sole reliance,
In Thy truth my whole affiance:
Then, where'er I roam.
I am travelling home.

3.

Lord! Thy Word is light;
Led by it aright,
p When a pilgrim like my fathers,
Life's last shadow round me gathers, cres. May its brightening ray
Shine to perfect day!

4.

With my latest breath,
Overcoming death,
From the body disencumbered,
With Thy saints in glory numbered, dim. Jesus, may I be p Found in peace with Thee!

5.

f Praise the Lord most high,
All below the sky;
Praise to Thine eternal merit,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit;
Earth and heaven raise ff Songs of loudest praise! Amen.

Hymn 285.

MISTLEY (6464 664).

Rev. LEIGHTON GEORGE HAYNE, Mus.D.

"Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met Him."

1.
NEARER, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me:
cres. Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
dim. Nearer to Thee!

2.
Though, like the wanderer,
The sun gone down,
Darkness comes over me,
My rest a stone:
cres. Yet in my dreams I'd be
Nearer, my God, to Thee!
dim. Nearer to Thee!

3.
There let my way appear
Steps unto heaven;
All that Thou sendest me
In mercy given:
cres. Angels to beckon me
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
dim. Nearer to Thee!

4.
f Then, with my waking thoughts
Bright with Thy praise,
Out of my stony griefs
Bethel I'll raise;
So by my woes to be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
dim. Nearer to Thee!

5.
Or if on joyful wing
Cleaving the sky,
Sun, moon, and stars forgot,
Upwards I fly.
cres. Still all my song shall be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
dim. Nearer to Thee! Amen.

"I will go in the strength of the Lord God, I will make mention of Thy righteousness, even of Thine only."

1.

I JOURNEY through a desert drear and wild,
Yet is my heart by such sweet thoughts beguiled
Of Him on Whom I lean, my Strength, my Stay,
I can forget the sorrows of the way.

2.

Thoughts of His love—the root of every grace
Which finds in this poor heart a dwelling-place,
The sunshine of my soul, than day more bright,
dim. And my calm pillow of repose by night.

3.

p Thoughts of His sojourn in this vale of tears—
The tale of love unfolded in those years
Of sinless suffering and of patient grace,
I love again, and yet again, to trace.

4.

cres. Thoughts of His glory—on the Cross I gaze,
And there behold its sad yet healing rays:
Beacon of hope, which, lifted up on high,
Illumes with heavenly light the tear-dimmed eye.

5.

p Thoughts of His coming; for that joyful day
In patient hope I watch and wait and pray;
cres. The dawn draws nigh, the midnight shadows flee;
O what a sunrise will that Advent be!

6.

Thus while I journey on, my Lord to meet,
My thoughts and meditations are so sweet
Of Him on Whom I lean, my Strength, my Stay,
I can forget the sorrows of the way! Amen.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE:

Hymn 290.

JOSEPH BARNEY.

"At evening time it shall be light."

1.

THE Christian's path shines more and more
From morn to perfect day ;
Yet darkening storms will rise the while,
And hide the cheering ray ;
Though clouds may dim faith's heavenward flight,
p At evening time it shall be light.

2.

When comforts fail, and friends are few,
And griefs his path surround :
Though all is dark without, within
A heavenly light is found.
No change of scene his peace can blight,
p At evening time it shall be light.

3.

'Tis good at times that pilgrim-saints,
For but a moment's space,
Should feel that God, in wrath at sin,
Can hide his smiling face :
Behind that veil the Sun shines bright,
p At evening time it shall be light.

4.

At evening time it shall be light ;
So runs the promise dear,
To cheer the pilgrim's fainting heart,
When death's dark hour draws near ;
E'en midst the gloom of nature's night,
cres. At evening time it shall be light. Amen.

FATHERLAND (558855).

SAMUEL GEE.

"Lead me in the way everlasting."

1.

JESUS, still lead on,
Till our rest be won;
And, although the way be cheerless,
We will follow, calm and fearless;
Guide us by Thy hand
To our Fatherland.

2.

If the way be drear,
If the foe be near,
Let not faithless fears o'ertake us,
Let not faith and hope forsake us;
For, through many a foe,
To our home we go.

3.

p When we seek relief
From a long-felt grief,
When temptations come alluring,
Make us patient and enduring;
Show us that bright shore
Where we weep no more.

4.

Jesus, still lead on,
Till our rest be won;

Still support, console, protect us,
Till we safely stand
In our Fatherland. Amen.

To heaven ascend:
I shall behold His face,
I shall His power adore, cres. And sing the wonders of His grace
For evermore.

PART II.

1.
THOUGH nature's strength decay,
And earth and hell withstand,
To Canaan's bounds I urge my way
At His command:
The watery deep I pass
With Jesus in my view,
And through the howling wilderness
My way pursue.

2.
The goodly land I see,
With peace and plenty blest;
A land of sacred liberty,
And endless rest:
There milk and honey flow;
And oil and wine abound;
And trees of life for ever grow,
With mercy crowned.

3.
There dwells the Lord our King,
The Lord our Righteousness!
Triumphant o'er the world and sin,
p The Prince of Peace:
cres. On Zion's sacred height
His Kingdom still maintains;
f And glorious with His saints in light
For ever reigns!

4.
He keeps His own secure,
He guards them by His side,
Arrays in garments white and pure
His spotless Bride;
With streams of sacred bliss,
With groves of living joys,
With all the fruits of Paradise,
He still supplies.

PART III.

1.
THE God Who reigns on high
The great Archangels sing;
And "Holy, Holy, Holy," cry,
"Almighty King!
Who was and is the same,
And evermore shall be;
Jehovah, Father, great I AM,
We worship Thee."
2.
Before the Saviour's face
The ransomed nations bow,
O'erwhelmed at His Almighty grace,
For ever new;
p He shows His prints of love;
They kindle to a flame, [above, cres. And sound through all the worlds
f "Worthy the Lamb."

3.
Before the Great Three-One
They all exulting stand,
And tell the wonders He hath done
Through all their land:
cres. The listening spheres attend,
And swell the growing fame,
And sing in songs which never end,
The wondrous Name.
4.
The whole triumphant host
Give thanks to God on high;
f "Hail, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost!"
They ever cry:
cres. Hail, Abraham's God and mine;
I join the heavenly lays;
ff All might and majesty are Thine,
And endless praise! Amen.

Hymn 293.

LAUDS (L.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

RICHARD REDHEAD.

"Let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

1.

AWAKE our souls, away our fears,
Let every trembling thought be gone;
Awake, and run the heavenly race,
And put a cheerful courage on.

2.

p True, 'tis a strait and thorny road,
And mortal spirits tire and faint;
But they forget the mighty God, cres. That feeds the strength of every saint.

3.

The mighty God, Whose matchless power
Is ever new and ever young,
And firm endures, while endless years
Their everlasting circles run.

4.

From Thee, the ever-flowing spring,
Our souls shall drink a fresh supply:
While such as trust their native strength dim. Shall melt away, and droop and die.

5.

cres. Swift as an eagle cuts the air,
We'll mount aloft to Thine abode;
On wings of love our souls shall fly,
Nor tire amidst the heavenly road! Amen.

Hymn 294.

S. HERMAS (888888).

FRANZ JOSEPH HAYDN ?

"I will set up one Shepherd over them."

PSALM XXIII.—VERSION I.

1.
THE Lord my pasture shall prepare,
And feed me with a shepherd's care ;
His presence shall my wants supply,
And guard me with a watchful eye ;
My noonday walks He shall attend,
And all my midnight hours defend.

2.
p When in the sultry glebe I faint,
Or on the thirsty mountain pant,
To fertile vales and dewy meads
My weary, wandering steps He leads,
Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow,
Amid the verdant landscape flow.

3.
p Though in the paths of death I tread,
With gloomy horrors overspread,
My steadfast heart shall fear no ill,
For Thou, O Lord, art with me still !
cres. Thy rod and staff shall give me aid,
And guide me through the dreadful shade.

4.
[Though in a bare and rugged way,
Through devious, lonely wilds I stray,
Thy bounty shall my pains beguile,
The barren wilderness shall smile,
With sudden green and herbage crowned,
And streams shall murmur all around.]

Amen.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE: FAITH AND HOPE.

Hymn 296.

HEBRON (D.S.M.)

Anonymous.

"Fear not, only believe."

1.

p WHY, drooping saint dismayed,
Does sorrow press thee down?
Hath God refused to give thee aid,
Or does He seem to frown?
What groundless fears are these,
Which make thee mourning go?
cres. He's faithful to His promises,
And rich in mercy too.

2.

In darkness or distress,
His love's the same to thee;
Unchanging, never more nor less,
Eternal, full, and free.

Though He afflicts thy mind,
'Tis not that He'll destroy;
Eternal wisdom ne'er designed
To give Thee always joy.

3.

p Beneath Thy fainting head,
Thy Father and thy Friend
His everlasting arms hath laid,
To succour and defend.
O thou of little faith,
Thy pace is slow, yet sure;
Yet feeble faith, the promise saith,
Shall to the end endure. Amen.

Hymn 297.

BREMEN (888888).

Wer nur den lieben Gott lässt walten.

GEORG NEUMARCK.

"He will not fail Thee."

1.

WHEN gathering clouds around I view,
And days are dark, and friends are few,
On Him I lean, Who not in vain,
Experienced every human pain;
He sees my wants, allays my fears,
And counts and treasures up my tears.

2.

If ought should tempt my soul to stray,
From heavenly wisdom's narrow way,
To fly the good I would pursue,
Or do the sin I would not do,
Still He, Who felt temptation's power,
Shall guard me in that dangerous hour.

3.

p If vexing thoughts within me rise,
And sore dismayed my spirit dies;
Still He, Who once vouchsafed to bear
The sickening anguish of despair,
Shall sweetly soothe, shall gently dry,
The throbbing heart, the streaming eye.

4.

p And oh! when I have safely passed Through every conflict but the last,
Still, still unchanging, watch beside
My painful bed, for Thou hast died;
cres. Then point to realms of cloudless day,
dim. And wipe the latest tear away. Amen.

Hymn 298.

S. ALBAN's, No. 210 (886 886).

Anonymous.

"Casting all your care upon Him; for He careth for you."

1.
O LORD, how happy we should be
If we could cast our care on Thee,
If we from self could rest;
And feel at heart that One above
In perfect wisdom, perfect love,
Is working for the best.

2.
How far from this our daily life,
How oft disturbed by anxious strife,
By sudden wild alarms;
Oh! could we but relinquish all
Our earthly props, and simply fall
On Thine Almighty arms!

5.
Lord, make these faithless hearts of ours
Such lessons learn from birds and flowers,
Make them from self to cease,
Leave all things to a FATHER's will,
And taste, before Him lying still,
dim. E'en in affliction, peace. Amen.

3.
Could we but kneel and cast our load,
E'en while we pray, upon our God,
Then rise with lightened cheer,
Sure that the FATHER, Who is nigh
To still the famished ravens' cry,
Will hear in that we fear.

4.
We cannot trust Him as we should;
So chafes weak Nature's restless mood,
To cast its peace away;
But birds and flowerets round us preach,
All, all the present evil teach
Sufficient for the day.

JERUSALEM (D.C.M.)

Wenn alle untreu werden, so bleib' ich dir doch treu.

LOUIS SPOHR, Mus.D.

"My soul is athirst for God."

PSALM XLII.

1.

As pants the hart for cooling streams
When heated in the chase,
So longs my soul, O God, for Thee,
And Thy refreshing grace.

2.

For Thee, my God, the living God,
My thirsty soul doth pine ;
O when shall I behold Thy face,
Thou Majesty divine !

3.

TROYTE'S CHANT (8884).

Hymn 300.

ARTHUR HENRY DYKE TROYTE.

"Not my will, but Thine, be done."

I.

My God and Father, | while I stray ||
Far from my home, in | life's rough way, ||
O teach me from my | heart to say, ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

2.

Though dark my path, and | sad my lot, ||
Let me be still, and | murmur not, ||
Or breathe the prayer di- | vinely taught, ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

3.

What though in lonely | grief I sigh ||
For friends beloved, no | longer nigh, ||
Submissive still would | I reply, ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

4.

If Thou should'st call me | to resign ||
What most I prize—it | ne'er was mine : ||
I only yield Thee | what is Thine : ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

5.

If but my fainting | heart be blest ||
With Thy sweet Spirit | for its guest, ||
My God, to Thee I | leave the rest ; ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

6.

Renew my will from | day to day, ||
Blend it with Thine, and | take away ||
All that now makes it | hard to say, ||
p "Thy | will be done!" ||

7.

Then, when on earth I | breathe no more ||
The prayer, oft mixed with | tears before, ||

FAITH AND HOPE.

"What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

1.

GOD moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform ;
He plants His footsteps in the sea,
f And rides upon the storm.

2.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never-failing skill,
He treasures up His bright designs,
And works His sovereign will.

3.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take ;
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy, and shall break
In blessings on your head.

4.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
But trust Him for His grace :
Behind a frowning Providence
p He hides a smiling face.

5.

His purposes will ripen fast,
Unfolding every hour ;
The bud may have a bitter taste,
But sweet will be the flower.

6.

Blind unbelief is sure to err,
And scan His work in vain ;
cres. God is His own interpreter,
And He will make it plain. Amen.

Hymn 305.

CORONA (C.M.)

Hymns of the Eastern Church.

"We are troubled on every side: yet not distressed."

1.

Now let the Christian's hope abound
And all our sorrows cease ;
Though storms of trouble rage around,
p In Jesus we have peace.

2.

Saviour, when earth and hell oppress,
Thy gracious power we prove ;
And all our trials and distress
Exalt Thy wondrous love.

3.

We plead Thy Name before the throne,
And cast our burdens there :
That powerful Name our God will own,
And bless our humble prayer.

4.

By faith we hear Thy gracious voice,
The promised crown we see ;
cres. And in those trials we rejoice,
That bring us near to Thee. Amen.

Hymn 306.*

S. FABIAN (7777 7777).

FIRST TUNE.

JOSEPH BARNEY.

"A Man shall be as an hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest."

1.

JESUS, Lover of my soul,
Let me to Thy bosom fly,
While the nearer waters roll,
While the tempest still is high;
Hide me, O my Saviour! hide,
Till the storm of life is past;
Safe into the haven guide,
dim. O receive my soul at last!

2.

p Other refuge have I none,
Hangs my helpless soul on Thee;
Leave, ah! leave me not alone,
Still support and comfort me:
All my trust on Thee is staid, cres. All my help from Thee I bring;
Cover my defenceless head
With the shadow of Thy wing.

* This Tune may be sung in unison if preferred.

FAITH AND HOPE.

3.
 Thou, O Christ, art all I want ;
 More than all in Thee I find ;
 Raise the fallen, cheer the faint,
 Heal the sick, and lead the blind ;
 ♪ Just and Holy is Thy Name,
 I am all unrighteousness ;
 False and full of sin I am,
 Thou art full of truth and grace.

4.
 Plenteous grace with Thee is found,
 Grace to cover all my sin ;
 Let the healing streams abound,
 Make and keep me pure within :
 Thou of life the Fountain art,
 Freely let me take of Thee ;
cres. Spring Thou up within my heart,
f Rise to all eternity. Amen.

Now I have found the ground wherein Sure my soul's anchor may remain;
p The wounds of Jesus, for my sin
 Before the world's foundation slain;
cres. Whose mercy shall unshaken stay,
 When heaven and earth are fled away.

2.

Though waves and storms go o'er my head,
p Though strength, and health, and friends be gone,
 Though joys be withered all and dead,
 Though every comfort be withdrawn;
cres. On this my steadfast soul relies,
 Father, Thy mercy never dies.

3.

Fixed on this ground will I remain,
 Though my heart fail and flesh decay;
cres. This anchor shall my soul sustain,
 When earth's foundations melt away;
 Mercy's full power I then shall prove,

SYMPATHY (C.M.)

Rev. FREDERICK WILLIAM HOGAN.

"Casting all your care upon Him."

1.

THERE is no sorrow, Lord, too light
To bring in prayer to Thee ;
There is no anxious care too slight
To wake Thy sympathy.

2.

Thou Who hast trod the thorny road
Wilt share each small distress ;
The love which bore the greater load
Will not refuse the less.

3.

There is no secret sigh we breathe
But meets Thine ear divine,
And every cross grows light beneath
The shadow, Lord, of Thine.

4.

p Life's ills without, sin's strife within,
The heart would overflow,
cres. But for that Love which died for sin,
That Love which wept for woe. Amen.

MORNINGSIDE (5555 6565).

HENRY EDWARD DIBDIN.

"He careth for you."

1.

THOUGH troubles assail,
And dangers affright,
Though friends should all fail,
And foes all unite;
Yet one thing secures us,
Whatever betide,
The Scripture assures us
f The Lord will provide.

2.

The birds without barn
Or storehouse are fed,
From them let us learn
To trust for our bread:
His saints what is fitting
Shall ne'er be denied,
So long as 'tis written,
f The Lord will provide.

3.

[We may, like the ships,
By tempest be tost
On perilous deeps,
But cannot be lost;

Though Satan enrages
The wind and the tide,
The promise engages
f The Lord will provide.]

4.

No strength of our own,
Or goodness we claim:
Yet, since we have known
The Saviour's great Name,
In this our Strong Tower
For safety we hide,
The Lord is our power,
f The Lord will provide.

5.

p When life sinks apace,
And death is in view,

Soldiers of the Cross, we stand,
Trusting in Thy powerful hand:
Rock of strength, to Thee we fly!
Save us in adversity!
f God of power, and God of might,
Shield Thy servants in the fight!

3.

Lasting are Thy mercies, Lord,
Truth eternal is Thy word;
Thou shalt reign on Zion's throne,
There Thy glory shall be known.
f God of power, and God of might,
Shield Thy servants in the fight!

4.

f Songs of triumph we will sing
To the universal King;
Sound His mighty praise abroad;
Glory be to Israel's God!
ff God of power, and God of might,
Shield Thy servants in the fight!

 Thou Fount of living fire,

PART II.

Surpassing all the joys we know,
 And all we can desire;

4.
 Jesu, may all confess Thy Name,
 Thy wondrous love adore;
cres. And, seeking Thee, themselves inflame
 To seek Thee more and more.

5.
f Thee, Jesu, may our voices bless,
 Thee may we love alone:
cres. And ever in our lives express
 The image of Thine own. Amen.

Hymn 316.

EASTER EVE (8787 77).

JAMES WHITEHEAD SMITH.

"I have called you friends."

1.

ONE there is above all others
Well deserves the name of Friend;
His is love beyond a brother's,
Costly, free, and knows no end:
They who once His kindness prove
Find it everlasting love.

2.

p When He lived on earth abasèd,
Friend of sinners was His Name:
f Now above all glory raisèd,
He rejoices in the same;
Still He calls them brethren, friends,
And to all their wants attends.

3.

Could we bear from one another
What He daily bears from us?
Yet this glorious Friend and Brother
Loves us though we treat Him thus:
Though for good we render ill,
He accounts us brethren still.

4.

Oh! for grace our hearts to soften!
Teach us, Lord, at length to love;
p We, alas! forget too often
What a Friend we have above;
cres. But when home our souls are brought,
We shall love Thee as we ought.

Amen.

Hymn 317.

BRADY (8484 8884).

FIRST TUNE.

WILLIAM RICHARD BRADY.

"There is a Friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

1.

ONE there is above all others,
Oh! how He loves!
His is love beyond a brother's,
Oh! how He loves!
Earthly friends may fail or leave us,
One day soothe, the next day grieve us,
But this Friend will ne'er deceive us,
Oh! how He loves!

2.

'Tis eternal life to know Him,
Oh! how He loves! [Him,
Think, oh! think, how much we owe
Oh! how He loves!
p With His precious blood He bought us, cres.
In the wilderness He sought us, cres. To His fold He safely brought us, f Oh! how He loves!

3.

We have found a friend in Jesus,
Oh! how He loves!
'Tis His great delight to bless us,
Oh! how He loves!
How our hearts delight to hear Him
Bid us dwell in safety near Him;
Why should we distrust or fear Him?
Oh! how He loves!

4.

Through His Name we are forgiven,
Oh! how He loves!
Backward shall our foes be driven,
Oh! how He loves!
Best of blessings He'll provide us,
Nought but good shall e'er betide us,
Safe to glory He will guide us,
f Oh! how He loves! Amen.

LOVE.

Hymn 320.

REST (14,14,14,14).

WILLIAM HUTCHINS CALLCOTT.

♩ = 96.

A-men.

"We love Him because He first loved us."

1.

We love Thee, Lord; yet not alone because Thy bounteous hand
Showers down its rich and ceaseless gifts on ocean and on land;
We praise Thee, gracious Lord, for these, yet not for these alone
The incense of Thy children's love arises to Thy throne.

f We love Thee, Lord, because, when we had erred and gone astray,
Thou didst recall our wandering souls into the heavenward way,
When helpless, hopeless, we were lost in sin and sorrow's night, cres. Thou didst send forth a guiding ray of Thy benignant light.

3.

Because when we forsook Thy ways, nor kept Thy holy will,
Thou wert not an avenging Judge, but a gracious Father still;
p Because we have forgot Thee, Lord, (cres.) but Thou hast not forgot;
p Because we have forsaken Thee, (cres.) but Thou forsakest not.

4.

p Because, O Lord, Thou lovedst us with everlasting love,
And sentest forth Thy Son to die that we might live above;
Because when we were heirs of wrath, Thou gavest hopes of heaven;
cres. We love because we much have sinned, and much have been forgiven. Amen.

Hymn 321.

DESIRING TO LOVE (886 886).

FIRST TUNE.

GEORG FRIEDRICH HÄNDEL.

"To know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge."

1.

O LOVE divine, how sweet Thou art!
When shall I find my willing heart
All taken up by Thee?
p I thirst, I faint, I die to prove cres. The greatness of redeeming love,
The love of Christ to me!

2.

Stronger His love than death or hell;
Its riches are unsearchable;
The first-born sons of light
Desire in vain its depths to see;
They cannot reach the mystery,
The length and breadth and height.

3.

God only knows the love of God;
p O that it now were shed abroad
In this poor stony heart!
cres. For love I sigh, for love I pine;
This only portion, LORD, be mine,
Be mine this better part.

4.

O that I could for ever sit
With Mary at the Master's feet;
Be this my happy choice;
My only care, delight, and bliss, cres. My joy, my heaven on earth, be this,
f To hear the Bridegroom's voice.

Amen.

Ancient Melody.

"I will love Thee, O Lord my Strength."

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. THEE will I love, my Strength, my Tower ; Thee will I love, my Joy, my Crown ; Thee will I love with all my power, In all Thy works, and Thee alone : Thee will I love till sacred fire Fill my whole soul with pure desire. | 3. Give to mine eyes refreshing tears, Give to my heart chaste, hallowed fires ; Give to my soul, with filial fears, cres. The love that all heaven's host inspires : f That all my powers, with all their might, In Thy sole glory may unite. |
| 2. I thank Thee, uncreated Sun, [shined ; That Thy bright beams on me have I thank Thee, Who hast overthrown My foes, and healed my wounded mind ; f I thank Thee, Whose enlivening voice Bids my freed heart in Thee rejoice. | 4. f Thee will I love, my Joy, my Crown ; Thee will I love, my Lord, my God ; Thee will I love, beneath Thy frown Or smile—Thy sceptre or thy rod : What though my flesh and heart decay, Thee shall I love in endless day ! Amen. |

* This Tune is generally sung in unison. The organ accompaniment, however, is so arranged as to adapt it to harmonized singing if preferred.

Hymn 323.

S. PAUL (888888).

Sir JOHN GOSS, Mus.D.

"Whom having not seen, ye love."

1.

O God, of good the unfathomed Sea!
Who would not give his heart to Thee,
Who would not love Thee with his might?
dim. O Jesus, Lover of mankind! [mind
Who would not his whole soul and
With all his strength to Thee unite?

2.

Fountain of good! all blessing flows
From Thee; no want Thy fulness knows:
What but Thyself canst Thou desire?
Yes: self-sufficing as Thou art,
Thou dost desire my worthless heart:
This, only this, dost Thou require.

3.

Hell's armies tremble at Thy nod,
And trembling own the Almighty God,
f Sovereign of earth, hell, air, and sky!
p But Who is this, that comes from far,
Whose garments rolled in blood appear?
cres. 'Tis God made man, for man to die!

"Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?"

1.
LIFE nor death shall us dis sever,
From His love Who reigns for ever;
cres. Will He fail us? never! never!
dim. When to Him we cry.

2.
f But His might shall still defend us,
And His blessèd Son befriend us, dim. And His Holy Spirit send us pp Comfort ere we die. Amen.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE: HOLINESS.

Hymn 325.*

WINDSOR (C.M.)

GEORGE KIRBYE.

* This Hymn may also be sung to "HOLY TRINITY," No. 315.

(330)

HOLINESS.

"Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

1.
p LORD, as to Thy dear Cross we flee,
And plead to be forgiven, cres. So let Thy life our pattern be,
And form our souls for heaven.

2.
Help us, through good report and ill,
Our daily cross to bear;
Like Thee, to do our Father's will,
Our brethren's griefs to share.

3.
Let grace our selfishness expel,
Our earthliness refine,
And kindness in our bosom dwell,
As free and true as Thine.

4.
p If joy shall at Thy bidding fly,
And grief's dark day come on,
We, in our turn, would meekly cry,
"Father, Thy will be done."

5.
p Kept peaceful in the midst of strife,
Forgiving and forgiven,
cres. O may we lead the pilgrim's life,
And follow Thee to heaven. Amen.

Hymn 326.

KILMARNOCK (C.M.)

NEIL DOUGALL.

"The love of Christ constraineth me."

1.
My blessed Saviour, is Thy love
So great, so full, so free?
Behold, I give my love, my heart,
My life, my all, to Thee!

2.
I love Thee for the glorious worth,
Which in Thyself I see;
p I love Thee for that shameful Cross
Thou hast endured for me.

3.
Though in the very form of God,
With heavenly glory crowned,
Thou would'st partake of human flesh
Beset with troubles round.

4.
p Thou would'st like wretched man be made,
In everything but sin,
That we as like Thee might become,
As we unlike have been.

5.
Like Thee in faith, in meekness, love,
In every beauteous grace; cres. From glory thus to glory changed,
As we behold Thy face. Amen.

Hymn 327.

S. NICOLAS (8787).

RICHARD REDHEAD.

"He saith unto them, 'Follow Me.'"

1.
Jesus calls us, o'er the tumult
Of our life's wild restless sea,
Day by day His sweet voice soundeth, p Saying, "Christian, follow Me."

2.
As of old, Apostles heard it
By the Galilean lake,
Turned from home and toil and kindred,
Leaving all for His dear sake,

3.
Jesus calls us from the worship
Of the vain world's golden store,
From each idol that would keep us,
p Saying, "Christian, love Me more."

4.
In our joys and in our sorrows,
Days of toil and hours of ease,
Still He calls, in cares and pleasures, p "Christian, love Me more than these."

5.
Jesus calls us: by Thy mercies,
Saviour, may we hear Thy call,
cres. Give our hearts to Thy obedience,
Serve and love Thee best of all. Amen.

Hymn 328.

SYMPATHY (C.M.)

Rev. FREDERICK WILLIAM HOGAN.

HOLINESS.

"Learn of Me."

1.
WHAT grace, O Lord, and beauty shone Around Thy steps below ;
p What patient love was seen in all
Thy life and death of woe !

2.
p For ever on Thy burdened heart
A weight of sorrow hung ;
Yet no ungentle, murmuring word
Escaped Thy silent tongue.

3.
Thy foes might hate, despise, revile,
Thy friends unfaithful prove ;
Unwearied in forgiveness still,
Thy heart could only love.

4.
O give us hearts to love like Thee,
Like Thee, O Lord, to grieve
Far more for others' sins, than all
The wrongs that we receive.

5.
One with Thyself, may every eye
In us, Thy brethren, see
That gentleness and grace that spring
From union, Lord, with Thee. Amen.

Seelenbräutigam, Jesu, Gotteslamm.

THURINGIA (558855).

ADAM DRESB.

"There is none that I desire in comparison of Thee."

I.

Who is there like Thee,
Jesus, unto me?
None are like Thee, none above Thee,
Thou art altogether lovely;
cres. None on earth have we,
None in heaven like Thee.

2.

Love that warmly glowed,
Blood that freely flowed;
Life that stooped to death to save me,
And a deathless being gave me;
Bore my guilty load,
Brought me back to God!

3.

Plant Thyself in me,
I will learn of Thee,
To be holy, meek, and tender,
Wrath and pride and self surrender:
Nothing shouldst Thou see,
But Thyself in me.

4.

p When on death's cold strand,
I one day shall stand,
Let Thy presence go beside me,
Through the gloomy waters guide me,
cres. Grant me then to stand,

Thy like nor man nor angel knows;
Fairest among ten thousand fair!
Even those whom death's sad fetters bound,
Whom thickest darkness compassed round, cres. Find light and life, if Thou appear.

2.

p Renew Thine image, Lord, in me;
Lowly and gentle may I be;
No charms but these to Thee are dear;
No anger may'st Thou ever find,
No pride in my unruffled mind,
But faith and heaven-born peace be there.

3.

A patient, a victorious mind,
That life and all things casts behind,
Springs forth obedient to Thy call:
A heart that no desire can move,

ALL HALLOWS (D.C.M.)

Sir ROBERT STEWART, Mus.D.

"When that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away."

I.

THE roseate hues of early dawn,
The brightness of the day,
The crimson of the sunset sky,
p How fast they fade away:
cres. Oh! for the pearly gates of heaven,
Oh! for the golden floor;
f Oh! for the Sun of Righteousness,
That setteth never more!

"Very excellent things are spoken of thee, thou city of God."

1.

GLORIOUS things of thee are spoken,
Zion, city of our God !
He, Whose word can ne'er be broken,
Formed thee for His own abode :
On the Rock of ages founded,
What can shake thy sure repose?
f With salvation's walls surrounded,
Thou may'st smile at all thy foes.

2.

See ! the streams of living waters,
Springing from eternal love,
Well supply thy sons and daughters,
And all fear of want remove ;
Who can faint; while such a river
Ever flows their thirst to assuage ?
Grace, which, like the Lord, the giver,
Never fails from age to age.

3.

Blest inhabitants of Zion,
Washed in the Redeemer's blood !
Jesus, Whom their souls rely on,
Makes them kings and priests to God.
Jesus' love His people raises,
Over self to reign as kings !

Each for a thank-offering brings. Amen.

AND TRIUMPHANT.

Hymn 337.

S. STEPHEN (C.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

REV. WILLIAM JONES.

"There shall be no night there."

1.

FAR from these narrow scenes of night,
Unbounded glories rise,
And realms of infinite delight,
Unknown to mortal eyes.

2.

p Fair distant land! could mortal eyes
But half its joys explore,
How would our spirits long to rise
And dwell on earth no more!

3.

No cloud those blissful regions know,
For ever bright and fair;
For sin, the source of mortal woe,
Can never enter there.

4.

Hymn 337.

IERNE (C.M.)

SECOND TUNE.

REV. EDWARD SEYMOUR.

THE CHURCH MILITANT

Hymn 338.

OLD 137TH (D.C.M.)

Daye's Psalter.

"The Lord, thy God, bringeth thee into a good land."

1.

THERE is a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal reign,
Where endless day excludes the night,
And pleasures banish pain;
There everlasting spring abides,
And never-withering flowers;
Death, like a narrow sea, divides
That heavenly land from ours.

2.

Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood
Stand dressed in living green;
So to the Jews old Canaan stood,
While Jordan rolled between.
But timorous mortals start and shrink
To cross this narrow sea,
And linger shivering on the brink,
And fear to launch away.

3.

Oh! could we make our doubts remove,
Those gloomy doubts that rise,
And see the Canaan that we love
With unclouded eyes!
Could we but climb where Moses stood,
And view the landscape o'er, cres. Not Jordan's stream, nor death's cold flood,
Should fright us from the shore. Amen.

(342)

Hymn 339.

BEULAH (6666 6666).

FRANÇOIS DE LA FEILLÉE.

"The throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and His servants shall serve Him."

1.

THERE is a blessed Home
Beyond this land of woe,
Where trials never come,
Nor tears of sorrow flow;
Where faith is lost in sight,
And patient hope is crowned,
And everlasting light
Its glory throws around.

2.

p There is a land of peace,
Good angels know it well:
cres. Glad songs that never cease
Within its portals swell;
Around its glorious throne
Ten thousand saints adore
f Christ, with the Father-One
And Spirit evermore.

3.

p O joy all joys beyond,
To see the Lamb Who died,
And count each sacred wound
In hands and feet and side; cres. To give to Him the praise
Of every triumph won,
f And sing through endless days
The great things He hath done.

4.

Look up, ye saints of God,
Nor fear to tread below
The path your Saviour trod
Of daily toil and woe; p Wait but a little while
In uncomplaining love;
cres. His own most gracious smile
Shall welcome you above. Amen.

Hymn 340.

S. BARTHOLOMEW (D.C.M.)

ARTHUR PATTON.

"He showed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem."

1 & 2.

JERUSALEM! my happy home,
When shall I come to thee?
When shall my sorrows have an end?
Thy joys when shall I see?
p O happy harbour of the saints!
O sweet and pleasant soil!
In thee no sorrow may be found,
No grief, no care, no toil.

3 & 4.

[Thy walls are made of precious stones,
Thy bulwarks diamonds square,
Thy gates are of right orient pearl,
Exceeding rich and rare.
Thy turrets and thy pinnacles
With carbuncles do shine;
Thy very streets are paved with gold,
Surpassing clear and fine.]

5 & 6.

Thy houses are of ivory,
Thy windows crystal clear;
Thy tiles are made of beaten gold;
O God, that I were there!

p Ah! my sweet home, Jerusalem,
Would God I were in thee!

cres. Would God my woes were at an end,
Thy joys that I might see.

7 & 8.

Thy saints are crowned with glory great,
They see God face to face;
They triumph still, they still rejoice,
Most happy is their case.
Quite through the streets, with silver sound,
The flood of life doth flow;
Upon whose banks on every side
The wood of life doth grow.

9 & 10.

There trees for evermore bear fruit,
And evermore do spring;
There evermore the angels sit,
And evermore do sing.

f Jerusalem! my happy home,
Would God I were in thee!

p Would God my woes were at an end, cres. Thy joys that I might see. Amen.

Hymn 341.

JERUSALEM (D.C.M.)

Wenn alle untreu werden, so bleib' ich dir doch treu.

LOUIS SPOHR, Mus.D.

"He hath prepared for them a city."

I.
JERUSALEM! my happy home,
Name ever dear to me,
When shall my labours have an end,
In joy and peace and thee? [walls
When shall these eyes thy heaven-built
And pearly gates behold;
Thy bulwarks, with salvation strong,
And streets of shining gold?

2.
Oh, when, thou city of my God,
Shall I thy courts ascend;
cres. In joy and peace with Him to dwell, Whose kingdom hath no end?
dim. Why should I shrink at pain and woe,
Or feel at death dismay!
cres. I've Canaan's goodly land in view,
f And realms of endless day.

3.
Apostles, martyrs, prophets, there
Around my Saviour stand;
And soon my friends in Christ below
Will join the glorious band.
f Jerusalem! my happy home,
My soul still pants for thee;
cres. Then shall my labours have an end
When I thy joys shall see. Amen.

Hymn 342.

CHRIST CHURCH (6666 88).

CHARLES STEGGALL, Mus.D.

"Jerusalem which is above is free."

1.
JERUSALEM on high
My song and city is,
My home whene'er I die,
The centre of my bliss.

cres. O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy face?

2.
There dwells my Lord, my King,
Judged here unfit to live;
There angels to Him sing,
And lowly homage give.

cres. O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy Face?

3.
The Patriarchs of old
There from their travels cease;
The Prophets there behold
Their longed-for Prince of Peace.

cres. O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy Face?

4.
The Lamb's Apostles there
I might with joy behold,
The harpers I might hear
Harping on harps of gold.

cres. O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy face?

5.
The bleeding Martyrs, they
Within those courts are found,
Clothed in pure array,
Their scars with glory crowned.

cres. O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy Face?

6.
Ah me, ah me! that I
In Kedar's tents here stay:
cres. No place like that on high;
Lord, thither guide my way.
f O happy place,
When shall I be,
My God, with Thee,
To see Thy face? Amen.

FIRST TUNE.—PART I.

WEIMAR (7676).

Christus, der ist mein Leben.

MELCHIOR VULPIUS.

"The city of the living God, the Heavenly Jerusalem."

I. PART I.

- ♯ BRIEF life is here our portion ;
Brief sorrow, short-lived care ;
The life that knows no ending,
The tearless life, is there.
2.
O happy retribution !
Short toil, eternal rest :
cres. For mortals and for sinners
A mansion with the blest.
3.
And now we fight the battle,
But then shall wear the crown
Of full and everlasting
And passionless renown ;
4.
♯ And now we watch and struggle,
And now we live in hope,

And Zion in her anguish
With Babylon must cope.

5.
But He Whom now we trust in Shall then be seen and known ;
And they that know and see Him
Shall have Him for their own.

6.
cres. The morning shall awaken,
The shadows shall decay,
And each true-hearted servant
Shall shine as doth the day :

7.
There God, our King and Portion,
In fulness of His grace,
Shall we behold for ever,
And worship face to face. Amen.

THE HOMELAND (7676 7676).

PART II.

ARTHUR SEYMOUR SULLIVAN, Mus.D.

p For thee, O dear, dear Country,
 Mine eyes their vigils keep;
 For very love, beholding
 Thy happy name, they weep.

2.
cres. O one, O only mansion!
 O Paradise of Joy!
 Where tears are ever banished,
 And smiles have no alloy.

3.
 The Lamb is all thy splendour,
 The Crucified thy praise;
f His laud and benediction
 Thy ransomed people raise.

4.
 With jasper glow thy bulwarks,
 Thy streets with emeralds blaze;
 The sardius and the topaz
 Unite in Thee their rays.

PART II.

5.
 Thine ageless walls are bonded
 With amethyst unpriced;
 The saints build up its fabric,
 And the corner-stone is Christ.

6.
 Thou hast no shore, fair ocean!
 Thou hast no time bright day!
p Dear fountain of refreshment
 To pilgrims far away!

7.
f Upon the Rock of ages
 They raise thy holy tower;
 Thine is the victor's laurel,
 And thine the golden dower.

8.
p Jesu, in mercy bring us
 To that dear land of rest;
cres. Who art, with God the Father
 And Spirit, ever blest. Amen.

PART III.

ALEXANDER EWING.

PART III.

1.
JERUSALEM the golden !
With milk and honey blest ;
Beneath thy contemplation
p Sink heart and voice oppress.

2.
cres. I know not, oh ! I know not,
What joys await us there ;
What radiance of glory,
What bliss beyond compare.

3.
They stand, those halls of Zion,
All jubilant with song,
And bright with many an angel,
And all the martyr-throng.

4.
The Prince is ever in them,
The daylight is serene ;
The pastures of the blessed
Are decked in glorious sheen.

5.
There is the throne of David,
And there from care released,
f The shout of them that triumph,
The song of them that feast.

6.
And they who, with their Leader,
Have conquered in the fight,
For ever and for ever
Are clad in robes of white.

7.
p O sweet and blessed country,
The home of God's elect ;
cres. O sweet and blessed country,
That eager hearts expect !

8.
p Jesu, in mercy bring us
To that dear land of rest ;
cres. Who art, with God the Father,
dim. And Spirit, ever blest. Amen.

OLD 44TH (D.C.M.)

Daye's Psalter.

"They overcame by the blood of the Lamb."

1.
 THE Son of God goes forth to war,
 A kingly crown to gain ;
 His blood-red banner streams afar ;
cres. Who follows in His train ?
p Who best can drink his cup of woe,
 Triumphant over pain ;
 Who patient bears his cross below,
f He follows in His train.

2.
 The martyr, first, whose eagle eye
 Could pierce beyond the grave ;
 Who saw his Master in the sky,
 And called on Him to save.
p Like Him, with pardon on his tongue,
 In midst of mortal pain,
 He prayed for them that did the wrong :
 Who follows in his train ?

3.
 A glorious band, the chosen few
 On whom the Spirit came ; [knew,
 Twelve valiant saints, their hope they
 And mocked the cross and flame :
 They met the tyrant's brandished steel,
 The lion's gory mane ; [feel :
 They bowed their necks the death to cres. Who follows in their train ?

4.
f A noble army—men and boys,
 The matron and the maid,
 Around the Saviour's throne rejoice,
 In robes of light arrayed ;
 They climbed the steep ascent of heaven,
 Through peril, toil, and pain ;
p O God ! to us may grace be given cres. To follow in their train ! Amen.

p BLEST are the pure in heart,
For they shall see our God ;
The secret of the Lord is theirs,
Their soul is Christ's abode.

2.

p The Lord, Who left the heavens
Our life and peace to bring,
To dwell in lowliness with men,
Their Pattern and their King ;

3.

p He to the lowly soul
Doth still Himself impart ;
And for His dwelling and His throne
Chooseth the pure in heart.

4.

p Lord, we Thy presence seek ;
May ours this blessing be ;
Give us a pure and lowly heart,

REQUIEM (10,10,10,4).

Hymn 347.

JOSEPH BARNBY.

"We are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses."

1. For all Thy saints, who from their labours rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy Name, O Jesu, be for ever blest.
f Hallelujah!
2. Thou wast their Rock, their Fortress, and their Might;
Thou, Lord, their Captain in the well-fought fight;
Thou, in the darkness drear, their Light of light.
f Hallelujah!
3. O may Thy soldiers, faithful, true, and bold,
Fight as the saints who nobly fought of old,
And win, with them, the victor's crown of gold.
f Hallelujah!
4. O blest communion, fellowship divine!
p We feebly struggle, (f) they in glory shine;
Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.
Hallelujah!
5. And when the strife is fierce, the warfare long,
p Steals on the ear the distant triumph-song, cres. And hearts are brave again, and arms are strong.
f Hallelujah!
6. The golden evening brightens in the west;
Soon, soon to faithful warriors comes the rest;
p Sweet is the calm of Paradise the blest.
Hallelujah!
7. cres. But lo, there breaks a yet more glorious day:
The saints triumphant rise in bright array;
The King of glory passes on His way.
f Hallelujah!
8. f From earth's wide bounds, from ocean's farthest coast,
Through gates of pearl streams in the countless host, cres. Singing to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, ff Hallelujah! Amen.

Hymn 348.

ALL SAINTS (13,13,13,13).

L. A. LOVEKIN.

"Just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of saints."

I.

f FROM all Thy saints in warfare, (p) for all Thy saints at rest, cres. To Thee, O blessed Jesu, all praises be addressed:
 Thou, Lord, didst win the battle, that they might conquerors be;
 Their crowns of living glory are lit with rays from Thee.*

2.

Saint Andrew.

Praise, Lord, for Thine Apostle, the first to welcome Thee,
 The first to lead his brother the very Christ to see.
 With hearts for Thee made ready, watch we throughout the year,
 Forward to lead our brethren to own Thine Advent near.

* Insert here the special stanza of the Day.

3.

Saint Thomas.

All praise for Thine Apostle, whose short-lived doubtings prove Thy perfect twofold nature, the fulness of Thy love.
On all who wait Thy coming shed forth Thy peace, O Lord,
And grant us faith to know Thee, true Man, true God, adored.

4.

Saint Stephen.

Praise for the first of Martyrs, who saw Thee ready stand,
To aid in midst of torment, to plead at God's right hand.
Share we with him, if summoned by death our Lord to own,
On earth the faithful witness, in heaven the martyr-crown.

5.

Saint John the Evangelist.

Praise for the loved Disciple, exile on Patmos' shore ;
Praise for the faithful record he to Thy Godhead bore ;
Praise for the mystic vision, through him to us revealed :
May we, in patience waiting, with Thine elect be sealed.

6.

The Innocents' Day.

p Praise for Thine Infant Martyrs, by Thee with tenderest love Called early from the warfare to share the rest above.
O Rachel, cease thy weeping ; they rest from pains and cares :
Lord, grant us hearts as guileless, and crowns as bright as theirs.

7.

The Conversion of St. Paul.

Praise for the light from heaven, praise for the voice of awe,
Praise for the glorious vision the persecutor saw.
Thee, Lord, for his conversion, we glorify to-day :
So lighten all our darkness with Thy true Spirit's ray.

8.

Saint Matthias.

Lord, Thine abiding Presence directs the wondrous choice :
For one in place of Judas the faithful now rejoice.
Thy Church from false apostles for evermore defend,
And, by Thy parting promise, be with her to the end.

9.

Saint Mark.

For him, O Lord, we praise Thee, the weak by grace made strong,
Whose labours and whose Gospel enrich our triumph-song ;
May we in all our weakness find strength from Thee supplied,
And all, as fruitful branches, in Thee, the Vine, abide.

10.

Saint Philip and Saint James.

All praise for Thine Apostle, blest guide to Greek and Jew,
And him surnamed Thy brother ; keep us Thy brethren true.
And grant the grace to know Thee, the Way, the Truth, the Life ;
To wrestle with temptation till victors in the strife.

II.

Saint Barnabas.

The Son of Consolation, moved by Thy law of love,
Forsaking earthly treasures, sought riches from above.
As earth now teems with increase, let gifts of grace descend,
That Thy true consolations may through the world extend.

12.

Saint John Baptist.

We praise Thee for the Baptist, forerunner of the Word,
Our true Elias, making a highway for the Lord.
Of prophets last and greatest, He saw Thy dawning ray,
Make us the rather blessed, who love Thy glorious day.

(356)

SAINTS' DAYS.

13.

Saint Peter.

Praise for Thy great Apostle, the eager and the bold;
Thrice falling, yet repentant, thrice charged to feed Thy fold.
Lord, make Thy pastors faithful, to guard their flocks from ill;
And grant them dauntless courage with humble earnest will.

14.

Saint James.

For him, O Lord, we praise Thee, who, slain by Herod's sword,
Drank of Thy cup of suffering, fulfilling thus Thy word.
Curb we all vain impatience to read Thy veiled decree
And count it joy to suffer, if so brought nearer Thee.

15.

Saint Bartholomew.

All praise for Thine Apostle, the faithful, pure, and true,
Whom underneath the fig-tree, Thine eye all-seeing knew.
Like him, may we be guileless, true Israelites indeed;
That Thine abiding Presence our longing souls may feed.

16.

Saint Matthew.

Praise, Lord, for him whose Gospel Thy human life declared,
Who, worldly gains forsaking, Thy path of suffering shared.
From all unrighteous mammon O give us hearts set free,
That we, whate'er our calling, may rise and follow Thee.

17.

Saint Luke.

For that beloved Physician, all praise, whose Gospel shows
The Healer of the nations, the Sharer of our woes.
Thy wine and oil, O Saviour, on bruised hearts deign to pour,
And with Thy Spirit's unction anoint us evermore.

18.

Saint Simon and Saint Jude.

Praise, Lord, for Thine Apostles, who sealed their faith to-day
One love, one zeal impelled them to tread the sacred way.
May we with zeal as earnest the faith of Christ maintain,
And, bound in love as brethren, at length Thy rest attain.

19.

GENERAL ENDING.

f Apostles, Prophets, Martyrs, and all the sacred throng,
Who wear the spotless raiment, who raise the ceaseless song;
For these, passed on before us, Saviour, we Thee adore,
And walking in their footsteps, would serve Thee more and more.

20.

ff Then praise we God the Father, and praise we God the Son,
And God the Holy Spirit, eternal Three in One;
Till all the ransomed number fall down before the throne,
And honour, power, and glory ascribe to God alone. Amen.

3.

Our old companions in distress
We haste again to see,
And eager long for our release,
And full felicity:
Even now by faith we join our hands
With those that went before,
And greet the blood-besprinkled bands
On the eternal shore.

4.

One family, we dwell in Him,
One Church, above, beneath;
Though now divided by the stream,
p The narrow stream of death.
cres. One army of the living God,
To His command we bow;

HIMMEL (8787 77).

FRIEDRICH HEINRICH HIMMEL.

"These are they which came out of great tribulation."

1.

Who are these like stars appearing,
These, before God's throne who stand?
Each a golden crown is wearing;
Who are all this glorious band?
cres. Hallelujah! hark! they sing—
f Praising loud their heavenly King.

2.

Who are these in dazzling brightness,
Clothed in God's own righteousness;
These, whose robes of purest whiteness
Shall their lustre still possess,
Still untouched by Time's rude hand;
Whence come all this glorious band?

3.

These are they who have contended
For their Saviour's honour long,
Wrestling on till life was ended,
Following not the sinful throng;
These, who well the fight sustained,
Triumph by the Lamb have gained.

4.

p These are they whose hearts were riven
Sore with woe and anguish tried;
cres. Who in prayer full oft have striven
With the God they glorified; dim. Now, their painful conflict o'er,
p God has bid them weep no more.

Tunes every tongue to sing ;
f By day, by night, the sacred courts
With glad Hosannas ring.

3.

Hunger and thirst are felt no more,
Nor suns with scorching ray ;
God is their Sun, Whose cheering beams
Diffuse eternal day.
The Lamb, which dwells amidst the throne,
Shall o'er them still preside ;
Feed them with nourishment divine,
And all their footsteps guide.

4.

'Mid pastures green He'll lead His flock
Where living streams appear ;
And God the Lord from every eye
Shall wipe off every tear.
cres. To Him Who sits upon the throne,
The God Whom we adore ;
And to the Lamb that once was slain,

THE CHURCH TRIUMPHANT:

Hymn 354.

S. MICHAEL (S.M.)

Daye's Psalter.

"If we suffer, we shall also reign with Him."

I.

O WHAT, if we are Christ's,
Is earthly shame or loss?
Bright shall the crown of glory be,
When we have borne the cross.

2.

p Keen was the trial once,
Bitter the cup of woe,
When martyred saints, baptized in blood,
Christ's sufferings shared below.

3.

f Bright is their glory now,
Boundless their joy above,
Where, on the bosom of their God,
dim. They rest in perfect love.

4.

p Lord! may that grace be ours,
Like them in faith to bear
All that of sorrow, grief, or pain,
May be our portion here!

5.

Enough, if Thou at last
The word of blessing give,
And let us rest beneath Thy feet,
Where saints and angels live.

6.

f All glory, Lord, to Thee,
Whom heaven and earth adore;
To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
One God for evermore. Amen.

Hymn 355.

S. IRENÆUS (7787 7787).

ARTHUR PATTON.

"They sing the song of Moses . . . and the song of the Lamb."

1.

HEAD of the Church triumphant!
We joyfully adore Thee;
Till Thou appear,
Thy members here
Shall sing like those in glory.
cres. We lift our hearts and voices
With blest anticipation,
And cry aloud,
And give to God
f The praise of our salvation.

2.

Thou dost conduct Thy people
Through torrents of temptation,
Nor will we fear,
While Thou art near,
The fire of tribulation;

The world, with sin and Satan,
In vain our march opposes;
By Thee we shall Break through them all, cres. And sing the song of Moses.

3.

By faith we see the glory
To which Thou shalt restore us;
The world despise
For that high prize
Which Thou hast set before us;
p And if Thou count us worthy,
We each, with dying Stephen, cres. Shall see Thee stand
At God's right hand,
f To take us up to heaven. Amen.

S. MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS.

Hymn 356.

FIRST TUNE.

VOCES ANGELICÆ (II, IO, II, IO, 9, II).

JOSEPH BARNBY.

"There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."

1.

HARK, hark, my soul! angelic songs are swelling
O'er earth's green fields and ocean's wave-beat shore:
How sweet the truth those blessed strains are telling
Of that new life when sin shall be no more.
Angels of Jesus, &c.

2.

Onward we go, for still we hear them singing,
Come, weary souls, for Jesus bids you come;
And through the dark, its echoes sweetly ringing,
The music of the Gospel leads us home.
Angels of Jesus, &c.

(368)

S. MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS.

3.
p Far, far away, like bells at evening pealing,
The voice of Jesus sounds o'er land and sea ;
And laden souls, by thousands meekly stealing,
Kind Shepherd, turn their weary steps to Thee.
Angels of Jesus, &c.

4.
p Rest comes at length ; though life be long and dreary, cres. The day must dawn, and darksome night be past ;
Faith's journey ends in welcome to the weary,
And heaven, the heart's true home, will come at last.
Angels of Jesus, &c.

5.
Angels, sing on, your faithful watches keeping,
Sing us sweet fragments of the songs above ;
cres. Till morning's joy shall end the night of weeping,
And life's long shadows break in cloudless love.
Angels of Jesus, &c. Amen.

"Come, for all things are now ready."

1.
My God, and is Thy table spread,
And does Thy cup with love o'erflow?
Thither be all Thy children led,
dim. And let them all its sweetness know.

2.
Hail, sacred feast, which Jesus makes,
Rich banquet of His flesh and blood;
Thrice happy he who here partakes
That sacred stream, that heavenly food!

3.
[Why are its bounties all in vain
Before unwilling hearts displayed?
Was not for you the Victim slain?
Are you forbid the children's bread?]

4.
O let Thy table honoured be,
And furnished well with joyful guests!
And may each soul salvation see,
That here its sacred pledges tastes.

5. [pared,
Let crowds approach with hearts pre-
With hearts inflamed let all attend;
Nor, when we leave our Father's board,

"Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world."

I.

LAMB of God, Whose dying love
Now Thy saints recall to mind,
Hear us, bless us from above ;
Let us all Thy mercy find.

2.

Let Thy blood, by faith applied,
Every sinner's pardon seal ;
All in Thee be justified,
Every soul Thy comfort feel.

3.

p By Thine agony of pain,
By Thy precious blood, we pray,
Cleanse our hearts from every stain ;
Take our load of guilt away.

4.

f Burst our bonds and set us free ;
Bid our fear and sorrow cease ;
dim. O remember Calvary !

Henceforth we would obey Thy call;
Our sins far from us may we cast,
And turn to Thee devoutly all;
cres. Then with Archangels we shall sing
f High praise to heaven's Eternal King.

2.

While at Thy table, Lord, we kneel,
And of Thy holy rite partake;
p Our pardon there vouchsafe to seal
For Jesus our Redeemer's sake:

News of sin forgiven;
cres. Life has lost its shadows,
Pure the light within;
Thou hast shed Thy radiance
On a world of sin.

CONFIRMATION.

5.
Onward, ever onward,
Journeying o'er the road
Worn by saints before us,
Journeying on to God ;
Leaving all behind us,
May we hasten on,
Backward never looking,
Till the prize is won.

6.
f Higher then and higher
Bear the ransomed soul,
(Earthly toils forgotten)
Saviour, to its goal ;
cres. Where in joys unthought of,
Saints with angels sing,
ff Never weary raising
Praises to their King. Amen.

Hymn 381.

WARRINGTON (L.M.)

RALPH HARRISON.

"Thy vows are upon me."

1.
f O HAPPY day that fixed my choice
On Thee, my Saviour and my God :
Well may this glowing heart rejoice,
And tell its raptures all abroad.

2.
O happy bond, that seals my vows
To Him Who merits all my love,
Let cheerful anthems fill His house,
While to that sacred shrine I move.

3.
p Now rest my long-divided heart,
Fixed on this blissful centre, rest :
O who with earth would grudge to part,
When called with angels to be blest ?

4.
f High heaven, that heard the solemn vow,
That vow renewed shall daily hear ;
Till in life's latest hour I bow,
dim. And bless in death a bond so dear. Amen.

Hymn 382.

S. CATHERINE (7676 7676).

Rev. REGINALD FRANCIS DALE, Mus.B.

"Lord, I will follow Thee whithersoever Thou goest."

1.

O Jesu, I have promised
To serve Thee to the end;
Be Thou for ever near me,
My Master and my Friend!
I shall not fear the battle
If Thou art by my side,
Nor wander from the pathway,
If Thou wilt be my Guide.

2.

p O let me feel Thee near me—
The world is ever near;
I see the sights that dazzle,
The tempting sounds I hear.
My foes are ever near me,
Around me and within;
But Jesu, draw Thou nearer,
And shield my soul from sin.

3.

p O let me hear Thee speaking
In accents clear and still,
Above the storm of passion,
The murmurs of self-will.

cres. O speak to re-assure me,
To hasten or control:
O speak, and make me listen,
Thou Guardian of my soul!

4.

O Jesu, Thou hast promised
To all who follow Thee,
That where Thou art in glory,
There shall Thy servant be;
p And, Jesu, I have promised
To serve Thee to the end;
cres. O give me grace to follow
My Master and my Friend!

5.

p O let me see Thy foot-marks,
And in them plant mine own;
My hope to follow duly
Is in Thy strength alone.
cres. O guide me, call me, draw me,
Uphold me to the end;
And then in heaven receive me,
f My Saviour and my Friend. Amen.

MATRIMONY:

Hymn 383.

S. ALPHEGE (7676).

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

"God blessed them."

1.

THE voice that breathed o'er Eden,
That earliest wedding-day,
The primal marriage blessing,
It hath not passed away:

2.

Still in the pure espousal
Of Christian man and maid,
The Holy Three are with us,
The threefold grace is said;

3.

For dower of blessed children,
For love and faith's sweet sake,
For high mysterious union,
Which nought on earth may break!

4.

Be present, awful Father!
To give away this bride,
As Eve thou gav'st to Adam
Out of his own pierced side!

5.

Be present, gracious Saviour!
To join their loving hands,
As Thou didst bind two natures
In Thine eternal bands:

6.

p Be present, Holiest Spirit!
To bless them as they kneel,
As Thou, for Christ the Bridegroom,
The heavenly Spouse dost seal.

7.

p O spread Thy pure wing o'er them!
Let no ill power find place,
When onward to Thine altar
The hallowed path they trace;

8.

cres. To cast their crowns before Thee
In perfect sacrifice,
Till to the home of gladness [Amen.

Daye's Psalter.

"Who forgiveth all thine iniquities ; Who healeth all thy diseases."

1.

p WHEN languor and disease invade
This trembling house of clay,
'Tis sweet to look beyond the cage,
And long to fly away.

2.

Sweet to look inward, and attend
The whispers of His love ;
Sweet to look upward to the place
Where Jesus pleads above.

3.

Sweet to look back, and see my name

VISITATION OF THE SICK.

Hymn 386.

S. BEDE (8686 86).

REV. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, Mus.D.

"As thy day, so shall thy strength be."

1.
FATHER, I know that all my life
Is portioned out for me;
And the changes that are sure to come
I do not fear to see;
But I ask Thee for a present mind,
Intent on pleasing Thee.

2.
I ask Thee for a thoughtful love,
Through constant watching wise,
To meet the glad with joyful smiles,
And wipe the weeping eyes;
And a heart at leisure from itself
To soothe and sympathise.

3.
I would not have the restless will
That hurries to and fro,
Seeking for some great thing to do,
Or secret thing to know;
I would be treated as a child,
And guided where I go.

4.
Wherever in the world I am,
In whatsoe'er estate,
I have a fellowship with hearts
To keep and cultivate;
And a work of lowly love to do
For the Lord on whom I wait.

5.
So I ask Thee for Thy daily strength
To none that ask denied,
And a mind to blend with outward life
While keeping at Thy side;
Content to fill a little space,
If Thou be glorified.

6.
And if some things I do not ask
In my cup of blessing be,
I would have my spirit filled the more
With grateful love to Thee;
More careful—not to serve Thee much—
But to please Thee perfectly.

7.
p There are briars besetting every path
That call for patient care,
There is a cross in every lot,
And an earnest need for prayer;
But a lowly heart that leans on Thee
Is happy anywhere.

8.
In a service which Thy love appoints,
There are no bonds for me;
For my inmost heart is taught the truth
That makes Thy children free;
And a life of self-renouncing love
Is a life of liberty. Amen.

VISITATION OF THE SICK.

"Make Thy way straight before my face."

I.
 THY way, not mine, O Lord,
 However dark it be :
 Lead me by Thine own hand,
 Choose out the path for me.
 Smooth let it be or rough,

"We are more than conquerors through Him that loved us."

1.
 GREAT Captain of salvation,
 We bless Thy glorious Name,
f Of death and hell the Victor,
 With all their power and shame:
p Weak, helpless, poor, and trembling,
 As in ourselves we stand,
f We triumph, more than conquerors,
 Through Thine Almighty hand.

2.
p [Our brother's fight is over,
 His earthly race is run;
cres. 'Twas by Thy grace and power,
 The prize of life he won;
pp He now is sweetly sleeping,
 His spirit rests with Thee, cres. And though Thy saints are weeping,
f Their song is "Victory!"]

3.
 Soon Thou wilt come in glory,
 With all Thy Church to shine,
 Our bodies raised in honour
 And beauty, Lord, like Thine:
cres. Then, then, we'll raise still louder
 The song which now we sing,
f "O grave, where is thy victory?
 O death, where is thy sting?"

4.
 O Son of God, we thank Thee,
 We bless Thy holy Name,
 Thy love once made Thee willing
 To bear our sin and shame;
 And now Thy love is waiting
 Thy Church, like Thee, to raise;
 First-born of many brethren,
f Thine, Thine, be all the praise! Amen.

Heiliger Herrs Gott! heiliger starker Gott.

EISLEBEN (669 5675).

Ancient German Melody.

"Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in Me."

I.

Most holy Lord and God,
Holy, Almighty God,
Holy and most merciful Saviour,
Thou eternal God;
Grant that we may never Lose the comforts from Thy death;
p Have mercy, O Lord.

2.

Most holy Lord and God,
Holy, Almighty God,
Holy and most merciful Saviour,
Thou eternal God;
Bless Thy congregation,
Through Thy sufferings, death, and blood;
p Have mercy, O Lord. Amen.

Hymn 406.

HOLYROOD (7878 77).

Sir ROBERT STEWART, Mus.D.

"He shall gather the lambs with His arm."

I.

p GENTLE Shepherd, Thou hast stilled
Now Thy little lamb's brief weeping;
Ah! how peaceful, pale, and mild,
In its narrow bed 'tis sleeping, dim. And no sigh of anguish sore
Heaves that little bosom more.

2.

In this world of care and pain,
; Lord, Thou would'st no longer leave it;
cres. To the sunny, heavenly plain
Thou dost now with joy receive it;
Clothed in robes of spotless white,
Now it dwells with Thee in light.

3.

p Ah! Lord Jesus, grant that we
Where it lives may soon be living,
And the lovely pastures see
That its heavenly food are giving; cres. Then the gain of death we prove,
Though Thou take what most we love. Amen.

THANKSGIVING AFTER SICKNESS.

Hymn 407.

S. JOSEPH (D.S.M.)

ETIENNE HENRI MÉHUL.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."

PSALM CIII.

1.

O BLESS the Lord, my soul,
His grace to thee proclaim,
And all that is within me join
To bless His holy Name.
O bless the Lord, my soul,
His mercies bear in mind,
Forget not all His benefits :
The Lord to thee is kind.

2.

He will not always chide ;
He will with patience wait ;
His wrath is ever slow to rise,
And ready to abate.

p He pardons all thy sins,
Prolongs thy feeble breath,
He healeth thine infirmities,
And ransoms thee from death.

3.

He clothes thee with His love,
Upholds thee with His truth,
And like the eagle He renews
The vigour of thy youth.
cres. Then bless His holy Name,
Whose grace hath made thee whole,
Whose loving-kindness crowns thy days ;
ff O bless the Lord, my soul ! Amen.

HEINRICH ISAAC.

"The Lord shall preserve thy going-out and thy coming-in."

I.
THE Lord be with me everywhere,
And shield me with paternal care
By His almighty arm;
No traveller needs to faint or fear,
If he believes the Lord is near,
Who can protect him from all harm.

2.
By sea and land, by night and day,
O Lord, in safety me convey,
f Though winds and thunders roar;
dim. Bring me, when every peril's past,
Safe to the destined place at last,
f There to extol Thy help and power. Amen.

"Thy way is in the sea, and Thy path in the great waters."

1.

O THOU Who didst prepare
The ocean's caverned cell,
And teach the gathering waters there
To meet and dwell:
Tossed in our fragile bark
Upon the treacherous sea, cres. Thy wondrous ways, O Lord, we mark,
And sing to Thee.

2.

Borne on the darkening wave,
Safe in Thy strength we go,
Nor dread the unfathomable grave
That yawns below:
For He is nigh Who trod
Amid the foaming spray,
Whose billows owned the Saviour-God,
p And died away.

3.

How terrible art Thou,
In all Thy wonders shown;
Though veiled is Thine eternal brow,
Thy steps unknown!
Invisible to sight—
But oh! to faith how near—
Beneath the gloomiest cloud of night
Thou shinest here.

4.

f Snatched from a darker deep
And waves of wilder foam, dim. Thou, Lord, our trusting souls wilt keep,
And waft them home:
cres. Home where no storm can sound,
Nor angry waters roar,
Nor troublous billows heave around p That peaceful shore. Amen.

Hymn 412.

GENNESARETH (12,12,12,12).

ARTHUR SEYMOUR SULLIVAN, Mus.D.

"He arose and rebuked the wind."

I.

f WHEN through the torn sail the wild tempest is streaming,
When o'er the dark wave the red lightning is gleaming,
Nor hope lends a ray the poor seaman to cherish, dim. We fly to our Maker—"Help, Lord, or we perish."

2.

O Jesus, once tossed on the breast of the billow,

Now, seated in glory, the mariner cherish dim. Who cries in his danger—"Help, Lord, or we perish."

3.

f And oh, when the whirlwind of passion is raging,
When sin in our hearts its wild warfare is waging,
Arise in Thy strength, Thy redeemed to cherish, dim. Rebuke the destroyer—"Help, Lord, or we perish." Amen.

 For those whose prayers are made
 To Him Who in a manger
 A helpless Babe was laid;
 Who, born to tribulation,
 And every human ill,
f Yet, Lord of His creation, dim. The wildest waves can still.

2.

f If fierce the tempest round us,
 And white the angry deep,
 Yet He, when lost Who found us,
p Can still His treasure keep;
f Nor wind nor wave can harm us,
 Though hope itself grow dim,
 No tempest need alarm us,
p If peace we seek in Him.

3.

Though life itself be waning,
 And waves shall o'er us sweep,
 The wild wind's sad complaining p Shall lull us still to sleep;
 For as a gentle slumber
 Even death itself shall prove cres. To those whom Christ doth number
 As worthy of His love.

4.

Then, holy Jesu, hear us,
 And keep us free from harm,
 Have pity, Lord, and bear us
 On Thy supporting arm.
 Should storm or calm befall us,
 Whate'er our lot may be,
cres. When all is o'er—then call us

PURLBIGH (886 886).

ARTHUR HENRY BROWN.

"The priest's lips should keep knowledge; he is the messenger of the Lord of Hosts."

I.

LORD of the Church, we humbly pray
For those who guide us in Thy way,
And speak Thy holy word;
cres. With love divine their hearts inspire,
And touch their lips with hallowed fire,
And needful grace afford.

2.

Help them to preach the truth of God,

Nor let the Spirit cease
On all the Church His gifts to shower
To them a messenger of power,
p To us of life and peace.

3.

So may they live to Thee alone;
cres. Then hear the welcome word—"Well done,"
And take their crown above:
cres. Enter into their Master's joy,
And all eternity employ
f In praise and bliss and love. Amen.

Hymn 416.

STIRLING (L.M.)

Anonymous.

"Let Thy priests be clothed with righteousness."

1.

POUR out Thy Spirit from on high,
Lord, Thine ordained servants bless;
Graces and gifts to each supply,
And clothe Thy priests with righteousness.

2.

Within Thy temple when they stand,
To teach the truth as taught by Thee,
Saviour, like stars in Thy right hand,
Let all Thy Church's pastors be.

3.

Wisdom and zeal and faith impart,
Firmness and meekness, from above,
To bear Thy people on their heart,
And love the souls whom Thou dost love;

4.

To love and pray and never faint,
By day and night their guard to keep,
To warn the sinner, cheer the saint,
To feed Thy lambs and tend Thy sheep.

5.

So, when their work is finished here,
They may in hope their charge resign;
So, when their Master shall appear,
f They may with crowns of glory shine. Amen.

2.

Friends and home and all forsaking,
 Lord, they go at Thy command ;
 As their stay Thy promise taking,
 While they traverse sea and land :
 O be with them !
 Lead them safely by the hand.

3.

p When they reach the land of strangers,
 And the prospect dark appears,
 Nothing seen but toils and dangers,
 Nothing felt but doubts and fears,
 Be Thou with them ;
 Hear their sighs, and count their tears.

4.

p When they think of home, now dearer
 Than it ever seemed before, cres. Bring the promised glory nearer ;
 Let them see that peaceful shore,
 Where Thy people
pp Rest from toil, and weep no more :

5.

cres. There to reap in joy, for ever,
 Fruit that grows from seed here sown ;
 There to be with Him Who never Ceases to preserve His own,
 And with triumph
f Sing a Saviour's grace alone ! Amen.

"Behold I lay in Zion a chief Corner-stone."

I.

CHRIST is our Corner-stone,
On Him alone we build;
With His true saints alone
The courts of heaven are filled :
cres. On His great love
Our hopes we place
Of present grace
And joys above.

2.

f Oh ! then with hymns of praise
These hallowed courts shall ring;
Our voices we will raise,
The Three in One to sing;
cres. And thus proclaim
In joyful song,
Both loud and long,
ff That glorious Name.

3.

p Here, gracious God, do Thou
For evermore draw nigh;
Accept each faithful vow,
And mark each suppliant sigh;
cres. In copious shower,
On all who pray
Each holy day
Thy blessing pour.

4.

Here may we gain from heaven
The grace which we implore;
And may that grace, once given
Be with us evermore, cres. Until that day
When all the blest
To endless rest
Are called away ! Amen.

Pours perpetual melody,
f God the One in Three adoring
In glad hymns eternally.

3.

To this temple where we call Thee,
Come, O Lord of hosts, to-day:
With Thy wonted loving-kindness
Hear Thy servants as they pray,
And Thy fullest benediction
Shed within its walls away.

4.

p Here vouchsafe to all Thy servants
What they ask of Thee to gain,
What they gain from Thee for ever
With the blessed to retain, cres. And hereafter in Thy glory
Evermore with Thee to reign.

5.

f Praise and honour to the Father,
Praise and honour to the Son,
Praise and honour to the Spirit,
Ever Three and ever One,
ff One in might, and One in glory,
While eternal ages run. Amen.

"The harvest is come."

1.

COME, ye thankful people, come,
 Raise the song of Harvest-home!
 All is safely gathered in,
 Ere the winter storms begin:
 God our Maker doth provide
 For our wants to be supplied—cres. Come to God's own temple, come, f Raise the song of Harvest-home!

2.

All the world is God's own field;
 Fruit unto His praise to yield;
 Wheat and tares together sown,
 Unto joy or sorrow grown:
 First the blade, and then the ear,
 Then the full corn shall appear:
 Lord of Harvest, grant that we Wholesome grain and pure may be.

3.

For the Lord our God shall come,
 And shall take His harvest home:
 From His field shall in that day
 All offences purge away:
p Give His angels charge at last
 In the fire the tares to cast;
cres. But the fruitful ears to store
 In His garner evermore.

4.

cres. Even so, Lord, quickly come,
 To Thy final Harvest-home;
 Gather Thou Thy people in,
 Free from sorrow, free from sin;
p There for ever purified
 In Thy presence to abide:— cres. Come, with all Thine angels, come, f Raise the glorious Harvest-home!

Ohne Rast und unverweilt.

JUSTIN HEINRICH KNECHT.

"Who giveth food to all flesh, for His mercy endureth for ever."

PSALM CXXXVI.

PRAISE, O praise our God and King,
Hymns of adoration sing;
cres. For His mercies still endure,
f Ever faithful, ever sure.

2.

Praise Him that He made the sun
Day by day his course to run;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

3.

p And the silver moon by night,
Shining with her gentle light;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

4.

Praise Him that He gave the rain
To mature the swelling grain;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

5.

And hath bid the fruitful field
Crops of precious increase yield;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

6.

f Praise Him for our harvest-store;
He hath filled the garner-floor;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

7.

p And for richer food than this,
Pledge of everlasting bliss;
cres. For His mercies, &c.

8.

f Glory to our bounteous King!
Glory let creation sing!
cres. Glory to the Father, Son,
f And blest Spirit, Three in One! Amen.

Hymn 431.

COLVILLE (8888 88).

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

"They joy before Thee according to the joy in harvest."

1.

LORD of the harvest, Thee we hail;
Thine ancient promise doth not fail;
The varying seasons haste their round,
With goodness all our years are crowned;
cres. Our thanks we pay,
This holy day;
f O let our hearts in tune be found.

2.

If spring doth wake the song of mirth;
If summer warms the fruitful earth;
When winter sweeps the naked plain,
Or autumn yields its ripened grain, cres. Still do we sing
To Thee our King;
f Through all their changes Thou dost reign.

3.

But chiefly, when Thy liberal hand
Scatters new plenty o'er the land,
When sounds of music fill the air,
As homeward all their treasures bear;
cres. We too will raise
Our hymn of praise,
f For we Thy common bounties share.

4.

Lord of the harvest, all is Thine;
The rains that fall, the suns that shine,
The seed once hidden in the ground,
The skill that makes our fruits abound;
cres. New every year
Thy gifts appear,
f New praises from our lips shall sound.
Amen.

"Although the fields shall yield no meat . . . yet I will rejoice in the Lord."

1.

WHAT our Father does is well :
 Blessed truth His children tell !
 Though He send, for plenty, want,
 Though the harvest-store be scant,
 Yet we rest upon His love,
 Seeking better things above.

2.

What our Father does is well :
 Shall the wilful heart rebel ?
 If a blessing He withhold
 In the field, or in the fold,
 Is it not Himself to be
 All our store eternally ?

3.

p What our Father does is well :
 Though He sadden hill and dell, cres. Upward yet our praises rise
 For the strength His Word supplies ;
f He has called us sons of God,
 Can we murmur at His rod ?

4.

p What our Father does is well :
 May the thought within us dwell ;
 Though nor milk nor honey flow
 In our barren Canaan now,
 God can save us in our need,
 God can bless us, God can feed.

TIMES OF TROUBLE.

"O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive."

1.
DREAD Jehovah! God of nations!
From Thy temple in the skies
Hear Thy people's supplications,
Now for their deliverance rise.

2.
p Lo! with deep contrition turning,
Humbly at Thy feet we bend;
Hear us, fasting, praying, mourning,
Hear us, spare us, and defend.

cres. 3. Though our sins, our hearts confounding Long and loud for vengeance call,

"Persecuted, but not forsaken."

1.
O Thou that dwellest in the heavens high,
Above yon stars, and within yon sky,
Where the dazzling fields never needed light
Of the sun by day, or the moon by night.

2.
Though shining millions around Thee stand,
For the sake of Him at Thy right hand,
O think on those that have cost Him dear,
Now lingering in sadness and darkness here.

3.
p Our night is dreary, and dim our day,
And if Thou turnest Thy face away,
We are sinful, feeble, and helpless dust,
With none to look to, and none to trust.

4.
f The powers of darkness are all abroad,
They know no Saviour, they fear no God:
p And we are trembling in dumb dismay,
O turn not Thou Thy face away.

And humbly, with united cry, to Thee for mercy call;
The guilt is ours, but grace is Thine, O turn us not away,
But hear us from Thy lofty throne, and help us when we pray.

2.

Our fathers' sins were manifold, and ours no less we own,
Yet wondrously from age to age Thy goodness hath been shown;
f When dangers, like a stormy sea, beset our country round,
To Thee we looked, to Thee we cried, and help in Thee was found.

3.

p With one consent we meekly bow beneath Thy chastening hand,
And, pouring forth confession meet, mourn with our mourning land;
With pitying eye behold our need, as thus we lift our prayer, cres. Correct us with Thy judgments, Lord, (p) then let Thy mercy spare. Amen.

TIMES OF TROUBLE.

"It is I, be not afraid."

1.
Why those fears? behold 'tis Jesus
Holds the helm, and guides the ship:
Spread the sails, and catch the breezes
Sent to waft us through the deep,
To the regions
Where the mourners cease to weep.

2.
Though the shore we hope to land on
Only by report is known,
Yet we freely all abandon,
Led by that report alone;
And with Jesus
Through the trackless deep move on;

5.
O what pleasures there await us,
There the tempesta cease to roar:
There it is that those who hate us
Can molest our peace no more:
Trouble ceases
On that tranquil, happy shore! Amen.

3.
f Led by that, we brave the ocean;
Led by that, the storm defy;
p Calm amidst tumultuous motion,
Knowing that our Lord is nigh:
cres. Waves obey him,
And the storms before Him fly.

4.
Rendered safe by His protection,
We shall pass the watery waste;

p Out of the deep I cry to Thee,
My God, with heart's contrition:
Bow down Thine ear in grace to me,
And hear Thou my petition,
For if in judgment Thou wilt try
Man's sin and great iniquity,
Ah! who can stand before Thee?

2.

To gain remission of our sin,
No work of ours availeth;
God's favour we may strive to win,
But all our labour faileth:
We're 'midst our fairest actions lost,
And none 'fore Him of aught can boast,
We live alone through mercy.

3.

cres. Therefore my hope is in His grace
And not in my own merit,
On Him my confidence I place,
Instructed by His Spirit;
His precious Word hath promised me,
He will my joy and comfort be,

4.

Though sin with us doth much abound,
Yet grace still more aboundeth,
Sufficient help in Christ is found,
Where sin most deeply woundeth:

HYMNS FOR CHILDREN.

"The eyes of all wait upon Thee, O Lord, and Thou givest them their meat in due season."

1.
We plough the fields, and scatter
The good seed on the land,
But it is fed and watered
By God's almighty hand;
He sends the snow in winter,
The warmth to swell the grain,
The breezes, and the sunshine,
And soft refreshing rain :
cres. All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above,
f Then thank the Lord, O thank the
For all His love. [Lord,

2.
He only is the Maker
Of all things near and far ;
He paints the wayside flower,
He lights the evening star ;
The winds and waves obey Him,
By Him the birds are fed !

Much more, to us His children
He gives our daily bread.
cres. All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above,
f Then thank the Lord, O thank the
For all His love. [Lord,

3.
We thank Thee, then, O Father,
For all things bright and good,
The seed-time and the harvest,
Our life, our health, our food :
Accept the gifts we offer,
For all Thy love imparts,
And, what Thou most desirest,
Our humble, thankful hearts.
cres. All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above,
f Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord,
For all His love. Amen.

Hymn 456.

NORTHAMPTON (C.M.)

WILLIAM CROFT, MUS.D.

"Thy word have I hid in my heart."

PSALM CXIX.

1.
How shall the young preserve their ways
From all pollution free ?
By making still their course of life
With Thy commands agree.

2.
With hearty zeal for Thee I seek,
To Thee for succour pray ;
O suffer not my careless steps
From Thy right paths to stray !

3.
p Safe in my heart, and closely hid.
Thy word, my treasure, lies ;
To succour me with timely aid,
When sinful thoughts arise.

4.
cres. Secured by that, my grateful soul,
Shall ever bless Thy Name :
O teach me then by Thy just laws
My future life to frame ! Amen.

Hymn 457.

TRANBY (8787).

REV. SHADWELL MORLEY BARKWORTH, D.D.

" Little children, your sins are forgiven you for His Name's sake."

1.
EVER would I fain be reading
In the ancient holy Book,
Of my Saviour's gentle pleading,
Truth in every word and look.

2.
How, when children came, He blessed them
Suffered no man to reprove,
Took them in His arms, and pressed them
To His heart with words of love.

3.
♩ How to all the sick and tearful
Help was ever gladly shown;
How He sought the poor and fearful,
Called them brothers and His own.

4.
Still I read the ancient story,
And my joy is ever new,
How for us He left His glory,
How He still is kind and true;

5.
♩ How the flock He gently leadeth,
Whom His Father gave Him here;
How His arms He widely spreadeth,
To His heart to draw us near.

6.
♩ Let me kneel, my Lord, before Thee,
Let my heart in tears o'erflow, cres. Melted by Thy love, adore Thee,
Blest in Thee 'mid joy or woe! Amen.

HYMNS FOR CHILDREN.

"Jesus called a little child unto Him."

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. GENTLE Jesus, meek and mild, Look upon a little child ; Pity my simplicity, Suffer me to come to Thee. ♩ 2. Lamb of God, I look to Thee : Thou shalt my example be ; Thou art gentle, meek, and mild, Thou wast once a little child. 3. Fain would I be as Thou art ; Give me Thy obedient heart ; Thou art pitiful and kind, Let me have Thy loving mind. 4. Meek and lowly may I be— Thou art all humility ; Let me to my betters bow, Subject to Thy parents Thou. | 5. Let me, above all, fulfil God my heavenly Father's will, Never His good Spirit grieve, Only to His glory live. 6. Thou didst live to God alone, Thou didst never seek Thine own, Thou Thyself didst never please, God was all Thy happiness. ♩ 7. Loving Jesus, gentle Lamb, In Thy gracious hands I am ; Make me, Saviour, what Thou art, Live Thyself within my heart. 8. I shall then show forth Thy praise, Serve Thee all my happy days ; Then the world shall always see Christ, the Holy Child, in me. Amen. |

| 1. I THINK when I read that sweet story of old, When Jesus was here among men, How He called little children as lambs to His fold ; I should like to have been with them then. 2. I wish that His hands had been placed on my head, [me, That His arm had been thrown around And that I might have seen His kind look when He said, ♩ "Let the little ones come unto Me." | 3. Yet still to His footstool in prayer I may go And ask for a share in His love, And if I now earnestly seek Him below, I shall see Him and hear Him above. 4. In that beautiful place He is gone to prepare For all who are washed and forgiven ; cres. And many dear children are gathering there, [Amen. For of such is the kingdom of heaven. |

Hymn 460.

LORETTO (8676 7676).

HENRI FREDERICK HEMY.

"Of such is the kingdom of God."

1.

THERE'S a Friend for little children,
Above the bright blue sky,
A Friend that never changes,
Whose love will never die:
Unlike our friends by nature,
Who change with changing years,
This Friend is always worthy
The precious Name He bears.

2.

There's a rest for little children,
Above the bright blue sky,
Who love the blessed Saviour,
And to His Father cry:
p A rest from every trouble,
From sin and danger free, cres. There every little pilgrim
Shall rest eternally.

3.

There's a home for little children,
Above the bright blue sky,
Where Jesus reigns in glory,
A home of peace and joy;

No home on earth is like it,
Nor can with it compare,
For every one is happy,
Nor can be happier there.

4.

cres. There's a crown for little children,
Above the bright blue sky,
And all who look to Jesus
Shall wear it by-and-by;
A crown of brightest glory,
Which He shall sure bestow
On all who love the Saviour
And walk with Him below.

5.

f There's a song for little children,
Above the bright blue sky,
And a harp of sweetest music
For their hymn of victory;
And all above is pleasure,
And found in Christ alone,
O come, dear little children,
That all may be your own. Amen.

Hymn 461.

Bonn (L.M.)

LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN.

"Thou shalt call me, My Father."

I.

GREAT God! and wilt Thou condescend
To be my Father and my Friend,
I a poor child and Thou so high,
The Lord of earth and air and sky?

2.

Art Thou my Father?—Canst Thou bear
To hear my poor imperfect prayer?
Or wilt Thou listen to the praise
That such a little one can raise?

3.

Art Thou my Father?—Let me be
A meek obedient child to Thee;
And try in word and deed and thought,
To serve and please Thee as I ought.

4.

Art Thou my Father?—I'll depend Upon the care of such a friend;
And only wish to do and be
Whatever seemeth good to Thee.

5.

cres. Art Thou my Father?—Then at last,
When all my days on earth are past,
Send down and take me in Thy love,
To be Thy better child above. Amen.

(467)

Hymn 462.

IRBY (8787 77).

HENRY JOHN GAUNTLETT, Mus.D.

"Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man."

1.

ONCE in royal David's city
Stood a lowly cattle shed,
Where a mother laid her Baby
In a manger for His bed ;
Mary was that mother mild,
Jesus Christ her little Child.

2.

He came down to earth from heaven
Who is God and Lord of all,
And His shelter was a stable,
And His cradle was a stall ;
p With the poor and mean and lowly
Lived on earth our Saviour holy.

3.

And through all His wondrous childhood,
He would honour and obey,
Love and watch the lowly mother
In whose gentle arms He lay ;
Christian children all must be Mild, obedient, good as He.

4.

For He is our childhood's Pattern,
Day by day, like us, He grew,
He was little, weak, and helpless,
Tears and smiles like us He knew ;
p And He feeleth for our sadness, cres. And He shareth in our gladness.

5.

And our eyes at last shall see Him,
Through His own redeeming love,
For that Child so dear and gentle
Is our Lord in heaven above ;
And He leads His children on
To the place where He is gone.

6.

Not in that poor lowly stable,
With the oxen standing by,
We shall see Him ; but in heaven,
Set at God's right hand on high ;
cres. When like stars His children crowned
All in white shall wait around. Amen.

Hymn 463.

MOUNT CALVARY (C.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

Sir ROBERT STEWART, Mus.D.

"They crucified Him."

1.
♩ THERE is a green hill far away,
Without a city wall,
Where the dear Lord was crucified,
Who died to save us all.

2.
♩ We may not know, we cannot tell
What pains He had to bear,
But we believe it was for us
He hung and suffered there.

3.
cres. He died that we might be forgiven,
He died to make us good,
That we might go at last to heaven,
Saved by His precious blood.

4.
There was no other good enough
To pay the price of sin,
He only could unlock the gate
Of heaven, and let us in.

5.
cres. Oh! dearly, dearly has He loved,
And we must love Him too,
And trust in His redeeming blood,
And try His works to do. Amen.

Hymn 463.

S. CYRIL (C.M.)

SECOND TUNE.

ARTHUR PATTON.

HYMNS FOR CHILDREN.

Hymn 464.

LYRA (L.M.)

FIRST TUNE.

ARTHUR PATTON:

"Lord, what wouldst Thou have me to do?"

1.
We are but little children weak,
Nor born in any high estate;
What can we do for Jesus' sake,
Who is so high and good and great?

2.
[We know the Holy Innocents
Laid down for Him their infant life,
And martyrs brave and patient saints
Have stood for Him in fire and strife.

3.
We bear the cross they bore of old,
Our lips have learned like vows to make;
We need not die; we cannot fight;
What may we do for Jesus' sake?]

4.
Oh! day by day, each Christian child
Has much to do, without, within;
A death to die for Jesus' sake,
A weary war to wage with sin.

5.
When deep within our swelling hearts
The thoughts of pride and anger rise,
When bitter words are on our tongues,
And tears of passion in our eyes;

6.
Then we may stay the angry blow,
Then we may check the hasty word,
Give gentle answers back again,
And fight a battle for our Lord.

7.
p With smiles of peace and looks of love,
Light in our dwellings we may make,
cres. Bid kind good humour brighten there
And still do all for Jesus' sake.

8.
There's not a child so small and weak
But has his little cross to take,
His little work of love and praise cres. That he may do for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Hymn 464.

S. DENYS (L.M.)

SECOND TUNE.

Rev. FREDERICK WILLIAM HOGAN.

Hymn 465.

WINCHESTER (C.M.)

Este's Psalter.

"He took them up in His arms."

1.

WHEN Jesus left his Father's throne,
He chose a humble birth ;
Like us, unhonoured and unknown,
He came to dwell on earth.

2.

Like Him may we be found below
In wisdom's paths of peace ;
Like Him in grace and knowledge grow,
As years and strength increase.

3.

p Sweet were His words and kind His look,
When mothers round Him pressed :
Their infants in His arms He took,
And on His bosom blessed.

4.

p Safe from the world's alluring charms,
Beneath His watchful eye,
Thus in the circle of His arms
May we for ever lie.

5.

When Jesus into Salem rode,
The children sang around ;
For joy they plucked the palms, and strowed
Their garments on the ground.

6.

f Hosanna, our glad voices raise,
Hosanna to our King !
Should we forget our Saviour's praise,
The stones themselves would sing. Amen.

Hymn 466.

ARCADELT (7676 7676).

JACQUES ARCADELT.

"Hosanna to the Son of David."

1.

WHEN, His salvation bringing,
To Zion Jesus came,
The children all stood singing
"Hosanna" to His Name;
Nor did their zeal offend Him,
But as He rode along,
He let them still attend Him,
And smiled to hear their song.

2.

p And since the Lord retaineth
His love for children still,
Though now as King He reigneth
On Zion's heavenly hill;

cres. We'll flock around His banner
Who sits upon the throne,
f And cry aloud, "Hosanna
To David's royal Son!"

3.

For should we fail proclaiming
Our great Redeemer's praise,
The stones our silence shaming,
Would their Hosannas raise.
But shall we only render
The tribute of our words?
No:—while our hearts are tender,
They, too, shall be the Lord's. Amen.

Hymn 467.

CHILDHOOD (C.M.)

Rev. CHARLES JOHN DICKINSON.

"I am the good Shepherd."

I.

SEE, the good Shepherd, Jesus, stands,
And calls His sheep by name;
Gathers the feeble in His arms,
And feeds each tender lamb.

2.

He leads them to the gentle stream
Where living water flows;
And guides them to the verdant fields
Where sweetest herbage grows.

3.

When, wandering from the peaceful fold,
We leave the narrow way,
Our faithful Shepherd still is near,
To seek us when astray.

4.

p The weakest lambs amidst the flock
His tender mercies share,
And folded in the Saviour's arms
Are free from every snare.

5.

cres. Thus may we safely onward go,
Beneath our Shepherd's care,
And keep the gate of heaven in view
f Till we shall enter there. Amen.

Hymn 468.*

ARCHANGEL (8787 47).

Sir JOHN ANDREW STEVENSON, Mus.D.

"He shall feed His flock like a shepherd."

I.

SAVIOUR, like a shepherd, lead us,
Only safe beneath Thy care;
In Thy pleasant pastures feed us,
For our use Thy folds prepare;
Blessed Jesus!
Thou hast bought us, Thine we are.

2.

We are Thine, do Thou befriend us,
Be the Guardian of our way;
Keep Thy flock, from sin defend us,
Seek us when we go astray;
Blessed Jesus!
Hear Thy children when they pray.

3.

p Thou hast promised to receive us,
Poor and sinful though we be;
Thou hast mercy to relieve us,
Grace to cleanse and power to free;
Blessed Jesus!
Let us early turn to Thee!

4.

Early let us seek Thy favour,
Early let us do Thy will;
Holy Lord, our only Saviour,
With Thy grace our bosoms fill;
Blessed Jesus! [Amen.]
Thou hast loved us, love us still.

Hymn 469.

S. GÖDRIC (6666 88).

Rev. JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, Mus.D.

"Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings Thou has perfected praise."

1.

In heaven's bright abode,
The angel-host on high
Sing praises to their God.
f Hallelujah!
They love to sing
To God their King,
f Hallelujah!

2.

But God from infant tongues
On earth receiveth praise,
We then our cheerful songs
In sweet accord will raise.
f Hallelujah!
We too will sing
To God our King,
f Hallelujah!

3.

O blessed Lord! Thy truth
To us Thy babes impart,
And teach us in our youth
To know Thee as Thou art.
f Hallelujah!
Then shall we sing
To God our King,
f Hallelujah!

4.

f O may Thy holy Word
Spread all the world around,
And all with one accord
Uplift the joyful sound,
cres. Hallelujah!
All then shall sing
To God their King,
ff Hallelujah! Amen.

Hymn 470.

HAPPY LAND (6464 6764).

Anonymous.

"Come with us, and we will do thee good."

I.

THERE is a happy land,
Far, far away,
Where saints in glory stand,
Bright, bright as day.
O how they sweetly sing,
Worthy is our Saviour King,
Loud let His praises ring,
f Praise, praise for aye.

2.

Come to this happy land,
Come, come away;
Why will ye doubting stand?
Why still delay?
O we shall happy be,
When, from sin and sorrow free,
Lord, we shall live with Thee,
f Blest, blest for aye.

3.

Bright in that happy land
Beams every eye;
Kept by a Father's hand,
Love cannot die.
cres. On then to glory run,
Be a crown and kingdom won,
And bright above the sun,
ff Reign, reign for aye. Amen.

Hymn 471.

REJOICING (776 6667).

Anonymous.

"We are journeying unto the place of which the Lord said, I will give it you."

I.
p HERE we suffer grief and pain,
 Here we meet to part again;
cres. In heaven we part no more.
f O that will be joyful,
 Joyful, joyful, joyful,
 O that will be joyful,
 When we meet to part no more.

2.
 Little children will be there,
 Who have sought the Lord by prayer
 From every Sunday* School.
f O that will be joyful, &c.

3.
 Teachers, too, shall meet above,
 And our pastors, whom we love,
 Shall meet to part no more.
f O that will be joyful, &c.

4.
 All who love the Lord below,
 When they die to heaven will go,
 And sing with saints above.
f O that will be joyful, &c.

5.
 O how happy we shall be,
 For our Saviour we shall see,
 Exalted on His throne.
f O that will be joyful, &c.

6.
f There we all shall sing with joy,
 And eternity employ.
 In praising Christ the Lord.
f O that will be joyful,
 Joyful, joyful, joyful,
 O that will be joyful, [Amen]
 When we meet to part no more.

Hymn 472.

BOSTON (8787 8,10,9,7).

REV. ROBERT LOWRY, D.D.

♩ = 100.

A-men.

"He shewed me a pure river of water of life."

1.

SHALL we gather at the river,
Where bright angel-feet have trod,
With its crystal tide for ever
Flowing by the throne of God?

Yes, we'll gather at the river,
The beautiful, the beautiful river—
Gather with the saints at the river,
f That flows by the throne of God.

2.

On the margin of the river
Dashing up its silver spray,
We will walk and worship ever,
All the happy golden day.
Yes, we'll gather, &c.

3.

Ere we reach the shining river,
Lay we every burden down,
Grace our spirits will deliver
And provide a robe and crown.
Yes, we'll gather, &c.

4.

At the smiling of the river,
Mirror of the Saviour's face,
Saints whom death will never sever,
Raise their songs of saving grace.
Yes, we'll gather, &c.

5.

Soon we'll reach the silver river,
Soon our pilgrimage will cease, cres. Then our happy hearts shall ever
Sing the joyful Song of Peace.
Yes, we'll gather, &c. Amen.

Hymn 473.

S. CLEMENT (8686 8).

CHRISTOPHER ROBERT CUFF.

"They are without fault before the throne of God."

I.

AROUND the throne of God in heaven,
Thousands of children stand,
Children, whose sins are all forgiven,
A holy, happy band;
f Singing, glory, glory, glory!

2.

What brought them to that world above,
That heaven so bright and fair,
Where all is peace and joy and love—
How came those children there?
f Singing, glory, glory, glory!

3.

p Because the Saviour shed His blood
To wash away their sin;
Bathed in that pure and precious flood
Behold them white and clean,
f Singing, glory, glory, glory!

4.

On earth they sought their Saviour's grace,
On earth they loved His Name;
So now they see His blessed face,
And stand before the Lamb;
f Singing, glory, glory, glory! Amen.

Hymn 474.

S. BONIFACE (7777).

Ohne Rast und unverweilt.

JUSTIN HEINRICH KNECHT.

"Other sheep I have: . . . them also I must bring."

1.

God of love! before Thee now
Help us all in love to bow;
p As the dews on Hermon fall,
Let Thy blessing rest on all.

2.

p Let it soften every breast,
Hush ungentle thoughts to rest,
Till we feel ourselves to be
Children of one family.

3.

Children who can look above,
For a heavenly Father's love,
Who shall meet, life's journey past,
In that Father's house at last.

4.

But while thankfully we stand
Round Thy footstool, hand in hand,
Yet one humble earnest plea,
Father, we would bring to Thee.

5.

Far across the ocean wave,
Brethren, sister too, we have;
But they have not heard of Thee;
Wilt Thou not their Father be?

6.

Let them hear the Shepherd's voice,
And beneath His care rejoice;
cres. And together let them come
To the fold, while yet there's room.

VIII.
Old 113th (Hymn 197).
To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
The God Whom heaven's triumphant host
And suffering saints on earth adore,
Be glory; as in ages past,
As now it is, and so shall last,
When time itself shall be no more.

IX. 7777.
Sing we to our God above,
Praise eternal as His love;
Praise Him, all ye heavenly host,
Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Amen.

Praise the Spirit freely given;
Praise the blessed Three in One.
Hallelujah!
Long as ceaseless ages run. Amen.

XIV. 878787
Now to Him Who loved us, gave us
Every pledge that love could give,
Freely shed His blood to save us,
Gave His life that we might live,
Be the kingdom and dominion
And the glory evermore. Amen.

XV.
149th Ps. (Hymn 247).
